Bits For Breakfast

It was like Sunday—
The quietest Saturday Salem has had for a long time.

The weather was kind to the fruit growers, cool and just right.

Salem people who were at Silver Creek Falls yesterday complained at the condition of the roads. It is suggested by one of them that it would pay Marlon county to pave the road clear up to the falls.

Salem's parks had numerous picnic parties from other cities and towns yesterday. Salem's people, many of them, went to other towns and to country places for their picnic parties. A fair exchange is no robbery.

If there are any fields of flax that have not been contracted for, and the state flax plant can arrange for the finances, it will no doubt be in position to take the surplus flax. But it is rather too early yet to say anything definite on this head.

Some one suggests that the time may come when we will see Bryan running for president on the fundamentalist ticket. Making a monkey out of the donkey? What?

They call it devilism down in Tennessee.

Five bank bandits were shot in western Washington towns within a few weeks. Whereat it is suggested that the police forces over that way are overlooking some good material in the bank clerks and officials.

Who is the richest man in the world. Several authorities are declaring that, bitter though the pill must be, Wall street is obliged to declare Henry Ford the world's first billionaire. Wall street watches Henry like a hawk and when the Ford Motor Co. filed its balance sheet for 1924 with the Massachusetts commissioner of corporations, as required by law, Wall street sharpened their pencils and figured up the total value of the company to be $843,000,000. This is on the basis of shares being worth $5,000, which is said to be the extreme minimum estimate. But the making of cars is only one of Ford's money making interests. He manufactures tractors and airplanes, and operates boat lines, railroads, lumber camps and coal mines, all of which add to the total value of his property and brings it above $1,000,000,000. A comparison of assets and liabilities for 1923 and 1924 indicates that the surplus of the Ford Motor Co. was increased by $100,435,416 during 1924, and the Wall street estimators put this down as the net profit for the year. The company made 2,100,000 cars and trucks last year, which would mean an average profit of $47 on each machine. Profits on the 172,645 shares of stocks may be estimated in the same way. At a par value of $7.50 profits would be $582 per share, or 582 per cent. No, you cannot buy any of this stock at any figure. It isn't for sale. Last year was Ford's best year. He sold cars at the rate of 250 an hour, 24 hours a day, for the 300 working days. He paid his employees $253,001,528 in salaries during the year. And to think that the Ford company was incorporated only 22 years ago with $28,000 in its treasury. The story of its growth is the great romance of modern industrial history.

ONE HOUSE A DAY BUILT IN CITY OF SALEM, SAID

TOTAL BUILDING PERMITS WILL BE OVER $2,000,000

Vast Growth in Salem Residential Section Presages Huge Population

Salem is not only building more than one dwelling house a day for the first six months of this year, but it is forging so far ahead of all its past building records that before the close of the year total building permits will likely be in excess of $2,000,000.

The building record for the year 1924 was $1,677,208. The total for the first six months of the year 1925 is $1,162,325. As several large buildings are to be built during the next few months everything points to a most remarkable record of building for a city of 23,000.

During the month of June just past, building permits amounted to $285,700, compared to $59,400 of June one year ago.

One of the remarkable features is the building of Salem as a home town. For the first half of the year, with 181 days, building permits were issued for 199 dwellings and the month of July shows no decrease in dwelling permits.

Home building in Salem for the first six months this year are as follows, showing the number of dwelling permits for each month and total of permits:

Month	No. Permits	Total
January	24	$ 60,300
February	35	118,250
March	38	102,500
April	28	96,350
May	34	111,600
June	40	113,800
Totals	199	$602,800

Everyone who has built a house knows that the cost is fully 25 per cent greater than the building permit. Hence, it is safe to say that fully three quarters of a million dollars worth of homes have been built during the first half of this year, or will be completed within a few weeks.

PURCHASE FINE GOATS

FIVE IMPORTED AFRICAN ANIMALS COME HERE

Five Angora goats have been received recently from South Africa by the local raisers in the vicinity of Salem. While the goats were imported at considerable expense, it was found necessary for the local men to do so in order to secure new blood and prevent in-breeding.

The goats received here are around one and one-half years old and when received had a 15-month fleece. This fleece was exceptionally heavy and long, some of it being 16 inches in length, and it is expected that when sheared that the yield will exceed 16 pounds per head. This is about twice what the average stock goat will yield.

All of the goats were received from the A. B. Hobson goat farm of Cape Town, South Africa. The local buyers were R. W. Hogg, William Riddle & Sons, J. B. Stump, U. S. Grant, and Guthrie Brothers.

Lost Boston Bull

H. F. Woody, of Woody & Woody, the new auctioneers, at Mission and Liberty streets, phone 75, last night lost his Boston bull dog. The dog is about nine months old, and he is a blooded pup, and worth a lot of money. So Mr. Woody is very anxious to find him. He fears that some one passing through may have picked him up. If any reader sees or hears of this Boston bull pup, he will be doing a neighborly act if he will get word to Mr. Woody; and earn a reward, too.
