BOYS TO LEAVE TODAY FOR CAMP AT NESKOWIN

NEARLY 60 FROM MARION COUNTY ARE ATTENDING

Annual YMCA Outing Attracts Many; Several Classes To Be Given By Experts

All primed and "rarin' to go," nearly 60 Salem and Marion county boys will leave the YMCA building today for the annual summer YMCA camp at Neskowin where they will spend the next two weeks.

Final touches to the camp were completed yesterday by Benjamin J. Kimber, Marion county YMCA secretary, and his advance detail. Provisions have been ordered, the huge cooking tent and the sleeping tents erected and the camp all ready for the boys.

Hiking, swimming and classes of various kinds have been arranged to keep the boys occupied during the outing. Supervision of the camp will be strict this year. Instruction will be given in forestry topics by L. F. Cronemiller, deputy state forester; "Chief" Bent of Chemawa will direct them in Indian lore; Mr. Batecham, local florist, will have charge of the botany classes; campers' ideas of pageantry will be in charge of Mr. Kimber, while Bob Boardman will have charge of the instruction in Hygiene and first aid. "Ole" Crary, superintendent of schools at Creswell, will be the official chef. The camp will close August 5.

Boys from Silverton, Woodburn, Stayton and a few from nearby Polk county towns will join the Salem group, which is composed of Walter Barber, Tom Childs, Norman Winslow, Ed Hiday, Wallace Hug, Ike Kafoury, Ronald Hulbert, Melford Morgan, Homer Smith, Gustee French, Lewis Hershberger, Charles Simpson, Ivan White, Wes Meise, Dwight Adams, Anderson Byrd, John Boue, Irving Hale, Rodney Meyers, Frank Meyers, F. DeHarput, John Lills, Tom Livesley, Ed Cross, Frank Cross, Jack Hartman, Charles Hageman, Kelley Moore, Walter Barber, Dan Bernard, Clarence Oliver, Ray Miller and Loyal Warner.

BIBLE CASE MAY GO TO FEDERAL COURTS

District of Columbia; that it is impossible for a living body on the earth to overcome the influence of gravity of the earth and ascend beyond the limit of vision, whereas the Holy Bible teaches that Elijah went up to heaven while he was still alive in a whirlwind, and that Jesus Christ ascended into heaven after he arose from the dead, and that all the dead shall be resurrected alive and shall ascend bodily into heaven."

Mr. Dolby said the plaintiff intended to force scientists to exert to their utmost themselves to defend their position.

"We have not yet lined up our witnesses," he said, "but they will be formidable. Our tentative list includes clergymen and educators who believe literally in the Holy Bible and are well able to defend their belief before any court. We want the issue settled once and for all. The Tennessee law cannot pretend to settle it."

The rider to the district appropriation bill, upon which the suit is predicated is sponsored by Representative Summers, republican, Washington, and includes in its prohibition, besides "due respect for the Bible," the teaching of partisan politics or that "ours is an inferior form of government."

DAWES CONTINUES FIGHT

VICE PRESIDENT CARRIES ON ATTACK AGAINST RULES

DENVER, Colo., July 22.—(By Associated Press.) — Between jumps that will lead him variously from Denver to Cheyenne, to Wagon Wheel Gap, thence to Omaha and back to Chicago, Vice President Dawes in an address here tonight continued his attack on the present senate rules and advocated their exchange by a provision that would enable the majority instead of two thirds of the senate to bring debate to a close.

The Dawes party arrived here shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon and was met at the Union station by city, state and army officials, including Governor Morley and Mayor Benjamin Stapleton, as well as persons high in republican party councils, who included Senator Rice W. Means.

The station plaza was jammed as the vice president emerged from the train sheds smoking his famous pipe and posed for a few pictures.

Proceeding to the Brown Palace hotel, Mr. Dawes insisted on snatching his regular afternoon nap before keeping a dinner engagement at the Denver club where he was the guest of L. Ward Bannister, president of the Denver chamber of commerce.

From there the vice president proceeded again to launch his attack on the senate rules.

WILLYS-OVERLAND MEN GIVING DEMONSTRATION

around town in the new six-cylinder Willys-Knight and Overland cars—judging for themselves how these fine new cars perform.

In addition to discussing the sleeve-valve principle, Mr. Bryant will also go into the general discussion of the construction and improvements of all automobile engines brought about by the rapid progress in the industry at large.

Not only owners of Knight engined cars will find his talk interesting, but all motorists will undoubtedly learn many interesting things about their own cars which will stand them in good stead in the daily operation and upkeep of their automobile.

Alfred Vick of Vick Brothers said he is preparing for a large crowd, as he realizes the extent of the interest that exists in motor cars in general, and the sleeve-valve type of automobile engine in particular. He invites everyone in this section, and hopes to be able to give everyone not only an interesting entertainment, but a ride and demonstration as well.

25 ARE HURT IN CRASH

BLEACHERS COLLAPSE AT FRONTIER CELEBRATION

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 22.—About 25 persons were injured, none seriously, when a 60-foot section of the wooden bleachers collapsed at Frontier park during the frontier days wild west celebration. Approximately 300 persons were seated on the bleachers which gave way.

