

POLK COUNTY FLAX TO BE VISITED WEDNESDAY

CARAVAN LEAVES DALLAS AT 10 O'CLOCK SHARP

Basket Lunch to Be Served at Noon; Many Salem People Will Make Trip

The Dallas Chamber of Commerce committee extends an invitation to all Salem citizens interested in the successful expansion of the fiber flax industry in western Oregon to join a caravan which will leave from in front of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce at 10 o'clock on Wednesday to make a tour of test flax fields in the district.

The caravan will stop at Rick-reall grove for a basket lunch, and will during the lunch hour have as speakers many prominent men including, Governor Walter M. Pierce, W. D. Dodson, manager of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, Paul V. Maris, director of the OAC extension service and Col. W. B. Bartram.

It will be the purpose of the tour to determine if possible just how much fiber flax raising will take the place of wheat raising in Polk county, what the yields for this year's flax fields, and what are the cultural problems involved in raising the crop successfully.

During the tour both good and poor plots will be visited and an effort will be made to show to those attending what methods bring success and what methods bring certain failure. A pulling machine will also be viewed in operation on the farm of Mr. Riddell, near Monmouth.

TRAINED LYNX IS VISITOR

ANIMAL HAS BEEN IN MOVIES AND "ON THE AIR"

"Bobbie" is the world's only trained lynx, according to the claim of his owner, R. H. McNeer of Nysaa, Or., who was a Salem visitor yesterday. The huge lynx curled up on top of a bed roll in the tonneau of Mr. McNeer's car, resembled an overgrown house cat and seemed just as tame until a curious onlooker attempted to stroke his fur, and then with remarkable swiftness a paw flew out and the lynx snarled fiercely at the no longer curious one jerked his hand away and gazed ruefully at three long scratches that bore humble testimony of the cat's gentleness.

Mr. McNeer is showing the lynx in vaudeville and will in a short time make a tour of the west, presenting the animal in conjunction with motion pictures of the pet, which have recently been taken. These pictures show the lynx in his native haunts and depict the big cat in the act of killing a snake, treating a snake bitten paw, killing rabbits and pouncing on lizards, as well as many other interesting acts.

Bobbie has broadcasted on the radio from Los Angeles, and for this distinction had his picture in the Pictorial Weekly. He sings and talks with readiness, although it is a little hard for anyone but his master to understand his language.

EDUCATOR IS CALLED

PROF. GARRISON, PIONEER, PASSES ON FRIDAY

Funeral services will be held in Portland Monday for Prof. J. M. Garrison, who passed on at a Seaside hospital Friday. He was an Oregon pioneer, prominent educator and poultrian. For many years he was a resident of Forest Grove.

Prof. Garrison was born in Missouri, September 25, 1846. He crossed the plains when six months old. His family settled in Yamhill county, where his father, Abraham Garrison, was an early Methodist missionary. He was graduated from Willamette University with the class of '66.

For many years he was active in educational work and was instructor in various colleges and universities throughout the Northwest. He was also a pioneer poultrian and did much to promote interest in the work. He was a member of the First Congregational church of Portland and the A.O.F.W. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary E. Garrison; two sisters, Mrs. M. J. Qida of McMinnville, Mrs. William Jones of Amity; and all of his children, Mrs. P. E. Bauer of Tacoma; Mrs. E. S. Huckaboy, Portland; Paul E. Garrison, Mildred and Margaret, all of Portland.

CANNERY WORKERS ROW

TWO WOMEN FEATURED IN ASSAULT COMPLAINT

Declaring that the whole thing was an unfortunate accident, Jennie R. Presnell was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault and battery, on a complaint sworn out by Emile Fandrick. The case has been continued.

Both women are employed at a local cannery. According to Mrs. Fandrick, Mrs. Presnell jabbed her in the side with considerable force, almost breaking one of her ribs, the complaint states. Mrs. Presnell, however, says that she was washing her hands, and heard a noise behind her. Startled, she turned quickly, with the result that her elbow collided rather violently with Mrs. Fandrick's rib.

No date has yet been set for a further hearing of the case.

