

SMALL DISTRICT FAIRS ARE NOW BEING URGED

COMMUNITIES ASKED TO SELECT BEST PRODUCTS

Quality Products From Each Section Wanted at Annual Corn Show in Fall

The Salem Chamber of Commerce is fostering the holding of a number of small community fairs prior to the inter-county corn show, which is to be held this year in the Armory, November 19, 20 and 21. The purpose of holding these small fairs will be to secure the exhibits best suited for display here at the corn show. It is suggested by the Chamber of Commerce that small awards be given for the prize winning entry in each division.

The Chamber of Commerce has agreed to furnish speakers for each one of these small fairs and to mimeograph invitations and programs as well as to assist in making them successful in any way possible.

Last year there were eight communities having entries in the corn show. They were Sunnyside, Liberty, Labish, St. Paul, North Howell, Fruitland, Salem Heights and Marlon. All of the spaces for community exhibits for this year's show have been taken except one and this one will be taken before the show begins it is expected.

Liberty is the only one of the towns in the county that has already made plans for holding a community fair prior to the corn show. Mrs. J. C. Morrison, Mrs. show this year. The committee in charge of their program consist of Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. Willis Dallas, and Mrs. Roy V. Ohmart.

LEAKE OFFERS PROGRAM

ORCHESTRAL ENTERTAINERS ARE AT CHAUTAUQUA

H. J. Leake, director of Leake's Orchestral Entertainers, who will be presented here Thursday afternoon and evening at the Chautauqua tent, has been connected with the leading concert bands, orchestral combinations and lycium and chautauqua organizations for the past fifteen years. He has also appeared on Keith's vaudeville circuit and with A. G. Field's minstrels. Mr. Leake plays drums, xylophone, marimbaphone, saxophone, and he is a whistler, an imitator and a monologist.

His company has been chosen with a view to giving the very best program possible, with features that will please every type of music lover in the audience. The vocal part of a novelty company such as this is often sacrificed, but Beth Woodward-Leake, soprano solist, with this company, has a beautiful voice, which has had excellent training, and her solos include operatic arias and ballad selections from the best composers.

Florence Nolin is a violinist of ability, and also plays the saxophone and marimbaphone. With such versatility the program has a variety beyond that of the ordinary company. A special feature of the entertainment is the playing of the marimbas, which instruments have risen in favor during the past few seasons, and, as handled by this company, are receiving the finest comments wherever heard.

Mr. Leake's imitations of animals he knew on the farm when he was a child, his bird calls and whistling, will bring back memories of childhood to many who hear him.

MARRIAGE CANCELS TERM

WOMAN'S JAIL SENTENCE SUSPENDED WHEN SHE WEDS

YAKIMA, July 9.—When Mrs. Mabel McMurry obtained a license here this afternoon to marry Albert Merkle, a justice of the peace suspended a sentence pronounced on her to serve out a fine of $150, in the county jail for possession of intoxicating liquor. The court had agreed to suspend the sentence if she married. Mrs. McMurry was arraigned last week but when she fainted in court a doctor ordered her to remain at home for a few days. She obtained the marriage license today a few minutes after her final decree of divorce from her first husband was granted by superior court.

WATT CASE IS ARGUED

FINAL CHAPTER IN GUARDIANSHIP BEING WRITTEN

Arguments on appeal in the matter of the guardianship of Miss Elizabeth P. Watt, now 75 years old, an alleged incompetent, were made before the supreme court yesterday. The case has been before the public for the last two years.

Under an agreement made between G. H. McElroy and Bertha Watson, a home was to be given Miss Watt for the remainder of her life. In return she conveyed real and personal property valued at approximately $10,000 to the two people.

Upon petition to the circuit court by Gora J. Hodman, Alma R. Schindler, Gertrude L. Scott and Joseph Schindler, the late Judge

W. M. Bushey held that Miss Watt was competent and that she had the right to enter into such contract. On appeal before the late Judge George G. Bingham the case was reversed and Thomas Holman named as her guardian.

PATENT PAVING CASE SETTLEMENT IS MADE

has been saved by reason of the open competitive bidding which has resulted from this contest in the letting of paving contracts by the state and the various municipalities.

The attorney general points out that the courts have uniformly held that the state when it goes into court stands on the same footing as a private individual and, the court having held that the state is liable on the contract, it is incumbent upon the state the same as an individual to settle its debt, and in doing so it is entitled to settle with its creditor upon the best terms attainable. It is further pointed out that there is no object or advantage to be gained by a continuation of this litigation other than a possible reduction of the amount to be finally paid at the risk of being required to pay a greatly increased amount because the paving patent in question having expired, there is no question of its validity, or other question of public right, to be settled by such litigation, and altogether it seems the exercise of sound discretion to save further expense of litigation and make a favorable settlement now.

German Infant Mortality Reduced to Half Since War

BERLIN—Statistics recently published show that the mortality among infants is much less than in pre-war days. During the third quarter of last year the death rate was only about one-half the percentage during the year just prior to the World war.

The medical authorities attribute this improved condition to the cold weather during the latter part of 1924, which they state is always more beneficial than warm weather for infants during their first year.

AUTO TOURISTS RATED CLASS BETTER THIS YEAR THAN LAST POISAL SAYS

In speaking of the class of people stopping at the Salem auto camp this year, H. S. Poisal remarked yesterday that it is very much better than it has been in previous years. There seem to be fewer tramp tourists, Mr. Poisal stated, and gave as the probable reason that this year the rate has been raised to 50 cents a night straight, instead of 50 cents the first night and 25 cents each night thereafter, as it has been in former years.

The number of tourists while not much more than half as large as the number registered last year at this time is increasing rapidly. The last few days have seen cars registered from many eastern states and it is expected that the number will continue to grow each day throughout the remainder of the summer although it probably will not reach last year's figure. Other reasons offered for the scarcity of tourists in Salem this year are that the tourists are being directed to take the west highway, thus avoiding Salem, and that the highway is closed for repairs between Junction City and Harrisburg.

Salem business men are awakening to the truth of what it means to lose all of this tourist trade and signs encouraging and directing the tourist toward Salem are being erected at many places along the highway.

Ontario Has Nearly Half of Automobiles in North

OTTAWA—Automobiles in Canada have passed the 600,000 mark for the first time in history, the Dominion bureau of statistics announces.

Motor vehicles registered in Canada January 1 numbered 625,121, compared with 593,323 on January 1, 1924.

Ontario was the leading automobile owner among the provinces with 308,693 cars to its credit. The prairie provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta combined accounted for 166,234 automobiles. More than 60 per cent of the cars in that area are owned in rural districts.
