Alienists Test Youths Who Failed in Loeb-Leopold "Perfect Crime"

Alienists are examining Russell Crawford (at top) and Bliss Baker, (below), University of California students, who are held by police following the discovery of a plot to kidnap and hold for $50,000 ransom, Mrs. D. C. Jackling (above), San Francisco society matron. Baker confessed, police say, and revealed that it was his ambition to commit a "perfect crime," and succeed where Loeb and Leopold failed. He named Crawford as his accomplice.

Bits For Breakfast

Two more days—

That is all, for Salem Chautauqu.

It has been a wonderful Chautauqu, so far.

The lecture of last evening, by Capt. "Dingle" Upton, was one of the best things of all, and one of the most appreciated.

Two of the flax pullers of the state flax plant have been purchased. This leaves four. It may be that the state will have to carry these four machines over for another year; though it is to be hoped not.

If you know anything about goats (Angora or milk), please help the Slogan editor. Do it today. It will be too late tomorrow.

The way President Coolidge talks right out in meeting convinces our foreign creditors they might as well arrange to pay their debts.

Considering the position Great Britain is taking on its friends, the soviet, might we rise to inquire if Senator Borah still wants the United States to recognize the communist government of Russia?

PLAN PICNIC THURSDAY

WILLAMETTE GROCERY MOST PANY WILL BE HOST

Retail grocers, confectioners and tobacconists who are not in Portland Thursday to attend the national Elks' convention, have been invited to a real picnic at Stayton as guests of the Willamette Grocery company. Ice cream, lemonade, coffee, cream and butter will be served free of charge to the guests. All those attending are urged to come with well-filled baskets and to be prepared for a big time. A program of games and sports for young and old has been arranged.

"All stores in Salem will close all day for the Elks' parade in Portland," the invitations read. "So, you butchers, soda jerkers, cigarette vendors and pure food artists, join our caravan which will leave from in front of the Willamette Grocery office at 9 o'clock sharp Thursday morning."

Dr. Wilbur Nelson, Tennessee state geologist, member of the national research council, and president of the national association of state geologists.

Dr. William M. Goldsmith of Northwestern University, Winfield, Kan.

Cave Girl Methods Drive Suitor Away From Altar

MEXICO CITY.—Ines Vargas, a sixteen-year-old senorita as determined as she is romantic, recently served an ultimatum on her parents to the effect that, unless they gave their consent to her marriage with Isidro Covarrubias within ten minutes, she would throw herself from the roof of the four-story apartment building in which the Vargas family lived. Whereupon she fled upstairs locked the door leading to the roof and poised herself on a cornice overlooking Nuevo Mexico street.

Ciraco Vargas, the father, tore his hair in desperation for a few seconds as he reflected that his daughter had inherited the firm character of her mother, and the latter, he felt sure from past experience, would never recede from her stand that Isidro, as a son-in-law, was impossible. Then he dashed to the nearest police station, only a block away, to seek disinterested counsel.

A few hurried sentences explained the situation to comisario. That official had an inspiration. Next to the police station were the firemen. He called out a hook and ladder company and the fire ladders, all dressed up in huge helmets and light blue uniforms, clanged to the scene of the impending tragedy, unfurling a life net as they went. They arrived just about 9 minutes and 55 seconds after Ines had issued her ultimatum and was about to launch herself into space. There ensued a lively game of tag between Ines and the firemen, with their net, down in the street, while a gathering crowd cheered and Ciraco attacked the locked door with an axe.

Just as the door gave way, Ines thought she had outwitted the net holders and jumped. By a supreme effort and overturning a couple of urchins, the firemen managed to interpose enough of the net between Ines and the pavement to break her fall. But she achieved her purpose. For the sight of her daughter whirling through the air destroyed the last of Mamma Vargas' opposition. She did not, however, win Isidro. That youth faded from the scene after witnessing his sweetheart's leap. The papers quoted him the next day as stating that he did not think he possessed enough of the cave man stuff to live happily with such a woman as Ines promised to become.