BIBLE AND THEORY HELD IN HARMONY

ing of the law it interprets the language used by specifying that the objectionable thing is the doctrine that man is a descendant from some lower form of life. There is no doubt that evolution asserts man's descent from some lower form of life and no scientific specialist could change the law or its meaning, no matter who these specialists might be or how many there might be.

"If the people of Tennessee have a right to pass laws for the protection of the religion they have chosen, they have a right to determine for themselves what they consider injurious and dangerous to their children. No specialists from the outside are required to inform the parents of Tennessee as to what is harmful. The testimony of such experts therefore is not only incompetent but would be offensive.

"If a law like this were passed in New York and witnesses were called from Tennessee to assure the people of New York that they were unduly alarmed and that there was nothing to fear, their testimony would be objected to as offensive as well as improper. If it would be absurd for Tennessee experts to advise the people of New York and Illinois as to what is helpful or harmful, which is not absurd to call experts from New York and Illinois to challenge the right of people of Tennessee to legislate as they please and according to their own sense of responsibility and their own judgment as to what is harmful and what is objectionable from a bible standpoint?

"The people of Tennessee have a right to protect the Bible as they understand it. They are not compelled to consider the interpretations placed upon it by people of other states, whether Christians or scientists or both."

After a day in which attorneys, as Dr. Deal described them, were "lawyers, with a possibility of being orators Monday," the array of representatives of Scopes' legal interests, picnicked with newspaper men in the afternoon, joining a boat ride down the Tennessee river in which the Chattanooga News was host to the visiting reporters.

Members of prosecution council motored to a mountain resort near Dayton in the late afternoon.

It was learned tonight that the clash on the competency of scientific testimony may not be heard Monday. The state has served notice that the prosecution will insist that the regular order be followed in the trial. This would result in the debate on admission of scientists' testimony coming when the defense offered their witnesses after the state's case is closed.

SUNDAY CHAUTAUQUA PLAN FOR NEXT YEAR

VETO PLACED HERETOFORE BY CHURCH PEOPLE

Programs Would Feature Sacred Music; Quota This Season Not Attained

Recent estimates show that the quota pledged by the guarantors of this season's chautauqua is not yet attained. It is stated, however, that there are one or two ticket sellers who have not reported their sales, and that when this amount is counted in the deficiency will be very slight, if any.

Plans are being made for holding another chautauqua next year in Salem. It is planned to hold programs on Sunday next year. This is a new thing in Salem chautauqua history, it having been vetoed before by church people. The program for Sunday will be composed entirely of sacred music and appropriate religious numbers.

The amount guaranteed Ellison & White this year was $1950. It is stated that the guarantee for next year is $1800. The committee in charge of this year's chautauqua, in order to assure a chautauqua for Salem in 1926, is mailing 500 letters to prominent business men in Salem, explaining the worthiness of chautauqua, and asking them to pledge themselves to dispose of $17.50 worth of tickets. It is felt that if this request is properly responded to it will materially mitigate the strain hitherto put upon a few who have undertaken to put over the campaign.

PORTLAND BANKERS TURN OVER ASSETS

active direction of affairs of the bank here.

Charles Pratt, founder of the company, which was only a partnership, was many years treasurer of the Standard Oil company of New York. He is now dead. The sellers constitute one of the wealthiest families in the United States. The statement of E. B. MacNaughton on behalf of Charles Pratt & Company, New York City, owners of Ladd & Tilton bank, announces that the deposits of Ladd & Tilton bank with their supporting assets have been sold as of Saturday, July 11, to the United States National Bank of Portland, Ore.

"These assets are supported by the guaranty of Charles Pratt & Company. The decision leading up to this step rests upon the desire of the Pratt interests to be relieved of the responsibility of operating a banking institution at a remote distance from their New York office. The remaining assets of the bank, together with the assets of its related companies excepting the Ladd Estate company, will go into liquidation which liquidation will be handled for the Pratt interests by the Strong & MacNaughton Trust company.

"The safe deposit business of Ladd & Tilton bank has also been acquired by the United States National bank. The bond department has not been disposed of in this transaction."

