REDUCTION OF DUTY ON LOGS DISCUSSED

Lumberman Declares Competition in Price Is Due to Overproduction

SEATTLE, Aug. 7.—(By Associated Press.)—R. W. Vinnage, former president of the West Coast Lumbermen's association and interested in logging and milling, testified at appearing before the United States tariff commission here today that competition between American loggers was due to overproduction. He is opposed to a reduction in an import duty on logs from Canada.

"In 1918," Vinnage said, "an eight-hour law went into effect in Washington logging camps. In order to overcome the increased expense of added shifts, production was speeded up and the industry lost $4,000,000 in '24. "Even if no logs were shipped from British Columbia into Washington, a surplus of 5,000,000 feet of logs just across the line, with the possibility of the tariff being lowered, is a constant threat."

The commission is considering recommending to President Coolidge the cutting in half of the American duty of $1 a thousand feet on logs from Canada.

B. R. Lewis, Skagit county lumberman, testified that he did not see how we are going to protect our labor and maintain American standards of living unless the tariff is raised.

He advocated an import duty on shingles and lumber which are admitted free.

Alfred P. Dennis, vice chairman of the commission, said that even if the tariff remained where it is, or was raised, "Canada might lift the export duty and Canadian logs would still come over here."

A night session was continued in an effort to complete the hearing.
