FRENCH POLICY IS RAPPEL BY ITALIAN

Domination of Northern Africa Declared Object of French Nation

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 7.—(By Associated Press.)—A declaration that a great dream of supremacy in northern Africa dominates French policy, and that France, by a system of slow absorption, is attempting to suppress the free Italian nationality in Tunisia, Algeria and Morocco, was made by Count Antonio Cippico, Italian fascist senator, in a lecture at the Institute of Politics tonight. He charged that France had failed to observe her conventions with Italy, regarding Tunisia and was trying to enforce her moral supremacy upon the world as Germany had tried to enforce "kultur."

The formula of the moral superiority of France is repeated by many, but it perhaps will be accepted by some so long as France is today the most formidable armed nation of the continent of Europe," he said. "Yesterday," he continued, "Germany was armed so as to carry through her program of kultural hegemony. Today it is France, who by the armistice of peace of her presumed historical mission tries to enforce her moral supremacy upon the world."

"The significance of Pan-Americanism," was the subject of an address by Dr. L. S. Rowe, director general of the Pan-American union in Washington. The system of countries embraced included the 21 republics of the American continent.

Dr. Rowe said his views were purely personal and did not express the opinions of any one of the group of governments belonging to the Pan-American union.

"Pan-Americanism," Dr. Rowe said, is an attempt to develop a continental system based on co-operation and community interest, a system from which fear of aggression has been eliminated and its physical power is not the dominating influence. The Monroe doctrine is essentially negative, a series of prohibitions whereas a Pan-American system must be based on positive constructive principles.

The most important of these are: Acceptance of the principle of non-aggression, no future territorial acquisition by means of war or under the threat of war; and judicial settlement of international disputes. The permanent organization of this system is the Pan-American union."

ADOPTED GIRL MAY BE RETURNED HOME

farce of adopting that young woman. Don't you think there is cause for taking her away from him?"

The possibility of some action through the district attorney of Queens county seemed to be eliminated when that official announced last today he had been unable to find any law which prohibited parents from selling their consent to an adoption.

Commissioner Coler acting, he said, upon criticism voiced in hundreds of letters, had presented the Mary Louise adoption to the district attorney for consideration.

Browning, through his counsel, issued a statement today charging Commissioner Coler was actuated by personal motives and intimating a libel suit follow.

"We attribute the attack to personal motives, which will come out in time," his statement said. "Coler and no one else has raised the question of ulterior motives."

Vincent Pissarra, a special agent of the society for prevention of cruelty to children, announced that a rigid investigation is being conducted into the conditions surrounding the adoption of Dorothy six years ago.

"We have no control over Mary because she is more than 16," said Mr. Pissarra, "but we have jurisdiction over Dorothy, and if we find that Browning is not a suitable man for a father, we shall take steps to revoke that adoption."

Mr. Browning denied he had any intention of adopting 12-year-old Sylvia Mullen who had announced she was to share her parental bounty with Mary Louise and Dorothy. Sunshine, and who further asserted she had spent the hours of her unexplained absence from her home last night in discussing details of her adoption.

Mr. Browning denied both the conference and its alleged outcome. "I will never adopt another child, boy or girl," he declared.

Associated Press.)—Building construction is shown in a labor department survey just completed to have caught up completely with the nation's housing needs, with indications beginning to appear that there is anger of overproduction and depression.

Ethelbert Stewart, commissioner of labor statistics who conducted the survey, declared tonight in summarizing the results that at the close of 1924, building in the country had gone ahead of the demand for the first time in several years.

A perplexing aftermath to the tragedy developed tonight when the undertaker to whose establishment Coe's body was sent reported that two young women had called, about an hour apart, each representing herself to be the widow of the dead aviator and each announcing her readiness to make funeral arrangements.

Their names and descriptions were withheld pending an investigation.