SEATTLE, July 11.—Three large knives with heavy blades and a quantity of black pepper were found in cells occupied by desperate criminals following a "shakedown" by Sheriff Matt Starwich here today. The search was undertaken after an attempted jail break had been foiled.

SECURITIES COMMISSION TO MEET HERE JULY 20

TEN WESTERN STATES ARE TO BE REPRESENTED

Many Prominent Men Slated to Lead Round Table Discussions at Session

Plans have been completed for the annual meeting of the western division of the National Association of Securities. Commissioners from ten western states here July 20 and 21 by W. E. Crews, state corporation commissioner. States to be represented are Oregon, Washington, California, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Utah, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico. The meetings will be held in the house of representatives at the capitol. Governor Pierce will give the address of welcome.

Round table discussions during the two days are as follows: "Benefits of the Blue Sky Laws and New Legislation in Relation Thereto," by M. C. Hicks, secretary of the securities commission of Utah.

"Blue Sky Laws and Their Relations to the Development of Our National Resources," by W. E. Crews, Oregon corporation commissioner.

"Co-ordination and Co-operation of Western Commissioners," by H. M. Daugherty, California corporation commissioner.

"Educating the Investor," Robert M. Mount, manager Portland Better Business Bureau.

"Damage to Mining When Exempt from Securities Acts," by J. Grant Hinkle, secretary of state of Washington.

"Duties of State Officials Enforcing Blue Sky Laws," by George A. Coddington, assistant Oregon corporation commissioner.

"How to Meet Tendency to Issue Bonds Where Stock Issues of Speculative Nature Should Be Sold," by J. R. Rake, chief securities examiner of Washington.

"Combating the Cry of Paternalism," by George P. Porter, state auditor and investment commissioner of Montana.

"Methods of Examination and Investigation," by Oscar Zapf, chief clerk of the division of corporations of Arizona.

"Licensing and Supervising Agents," by E. W. Porter, commissioner of finance of Idaho.

Subjects of round table talks will be: "The Bank and the Promoter," "Co-ordinating Agencies," "Fighting Securities Frauds," and "Real Estate Speculations."

PRUNE CROP IS LARGE

HORST RANCHES REPORTING UNUSUAL HARVEST

Reports coming from the E. Clemens Horst ranches at Eola and North of Salem, indicate an abnormal crop of prunes on these holdings this year despite the fact that only about a quarter of a crop is predicted for the valley in general.

Some of the Horst trees are now so heavily laden that they have had to be carefully propped to prevent the limbs from breaking off. Careful attention, and the fact that many of the Horst trees are planted in the best soil of the valley, accounts for the exceptionally heavy crop this year.

BLACK CHERRY DEAL IS COMPLETED FOR SEASON

SEVENTEEN CARLOADS SENT FROM LOCAL MARKET

Reports From East Show That Fruit is Grading High; Car Grosses $3692

The black cherry deal for this year was brought to a close yesterday when the association finished packing a few odds and ends which will go to local markets and began the dismantling of their machinery. During the season 17 cars were shipped from the city, not including one which was loaded with cherries from McMinnville.

Reports from eastern markets show that the crop packed by local packers is grading high and receiving the best price offered for cherries from any where in Washington or Oregon. Scobel & Day received telegraphic advice from New York yesterday stating that one of their cars loaded with Lamberts was going at $3.07 with a few Black Republicans at $2.15. The car grossed $2692.

Young & Wells have received word from Chicago on a car sold there for them that went for $2.90 for the Lamberts and $2.45 for the Black Republicans. This price is practically equal to that of $3.07 on the New York market.

The Albert Lea KITCHEN KOOK

is not an oil stove. It should not be confused with ordinary oil stoves or any other type of gasoline stove, for it is entirely different in construction and principle of operation; far superior in speed, cleanliness, safety and economy.

The Kitchen Kook is a gas stove. It places the convenience of city gas service at the disposal of every home, no matter where it is located. It has all the desirable features of city gas with greater cooking speed at lower operating cost. It makes and burns its own gas from common low test gasoline, producing a clear, blue flame entirely free of smoke, soot and odor, not only while the stove is new but permanently.
