Japan to Aid Operation of Radio Message Plant

TOKYO—Viscount Shibusawa and Baron K. Nakashima have been appointed by Premier Kato of the committee which will establish the Japanese Wireless Telegraph company under joint management of the government and private interests. The company is to be organized with the government wireless station at Iwaki, Fukushima prefecture, as its principal asset. This will be supplemented by subscriptions to shares by prominent business men of Japan.

In the course of a speech to the committee members, Premier Kato stated that the completion of the international telegraphic service was a matter of vital importance for military, diplomatic and cultural development.
