Major Files Complaint—Alfred Hampden of Los Angeles was fined $25 in justice court yesterday by Bradley C. Small, justice of the peace when he was brought into court on a complaint filed by Major W. P. Simpson of Salem. Major Simpson declared that Hampden, who was returning south, failed to permit him to pass on the highway. According to the complaint, Hampden, driving a large car, would let it out another notch every time he heard the horn on the Simpson car sound preparatory to passing. As soon as Mr. Simpson pulled in behind again the Hampden car would slow down to a normal rate, the complainant declared. Hampden was arrested by Kenneth Bloom, state traffic officer.

More About Spraying—Growers in the Willamette valley should apply the third codling moth cover spray not later than August 8, according to word received from Don C. Mote, entomologist at OAC. The first moth of the second generation appeared in the rearing cage July 25. It is estimated that the maximum number of moths will appear during the first week in August. The egg hatching period will begin about August 3, and the peak of the egg hatching period will probably be about the middle of August. The poison cover spray should be on the foliage, pears and apples before the worms hatch. Increasing the dosage to five pounds of powdered arsenate or lead to 200 gallons of water in this spray is a frequent practice.

Slashing Fire Dangerous—The Falls City correspondent of The Statesman, writing at 5 o'clock last evening, said: "A new fire in slashting in the Socialist valley district, near the Vaf. Wagner ranch, is causing some uneasiness. Fire Warden V. V. Fuller and helpers are up from Dallas, and have taken a good sized crew to fight the fire. It is probable the blaze will be kept under control, unless a strong wind should blow up later in the night to give trouble."

Visiting Mills Family—Frank Slade, of Los Angeles, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mills. Mr. Slade, some 25 years ago was the employer of Mr. Mills in a hardware store in McPherson, Kan. Mr. Slade is very much impressed with Portland, Salem and the Columbia highway.

TAKE FIRE PRECAUTION

FLAX INDUSTRY IS THREATENED BY DRY SEASON

Every possible precaution is being taken by Warden A. M. Dalrymple to prevent a conflagration and the destruction of the state flax industry. Signs have been erected near the huge wooden sheds cautioning against smoking and a watchman is on duty day and night. The season has been exceptionally dry and the flax and sheds are said to be as dry as tinder. A carelessly thrown cigarette or cigar butt, if not immediately noticed, might result in a heavy financial loss to the state. Flax is being received at the rate of 100 to 150 tons a day and has been coming in steadily for the last two weeks. Approximately 800 tons have been received to date. For some unknown reason it is taking nearly twice as long to ret this year as it did last. Instead of the five to seven days necessary last season it is taking from 12 to 14 days this year.

Swedish inventors have produced a building material that is impervious to noise. This is what the times demand, with radios, phonographs, mechanical pianos, saxophones and family arguments.

Bits For Breakfast

Still fine harvest weather—

And the farmers are speeding their harvests to the limit.

The flax crop contracted to the state is probably more than half in the sheds at the state flax plant now.

The state flax plant has a probable chance in sight to get rid of the large amount of hemp fiber on hand—by working it up without retting it. That crop, two years old now, has been a John.

last evening its second "Salem Survey Edition," which is very creditable and makes a splendid showing for this city. The first Survey edition was in 1920, and the more favorable showing in nearly all lines that is made after five years is very marked. In that time, Salem has proceeded well on her way from a city of 17,000 people to a city with 30,000 population. The percentage of expansion industrially has been still more marked; and it is evident to any close observer that the period of real substantial growth for this city has only just secured a fair start.

If you have a point in favor of sheep breeding give it to the Slogan editor—today. Sheep breeding here is on the biggest boom it has had; but it will not boom enough till the Willamette valley farmers help to make Oregon the leading sheep and wool state in the Union. It can be done. Not far behind any state but Texas now.

Corned beef and cabbage has won first place as food in New York City. Sounds substantial.