The bleachers sank slowly, preventing loss of life. United States cavalrymen from Fort D. A. Russell, who were participants in the show, immediately rendered aid and extricated the injured from the collapsed bleachers. An army ambulance on the grounds rendered first aid, while the more seriously injured were taken to Cheyenne hospitals.

EARTHQUAKES TO BE STUDIED IN SCHOOL

Scientists to Gather to Determine Cause and Effects of Disturbances

BOSTON — When earthquake shocks of any considerable magnitude are felt in any part of the world, the public soon after reads statements of scientists concerning the situation. In recent years statements from Engineering Economics Foundation have been appearing with increasing regularity and members have been asked many times "Just what are you trying to do?"

The Engineering Economics Foundation is really a college without a campus, operating in Boston and is engaged in gathering and disseminating information concerning national emergency of all types and methods of reducing loss of life and property in emergency. It focuses its work upon earthquakes because they include virtually all types of hazard.

The headquarters of this college are in an old house on Beacon Hill into which come reports from every section of the world that relates to disturbances within the earth. It is from these reports, which scientists study constantly that deductions are drawn, new methods of prevention developed and steps taken to wage the fight against destruction. Adequate evidence is shown that if proper precautions are taken in advance the maximum destruction from any earth disturbance can be reduced by 75 per cent.

The Foundation follows the two cardinal principles of the college as an institution; the organization of knowledge by research and the transmission of that knowledge by teaching. Its teaching program is concerned first with the transmission of knowledge to the men who will be called upon to lead in an emergency and second to the public. Like virtually all colleges of its type its financial resources come from citizens interested in the development of its work.

Explaining the fundamental principles of this endeavor the Foundation in a statement, says all work is "directed primarily to the prevention of loss and suffering to men, women and children; its work is directed secondarily to prevention of that destruction and loss of property which involves human loss and suffering."

The research program, broadly speaking calls for two distinct studies; the earth, the city and prevention and the earth and the services of the city.

The first part of this program involves a series of studies of cities in the northeastern area of the United States. A study of Boston already has been started on the basis of the Foundation's knowledge of the effect different types of earthquakes would have upon the city should they occur under present conditions.

The study of the earth and the services of the city, the second part of the research program, calls for a series of inquiries into the structural conditions and readjustments of the earth with respect to the carrying on of the services, or the work of the city.

The services of the city are considered by the Foundation to include construction industries, fuel services, life and fire insurance and the like. A study of the earth in its relation to these services and the effect an earthquake of given intensity might have upon them is planned as a basis upon which men can understand and use effectively the methods to prevent the maximum of destruction. Such a study is designed particularly to develop organized knowledge by which loss of property can be minimized and thus minimize human loss and suffering.

All this knowledge, once gained by research, must be taught. Thus the second function of the college is brought into play and the Foundation has outlined its teaching program so that the knowledge thus gained can be put into practical use in the event of disaster.

In its efforts to reach the whole public with its knowledge of how to prevent destruction, the Foundation announces that it will issue 15 bulletins during the coming year.

In addition to these bulletins reports on methods of organization of written sources of knowledge of earthquake hazard and on research sources prepared for the American Reparations Commission will be published.

Swedish Prisoners Make Farm Into Model Colony

HALMSTED, Sweden—An abandoned farm has become Sweden's model penal colony. About five years ago the government conceived the idea of sending prisoners there to complete their terms at outdoor work in virtual freedom. Transfer to the farm was made the reward for good behavior and now is the goal of all Swedish prisoners.

The land has been put under cultivation by the prisoners so successfully that it serves as an object lesson to the peasants of the district.

Notwithstanding the complete freedom of movement permitted for farm work, none of the prisoners has attempted to escape.

Membership of British Trade Unions Decreases

LONDON — The annual report of the General Federation of Trade Unions shows a total membership of 830,316, the smallest recorded since 1912. The decrease last year was 89,734. The receipts $288,650 show a decrease of $16,105 from the previous year.

W. A. Appleton, secretary of the federation, discussing the situation, said:

"The greatest of the losses arise from amalgamations and loss of membership in the unions themselves, and some arise from the poverty of unions who through unemployment find their contributions smaller. In some cases they find themselves handicapped through war-time commitments to expenditures which after war-time incomes cannot meet."

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Simon of West Palm Beach, Fla., were in Salem yesterday.

CELERY TO MOVE FRIDAY

LAKE LABISH IS STARTING CARLOAD SHIPMENTS

First of the carload shipments of celery from the Lake Labish district are expected to start rolling tomorrow. With the increased acreage it is estimated that more than 300 carloads will leave Quinaby over the Oregon Electric and Brooks, over the Southern Pacific. Between 250 and 275 carloads were sent out from the two main shipment points last year.

The celery this year is said to be of excellent quality. Early shipments, in less than carload lots, has already taken considerable celery out of the district. The majority of this has been by express and auto truck.

The aviator's wife was taking her first trip with her husband in his airship. "Wait a moment George," she said. "I'm afraid we will have to go down again."

"What's wrong?" asked the husband.

"I believe I have dropped one of the pearl buttons off my jacket. I think I see it glistening on the ground.

"Keep your seat, my dear," said the aviator. "That's a lake."
