German Shipbuilders Go After Russian Business

MOSCOW—German shipbuilding firms, including "Krupp Wharf" and "Deutsche Wharf," have approached the Soviet Commercial Navy department with an offer to build a number of commercial and passenger ships on credit for ten to 15 years upon payment of 10 per cent cash with order. The Commercial Navy department considered the terms acceptable and decided to order several tank steamers as well as passenger ships. In a memorandum addressed to the central authorities at Moscow recommending the offer, the Commercial Navy department stated that the interest of the Soviet shipbuilding works will not suffer by placing orders for ships abroad, as for the whole sum assigned by the government for Russian shipbuilding, orders have already been placed with Russian works, and that the cost of the ships which will be built abroad will be defrayed from the profits derived from the exploitation of those ships.

LARGE AUDIENCE GREETED CAST OF STAGE ARTISTS

SALEM PLAYGOERS PLEASSED WITH SHERIDAN COMEDY

Chauncey Olcott and Mrs. Fiske Greeted With Distinct Ovarions

By AUDRED BUNCH
An unrivaled performance in Salem was the anniversary presentation last night at the Grand theater of Richard Brinsley Sheridan's comedy, "The Rivals." An audience gratifying to the extreme filled the theater for the event, and for once in the annals of splendid offerings in Salem vacant seats were far from as plentiful as those that were filled. Not only a large audience, but an audience that was receptive, gave generously of their applause. Chauncey Olcott, as Sir Lucius O'Trigger, and Mrs. Fiske as Mrs. Malaprop, were greeted with distinct ovations, and curtain calls were claimed act after act. If 150 years leaves something stagey, something artificial, in the lines, a cast like that appearing last night rejuvenates the action and makes it superb in its finish. The backgrounds, though marked with simplicity, were strikingly effective and reminiscent of the 18th century. The costumes were ravishing in color and design, harmonizing with the quaintness of the powdered wigs. There was sufficient grandeur about the whole thing to give one the distinct feeling that it all might have taken place in pantomime and yet have remained a remarkable offering. Profiles and poses from such characters as Chauncey Olcott and Mrs. Fiske are unforgettable in silhouette. And an aggregation of actors such as appeared in Salem for one night will be memorable for years to come.

WHITE MAN EXECUTED

RUSSIAN BANDIT SENTENCED BY CHINESE COURTS

HARBIN, Manchuria, July 25.—(By Associated Press.)—The first officially recorded execution of a white man by Chinese authorities took place today when the notorious Russian bandit Kornloff, was put to death by strangulation. His execution was carried out in the most secret fashion. The prisoner was given only a few minutes notice, and was scarcely able to articulate his last wishes. He pleaded desperately to be allowed to make his appeal to the authorities for mercy. Kornloff, when first arrested on a civil charge, escaped from the court room with the aid of confederates, killing several persons in gaining his liberty. He was later recaptured and sentenced to death Nov. 30, 1923, being the first white man to receive the death penalty in a Chinese court. His appeal was denied on February 26, 1924.

TRIAL DECLARED FARCE

BRYAN HARMED CHRISTIANITY, MINISTER BELIEVES

SEATTLE, July 25.—The trial of John T. Scopes, for violation of Tennessee's evolution law was a farce, and William Jennings Bryan did the cause of Christianity more harm than good by appearing as the prosecutor of the teacher, the Right Rev. Charles Bayard Mitchell of Manila, Philippine islands, grand prelate of the encampment of Knights Templar, said here tonight. Mitchell is bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church of the Philippine archipelago. "The law itself was an unjust one, and I hope it will be thrown out by the Tennessee state supreme court or the supreme court of the United States," Bishop Mitchell said. "No state has any right to take such a position as that taken by Tennessee in this law."

Bits For Breakfast

It was well done. Those who saw "The Rivals" last evening will agree that it was presented in a faultless manner. There is no question concerning the success of the Canadian flax pulling machine. And there has not been for three years. It will no doubt be improved, but the principles are right. Other pulling machines may be perfected; no doubt will. But none has so far been, to compare favorably with the Canadian machine. Another thing, the flax industry cannot be developed into great things here with hand pulling. It is too expensive, and the hands cannot be had in sufficient numbers at the right times. The American people will not take in large numbers to flax pulling by hand. Lincoln Ellsworth, who accompanied Amundson on his recent arctic trip, inherits a million dollars by the will of his father who died in Italy while speculation was rife as to his son's fate. Under authority of the last congress, the patent office is disposing of a 75-year accumulation of 150,000 models filed with patent applications. Those of historic interest have been retained for exhibition by the Smithsonian Institution. This list includes models of the first telephone and sewing machine and Abraham Lincoln's invention for assisting steamboats to cross shoals. Devices of an industrial and scientific interest have been returned to the patentees on application. Mrs. Winnifred Huek, former congresswoman, wanted some reliable information about prison conditions in Illinois. According to a pre-arranged plan, she committed a small theft, passed three days in the Columbus city jail, was sentenced to the woman's state prison at Marysville by Judge Stevens, and was pardoned a month later by Governor Donahay who was in on the secret. Then she hired herself out as a maid and found little reluctance among people to employ an ex-convict. In Pittsburgh she toiled as a chamber-maid in a large hotel and later tried to live on $9 a week while working in a factory.

C V Bifocals and Comfort

WITH ordinary bicentric bifocals the match flame may disappear. The "blind-spot" interferes with vision. That means burned fingers and more discomfort. C V Bifocals have no "blind-spot."

C V Bifocals have one optical center for both reading and distance and are therefore free from "blind-spot," "jump of the object" and "doubling of the image"—common complaints of bifocal wearers.

C V Bifocals will please you because they please the wearers—give the maximum of vision, comfort and efficiency—Complete Vision. In such a lens there is real and lasting enjoyment.

C V Bifocals were introduced by us to this community and we have made a great many of them for the people of Salem. We have never had a lens which gave such complete service. Call and have us demonstrate them to you.
