

WORK OF GRADING DONE AT HIGH SCHOOL FIELD

PROGRAM IS JUST STARTED AND WILL TAKE TIME

Modern Recreational Center is Future Plan; Money Scarce at Present

Improvements of the high school athletic field on North Fourteenth street when completed will include three baseball diamonds, three football gridirons, handball and tennis courts, playground facilities and the complete equipment of a modern recreational center. It was announced by school authorities yesterday. Work of grading the field which now includes 11 acres was completed recently and is but the initial step in a far-sighted program of development that will extend over a period of years, it was said.

No large expenditure for immediate development is contemplated, it was made clear. Present work was made possible by the donation of $500 by the high school student body for improvement of their athletic field and progress toward the realization of plans for the field will be made only as funds, probably in small amounts, become available.

Inauguration of such plans was premeditated by the school board in the purchase last fall of seven additional acres adjoining the high school field for the purpose of making the place a recreational center for students of the J. L. Parrish and Englewood schools as well as high school students. Future plans contemplate the fencing of the field, it was said, and the planting of shrubs and trees to make the whole ground an unusually attractive public center. Development, it was pointed out, would probably be slow because of the lack of funds but the money now available will be expended in such a way as to offer the maximum of service to the students of all three schools. The board has also received a gift of several hundred dollars from the high school graduating class of 1923 for the erection of a memorial arch at the entrance to the field when development of it will make its construction desirable.

WEISSMULLER SETS NEW RECORD FOR 100 YARDS

SWIMMING CHAMP SETS TIME OF 50.4, FREE STYLE

Water Tournament at Seattle Producing Many New Records for Time

SEATTLE, July 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—Johnny Weissmuller, with 50.4 seconds broke his world record at 100 yards, free style, today, but the Illinois Athletic club of Chicago, whose colors he carried around the world in triumph, lost the lead of the national swimming championships of the Amateur Athletic union, which began in the ship canal channel here Wednesday and ends tomorrow.

Try-lads, Harry Glancy and Walter Lauffer, advanced the Young Men's Christian association of Cincinnati, which snatched away the superiority held last night by the Chicagoan's. Glancy won the mile-long grind, the mile free style, and Lauffer took third place in this event, for which the time was 24:27.4. Les Smith, Olympic club, of San Francisco, was second. Glancy added another in the 300-yard medley, which he won in 4:4.2.

MURDER DETAILS GIVEN

BERKELEY WOMAN KILLED BY YOUNG SWISS ROBBER

BASEL, Switzerland, July 31.—(By Associated Press.)—Johannes Hammerschlegel, the 16 year old farm boy, who on Wednesday shot and killed Mrs. Mary Leavitt Bowen of Berkeley, Cal., with the intention of robbing her, today made a complete avowal of the crime at a preliminary court hearing here.

The police assert that the boy told the court he had first intended to snatch the handbag Mrs. Bowen was carrying, but that he was afraid she was stronger than he and would hold him. Then he thought of firing a shot in the air to intimidate her. He hesitated to use the weapon, however, until Mrs. Bowen was near the suburb of Gothenaem. Then he plucked up courage and fired.

Seeing his victim fall and hearing her cry for aid, Hammerschlegel said he became panic stricken and abandoned the idea of robbing her. He fled into the forest, still clutching the army revolver, which went off as he stumbled over a root and fell. This served further to excite him and he wandered about in the forest until after midnight, when he returned to the farm where he was employed.

EDWARDS WINS MATCH

TOMMY O'BRIEN IS DEFEATED BY PAST OAKLAND BOY

PORTLAND, July 31.—Danny Edwards, bantamweight of Oakland, California, defeated Tommy O'Brien, of the Multnomah club, Portland and ex-Pacific coast bantam champion in 10 rounds here tonight. Edwards' greater experience enabled him to plant a succession of rights to the chin, which staggered O'Brien in the fourth and seventh rounds. In the latter O'Brien was hanging on, but he gamely fought his way out and made a fast finish in the 10th. In the 10 round semi-windup, Chuck Hellman of Portland won the decision from California Joe Lynch, both bantams. Hellman was too fast for Lynch and kept jolting him with a lightning left hook to the head and body.

SHARKEY BEATS SOLOMON

BRAVES FIELD, Boston, July 31.—Jack Sharkey of Boston won a close decision tonight from King Solomon of Panama, in a 10-round battle fought in a drizzle of rain in the open air here. All was about even until the final round when Sharkey cut loose with a terrific body attack which slowed the King down. Sharkey weighed 190 pounds and Solomon 185.

... Clean as a whistle! ...

Why the emphasis on "cleanness," you ask. "Simply because true cleanness in gasoline has a lot to do with getting your money's worth from the gasoline you buy—"more miles to the gallon," in other words.

Of course, freedom from impurities in gasoline promotes clean burning and clean cylinders. That's one advantage. But of greater importance is yet another type of cleanness—not seen, but felt in your motor. Let us explain:—

Associated Gasoline is given a scientifically determined range or "chain" of boiling points, gradually rising from the more volatile parts on up through the heavier or power-yielding elements.

Hence each "charge" of Associated Gasoline ignites instantly at the spark, and explodes or "burns" completely on the down stroke of the piston. Your motor gets all the impulse in every "charge"—another explanation of "more miles to the gallon"—and there's no unburned fuel to gum the cylinders.

Use Associated. Get "more miles to the gallon" through sustained quality.
