

GREB AND DEMPSEY MATCH IS PROPOSED

Middleweight Champ May Get Chance to Fight Jack In September, Said

CHICAGO, July 23.—(By Associated Press.)—Harry Greb, world's middleweight champion, may be matched with Jack Dempsey in a 10-round no decision bout in the open air arena at Michigan City, Ind., on the afternoon of September 19 or 25.

Greb, at a meeting of Chicago sports writers with Promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons tonight, was chosen as the best available opponent for Dempsey in view of the fact that the heavyweight champion said he could not be ready for an engagement with Gene Tunney or Harry Wills this year.

Promoter Fitzsimmons said he had received assurances from Dempsey by telephone from Salt Lake City that the champion would box Greb and he would post forfeits as soon as the match was closed. Greb has assured Fitzsimmons he will accept the match.

ROSENBERG KNOCKS OUT EDDIE SHEA IN FOURTH

BANTAMWEIGHT STILL HOLDS CHAMPIONSHIP LAURELS

NEW YORK, July 23.—(By Associated Press.)—Charley (Phil) Rosenberg of New York, world's bantamweight champion, knocked out Eddie Shea of Chicago in the fourth round of a 15 round title match at the Velodrome A. C. tonight.

The champion floored his challenger twice in the third round with stiff rights and blows to the jaw. Right after the start of the fourth round Shea caught another on the jaw and took nine before he came up. Then Rosenberg stepped back, measured him for the finishing touch and crashed through a right to the jaw which knocked Shea out. The end came 37 seconds after the start of the fourth round.

Twenty thousand persons were present when the preliminaries started.

In an eight round preliminary Mike Dundee of Rock Island, Ill., was awarded a draw with Johnny Drew of Worcester, Mass.

HUNTER TREED BY DEER

P. K. ACTON CLIMBS SMALL TREE NEAR MEHAMA

Some people go hunting for deer and others are hunted. P. K. Acton, according to his own story, is one of those that gets hunted.

He states that last Sunday while fishing in the Santiam some six miles east of Mehama he saw a buck approaching him leisurely. Mr. Acton clapped his hands expecting the buck to flee, but he was disappointed.

The buck seemed to have business to transact with Mr. Acton, and he, not caring to transact any business with the animal while on the ground, sought refuge in a nearby sapling until the buck, in apparent disgust, moved on.

Road Improvement Program Is Now Being Carried Out

BELLE HORIZONTE, Brazil — A boom has struck the development of state highways in the state of Minas Geraes. The head of the highway commission reports that public expenditures for good roads during 1924 totalled $350,000 and that improvements planned for 1925 will require an additional $500,000. If completed according to present plans, the state highway system will include 8,500 miles of good roads. The state has a population of 6,000,000.

So few are the good roads in Minas Geraes that it has been impossible to motor from Belle Horizonte, the capital, to any neighboring state. Three roads are being worked at present, one headed towards the cocoa district of Brazil and the other two towards Rio de Janeiro.

PAPERMAKERS TOP SUNDOWN PLAYERS

Eagles Are Defeated 1 to 0 in Final Championship Series Last Night

By winning an almost errorless and airtight game from the Eagles last night, the Papermakers won the championship of the Sundown league. The score for the game was 1 to 0. The Papermakers won the first game of a three game series, and then dropped the second by poor base running.

Both teams played good ball last night, and it was not until the last ball had crossed the plate that the final outcome was assured. Schackman for the Papermakers, brought in the only tally of the game in the fourth inning. In the last inning the Papermakers threatened to score again but were stopped by the spectacular catch of a low hard fly to left field by Grez, Eagle center.

Lauderback, pitching for the Papermakers, held the Eagles to four scattered hits, and struck out 13 batters. Chapman for the Eagles did nearly as well with 9 strikeouts and only six hits. The Eagles acquired four errors during the contest while the Papermakers squeezed through with a clean slate on that score.

The lineup:
Papermakers—Gross, cf; Wilkerson, ss; Mooney, lf; Schackman, 1b; Versteeg, c; Lauterback, p; B. Gross, rf; Blankenship, 2b; Simpkins, 3b.

Eagles—Horton, 3b; Schultz, c; Chapman, p; Snily, 2b; De Sart, ss; Anderson, 1b; Hagedorn, lf; Tretz, cf; Willett, rf.

RICH BEQUESTS GIVEN

ESTATE OF LORD CURZON IS ADMITTED TO PROBATE

LONDON, July 23.—The will of the late Marquis Curzon of Kedleston, which was probated yesterday, places a gross value on his estate apart from previous settlements, of $1,775,000, with a net value of approximately fifty thousand pounds sterling less.

