PEOPLE AND EVENTS SILVERTON

LILLIE L. MADSEN Statesman Correspondent

SILVERTON, Or., July 20.—(Special to The Statesman.)—Mrs. S. E. Richardson entertained with an afternoon party Thursday, honoring her sister, Mrs. W. T. Main, who has been visiting here from Iowa. Progressive bridge was played, four tables being arranged in the prettily decorated rooms. Among those who were present were Mrs. W. T. Main, Mrs. H. B. Latham, Mrs. W. Service, Mrs. R. E. Kleinsorge, Mrs. F. V. Treadgold, Mrs. C. W. Keene, Mrs. P. L. Brown, Mrs. M. C. Woodard, Mrs. P. A. Lear, Mrs. J. W. Welch, Miss Rosella Richardson, Miss Margaret Main, Mrs. J. A. Campbell, Mrs. S. W. Keeler, Mrs. H. M. Simms, Mrs. A. E. Janz, Mrs. E. A. Booth, and the hostess, Mrs. S. E. Richardson.

Two minor automobile accidents occurred at Silverton Friday. A small truck driven by Ruth Gordon and a touring car of which Clarence Sebo was driver collided near the Central garage. Some calling attention to a flat tire on the truck said to have been the cause of the accident. Neither car was damaged to any great extent.

Decision as to who should take the right of way caused the second collision near Nottaker's garage. Cars driven by O. E. Hutchinson and B. Hansen approached an intersection. Both stopped and then both started, with the result that a tire on the Hansen car was damaged. Mr. Hutchinson offered to pay repair charges for the damage done Miss Hansen's car.

Mrs. W. T. Main of Iowa was the inspiration of several delightful parties last week. Tuesday evening Mrs. Main was honored guest at a bridge party given by Mrs. P. A. Lear at her home on Coolidge street. Thursday afternoon a number of guests were invited for bridge by Mrs. S. E. Richardson, sister of Mrs. Main. Mrs. H. M. Simms was hostess Friday evening at a party given for Mrs. Main. Bridge was again played.

HEAD OFFICE IS HERE

COSMOPOLITAN STORE MAKES SALEM HEADQUARTERS

Announcement was made Monday that the main office of the Cosmopolitan company, a chain grocery store system with five establishments in the Willamette valley, would be located in Salem. The offices will be located at the rear of the building formerly occupied by the Liberty theater, now being remodeled.

The store here will be operated on a system used by the Piggy Wiggy stores, a basket being given each customer and a cashier to check purchases. Merchandise of small staple goods from 5 cents to $1 will be handled by the store.

Bits For Breakfast

It is one long war—The fight of the farmer with the pests and the forces of nature.
The mint growers of the Lelish district are fighting cut worms, and some of them may have to begin cutting and putting their mint through the stills by the end of the week, in order to save it from destruction. The cut worms are also keeping the celery growers of that district busy. They are fighting them with poisons.

Not so very long ago the state of Oregon spent a considerable sum of money, appropriated by the legislature, in erecting a building over the soda spring at Sodaville. The structure was dedicated with a big celebration, and the impression went out that a great asset had been added for the good of the state. The whole people of the state furnished the money for the building, and the management of the soda springs was turned over to the city of Sodaville. A little charge is made for the water taken away in quantities—about 2 cents a gallon, and the city gets this, for the upkeep of the building. But no one can notice any upkeep, and the whole thing, including the "city," is nothing of the people thereof, and going into decay. It would be a fine thing if Sodaville had a different sort of population, or if the spring could be disposed of to some enterprising man or company who would exploit it for the profits that could be made out of it. The state of things at Sodaville, five miles beyond Lebanon, is a fair sample of the curse of public ownership, in which everybody's business is nobody's business. The soda water at Sodaville is fine. It could be made to make the fortune of some one, or the fame of Sodaville, rightly managed.

The United States is a creditor nation to the extent of nine billion dollars, aside from the money foreign governments owe our government, which is about the same amount; that is to say we are the greatest creditor nation.

The press table at the Tennessee monkey trial is the most important feature of the affair.

Nine card tables, comprising the first allotment of furniture received for the new Elks temple, were returned to the shipper—the Washington Products company of Tacoma, yesterday afternoon. The tables were returned because the tops were permanently attached to the bases and preventing the replacing of felt covers. Other shipments of furniture are expected within a few days.

Library Is Flooded

When employees of the public library entered the auditorium in the basement of the library Monday morning they found the room flooded with several inches of water. A plumber was called immediately and most of the day was spent in mopping and baling. Apparently there were no broken pipes and there were no signs of water having seeped into the room from the outside as the walls showed no sign of having been wet and the floor is of concrete. The source of the flood has not been discovered as yet.

Two Boys Escape

Tom Larsen and Tom Hoffman, both 14, escaped from the state institution for feeble minded early Monday morning. The boys, it is believed, made their escape about 3 o'clock in the morning after having kept watch all night for an opportunity to slip out unnoticed by the watchman. Tom Larsen, the leader in the escapade, has escaped from the institution a number of times before and each instance made his way back to the vicinity of Kelso, his former home, where he has been retaken by the authorities. The Larsen youth is described as being very small for his age, often being taken for only 8 years old. He is reported to be a very bright youngster.

Will Gravel Road