Device Helps Blind to Read by Sound, Is Said

LENINGRAD.—Professor Rosing, a famous oculist of this city, has invented a new device by means of which it is claimed the blind are able to orientate themselves and to read. In this apparatus all daylight effects are replaced by sound. Experiments carried out in the Leningrad Institute for the Blind showed that the children, after the use of the apparatus was explained to them, were able by the different shades of sounds to define many articles in the room and to recognize persons who were passing them.

Professor Rosing is working to perfect his apparatus and is also evolving a new radio apparatus for transmitting graphic images at a distance. By means of this apparatus, Professor Rosing says, every letter of the alphabet will be expressed by different sounds. So far he has succeeded in contriving definite sounds for 18 letters and is hopeful of his ultimate task.

KLAN AND ANTI'S RIOT

ROCKS, EGGS AND STICKS THROWN IN DEMONSTRATION

LEICESTER, Mass., July 14.—(By The Associated Press.)—Rioting between Klansmen and anti-Klansmen sympathizers broke out here tonight and scores were reported injured, two seriously. Automobiles were battered and glass windshields were broken in a running battle in which the Klansmen greatly outnumbered the "anti's."

During the barrage of rocks, eggs and sticks, Patrolman James Fitzpatrick of Rochdale, collared a man in a white robe and tried to wrest a revolver from him. The patrolman was jumped upon by half a score of the man's companions and overpowered. The police were unable to cope with the disturbance. The main street was littered with debris after the trouble.

Another Creamery Robbed

The Hubbard creamery was entered this week and over 1000 pounds of butter stolen. Of this amount 640 pounds was solid pack butter and the remainder bore Mother Hubbard prints. A few nights previous the St. Paul creamery was entered and 500 pounds of butter stolen. It is believed that the same robbers perpetrated both crimes. The butter is probably being rushed into Portland and distributed to grocers in the city after the labels have been changed. As yet no clue as to who the robbers are has been found.

Diploma for High School Work Is Goal of Man 57

BAXTER, Tenn.—Baxter Seminary, located in Putnam county on the Cumberland plateau in the mountains of Tennessee, is unique in the age and poverty of its students. Of the 14 students who were graduated this year, three were 35 and 40 years of age. The average age of the 110 students in attendance throughout the year was between 25 and 30.

"Our students are poor and needy, live in little log cabins, have poor land, and are older than the average," said Rev. Harry L. Upperman, president.

"Three students between 30 and 35 years of age are in the first, second and third years of high school respectively, and some who are between 20 and 30 are in the first and second years of high school. One man is now 57 and has been trying all his life to finish so that he could have the honor of graduating from high school work before he died."

Practically all the students work their way through the seminary, doing sweeping, farming, waiting on tables, etc., and most of them pay their tuition in cornmeal, flour, meat and beans.

"We have never turned a student away because of poverty," said President Upperman.

Shoes of Lizard Skin Are Becoming Popular

LONDON.—Lizard farming in England has been greatly stimulated within the last few months since the skins for women's shoes have become fashionable. Lizard shoes for street wear have become very popular in London this summer and lizard slippers for evening wear have been quite the fad for some weeks.

Dealers say lizard skin shoes are here to stay as the material is serviceable and comfortable and not nearly so expensive as is usual when a new idea is introduced. Lizard skin shoes retail at from $15 up.

French Air Pilots Want to Make Atlantic Flight

PARIS.—Paul Tarascon, French "ace" and pioneer in prewar flying in Europe, has been bringing all the pressure he can bear on M. Painleve at the war office and M. Laurent Eynac of the aeronautics department to enable him to make his proposed non-stop flight across the Atlantic this summer.

Tarascon, who lost a leg before the World War and had difficulty in getting into service, will be accompanied by another skilled air pilot, if the flight is made, Francois Coll, a naval officer who accompanied Roget on his Franco-Rumania flight and on his "stunt-trip" of crossing the Mediterranean twice in one day.

It is planned to start the flight toward the end of July, provided the necessary government authorization can be obtained, leaving