Important bequests to the British nation indicate that in death as in life, the first thoughts of the distinguished statesman were of the empire. The document which is very long and remarkable in its detail, is in Curzon's penciled hand writing, and was revised and signed the day before the operation that preceded his death last winter.

It was needless Lord Curzon wrote, to make pecuniary provisions for the children of his first wife, Mary Leiter, of Chicago, because that was done by the wills of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Z. Leiter.

Similarly, the three children of his second wife by her former husband, are fortunately provided for from their father's estate. Lord Curzon's widow is the daughter of the late J. Monroe Hinds, United States minister to Brazil. She receives an interest in the Curzon townhouse in Carlton House terrace with its contents, five thousand pounds annually and the residue of his personal property.

What Is Life's Meaning—Another Answer

"Men who aspire to a happy, a brilliant and a long life instead of a virtuous one, are like foolish actors who want to be always having great parts,—the parts that are marked by splendour and triumph. They fail to see that the important thing is not WHAT or HOW MUCH, but HOW they act." So it seemed to Schopenhauer, pessimist.

We are told by one school of philosophers that a man does not alter, and his moral character remains absolutely the same throughout his life;

That he must play the part he has received, without the least deviation from the character;

That neither experience nor philosophy, nor even religion can effect any improvement in him.

If all this is true, then what is the meaning of life? To what purpose is it played, this drama in which everything that is essential is irrevocably fixed and determined?

A thousand answers have been given to the question. Here is one: "It is played that a man may come to understand himself, that he may see what it is that he seeks and has sought to be; what he wants, and what, therefore, he is."

"This is a knowledge which must be imparted to him from without."

According to this definition, life is to man, in other words, to will, what chemical re-agents are to the body; it is only by life that a man reveals what he is, and it is only in so far as he reveals himself that he exists at all.

Then life is the manifestation of character, of the something that we understand by that word.

And it is not in life, but outside of it, and outside time, that character undergoes alteration, as a result of the self-knowledge which life gives.

This argument, which becomes clearer with a second reading, is supported by Schopenhauer in this manner:

"Life is only the mirror into which a man gazes not in order that he may get a reflection of himself, but that he may come to understand himself by that reflection; that he may see WHAT it is that the mirror shows."

"Life is the proofsheet, in which the composers' errors are brought to light."

Spirit of Ages Permeates Youths; Differences Settled in Modern Way

Archie Elliott Vanquishes Bobby Kendall in Third Canto of Fight Scheduled to "Go to the Finish"

Times sure do change.

A comparatively few years ago here in the west if two men had personal differences they would "shoot it out" upon sight; prior to this time challenges would be issued, seconds arranged for and the combatants would meet in mortal duel with either swords or pistols. Back a few centuries it was "draw and have at ye."

While times do change the results seldom vary.

Perhaps it was a revival of these ancient customs or again perhaps it was owing to the fact that the city council failed to provide for a boxing commission, and encounters placed under the ban that led two young men to settle their differences in the way that has been peculiar to man down through history.

For some reason Archie Elliott and Bobby Kendall, whose official nickname is "Goof," failed to agree and each demanded the other's blood. Nothing, apparently, would satisfy the pair but a personal encounter, and such was arranged.

Provided with six-ounce regulation boxing gloves the combatants, accompanied by a crowd of from 35 to 40, proceeded to the vicinity of the open air dance pavilion across the river in Polk county and settled their differences.

Elliott has had considerable ring experience. Whether Kendall knew this or not prior to the battle is not known. But he discovered it in the third round of a fight that was slated to "go to the finish." Rules of the game were observed and a competent referee saw that the fight was on the square. Elliott was awarded the victory with a knockout in the third canto when Kendall was left listening to the mosquitoes buzz.

CULL OUT THE LOAFER HENS

Don't Kill the Layers, Market the Culls, and Save Feed

Nearly fifty per cent of the hens in every flock do not lay a sufficient number of eggs to pay for the cost of their feed alone. Nearly fifty per cent of the male birds in every flock are not worth breeding from. Therefore, one-half of the poultry owned by the average poultryman consumes the profits that he makes on the other half of his flock.

The most important thing that should be known to every poultryman is to tell how to select his good layers, how to pick the birds that consume food but do not lay, and how to pick birds that should be held over as breeders.

During the next few weeks is the important time to cull out these loafers: Hens that have ceased to lay eggs should be disposed of at once. By culling out these hens now you will not only save feed but you will get higher market prices for the culled out hens. The longer you keep these hens, the lower the market price will be and the more feed they will eat.

Cull them out and sell them as soon as they cease egg production. Keep the hens that lay late in the summer and into the fall months. It is easy and simple to tell these hens if you have the plain methods and secret given in
