Revenue Is Increased—
Since May 28 the Marion county clerk has turned over to the state treasurer $105 received as a result of the increase in the filing costs of divorce papers. The increase was authorized by the 1925 legislature and raises the fee from $5 and $10 to $10 and $15. Property or money involved in the case determines the cost. For amounts under $500, the cost is now $10, for over that amount the registration fee is $15.

Rumor Found Untrue—
Reports published in the Capital Journal recently to the effect that a sympathy strike was impending at the Salem hospital because of the departure of Miss Steele, superintendent, on September 1, were found to be untrue by the executive committee of the hospital which gave consideration to the matter yesterday. Besides the nurse and dietician, whose resignations had been submitted some time ago, none of the staff expressed a desire to leave.

Divorce Is Asked—
Eva May Tindall has entered suit for divorce from Charles M. Tindall, alleging cruel and inhuman treatment. They were married in Salem in October, 1914. They have one child, 22 months old. The plaintiff declares that her husband has struck her and cursed her on numerous occasions. She asks custody of the child, an undivided two-thirds interest in real property and the recovery of all her own personal household property.

Remains Sent South—
Remains of Nathan Starkey, 37, and his infant twin daughter, Leona Belle, seven months, were forwarded to Santa Cruz, Cal., from the Rigdon mortuary last night. The bodies were placed in a single casket, the baby resting on her father's arm. Mr. Starkey and the baby were killed last Friday when the machine he was driving left the highway eight miles south of Salem and crashed into a concrete culvert. A baby and girl were seriously injured, though several other members of the party escaped with minor injuries.

Board Meeting Postponed—
The scheduled meeting of the local school board failed to attract a quorum last night and the session was postponed until the next regular meeting date, August 25.

Power Rate Reduced—
Reduction in electrical power rates in the state ordered recently by the state public service commission and brings the tariff down to $27 per horsepower for requirements running to 4,000 horse power or more, will affect one Salem industrial plant—the Oregon Pulp & Paper company. The paper mill is the only Salem plant which uses the minimum requirement. The mill is now on a sliding scale, which, under the new rate, will entitle the company to a rate of $27 per horsepower when the mill's load reaches 4,000 kilowatts.

BRAMWELL FILES RETURN
PAPERS ATTACK POSITION OF LOCAL PUBLISHER

Frank C. Bramwell, state superintendent of banks, has filed returns and a demurrer to the alternative writ of mandamus in the circuit court, in the case of the State of Oregon in the relation of George Putnam, demanding the return of state banking headquarters to Salem. The papers were filed yesterday.

In the demurrer, Bramwell's attorney declares that the relator, George Putnam, is without legal capacity to maintain the proceedings and that there is another action pending between the same parties for the same cause. It is also declared that the writ of mandamus does not state or contain facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action against Bramwell, or entitle the relator to relief.

The case was started some time ago when Bramwell moved the banking headquarters from the Salem office to Portland. It is declared by Putnam that the move was entirely unauthorized and that it was done merely to accommodate the superintendent. The action has been carried on for a number of months, and a short time ago resulted in the assessment of a fine of $50 against Bramwell when he was charged with contempt of court in that he did not appear in court to show reason why he filed a motion for change of venue and a declaration that judge L. H. McMahon was prejudiced against him.

The case has been appealed from the circuit to the supreme court.

CHERRY ASSOCIATION
POOL RETURNS MADE
GROWERS RECEIVE 11 CENTS FOUND FOR RUIT

Market returns received by the Salem Black Cherry Growers' association indicate that the growers will this year receive slightly more than 11 cents per pound for the fruit packed by the association, it was announced yesterday by O. E. Brooks, manager. The association price is from 1 to 1 1/2 cents more than was paid by fruit brokers during the season.

Marion brand cherries packed by the association brought from 30 cents to a dollar more on the eastern markets than any other cars in competition with the local cars from any district. The only exception to the consistently higher prices received by the association was a car shipped from Hood River with the cherries faced in the boxes while none of the association cherries were so faced.

In one combination car carrying partly Marion brand cherries of the association and other cars of a competitor, the Marion brand brought 70 cents higher than the others. In one of the cars shipped 14 boxes were stolen en route and in another shipment a few boxes were missing when the fruit arrived at its destination. These constitute outstanding claims in favor of the association and when these are collected there will be more money for distribution to the growers above the 11 cents.

Of the seven cars shipped by the association two were sent to New York; one went to Boston; two to Pittsburgh, and two to Chicago. Six cars of Lamberts were sent out and one of Bings. About 160 tons were packed in all.

NEARLY MILLION REPRESENTED IN JULY BLAZES

Fire in Oregon during July, outside of Portland, caused an estimated loss of $921,030, according to a report from the fire marshal's department. Lumber mills and contents at Linnton, $500,000; Cherry City Milling, and Fred E. Wells' wood yard, Salem, $133,500, and mill equipment at Hood River, $100,000, were the heaviest losses.

The 38 fires included 28 dwellings and contents and 21 farm dwellings and contents, while the eight sawmills, equipment and lumber destroyed are valued at $629,725.

Overheated or defective flues caused 10 fires, rubbish and sparks 8, and open fires 7. Thirty-six of the fire causes are listed as unknown.

LABOR COUNCIL MEETS
DELEGATES TO STATE FEDERATION AUTHORIZED

The Salem Trades and Labor council is sending James Turner, president, and S. B. Davidson, business agent, as delegates to the State Federation of Labor in Marshfield August 24. The matter of financing the delegates occupied much time at the labor meeting last night. C. W. Brant was elected trustee to succeed Roy Blodgett, who recently moved to Bend. Several of the local unions reported that they were sending one or two delegates to the Marshfield meeting.

Dr. John E. Long, chiropractor, appeared before the council to obtain support of organized labor looking toward a change in the law that will permit men coming under the workmen's compensation act to go to a chiropractor if they desire and not be compelled to seek the services of a member of the medical fraternity. Dr. Long stated that bills sent to the state industrial accident commission for services rendered by a member of the drugless healing fraternity were not being recognized and the workmen were forced to pay for treatment where bills rendered by the medical men were allowed.

The Little Necessities
That Mean So Much

In the New Fall attire the little things play a far more important role than ever before. Milady must surely have at least two pairs of gloves for wear with her short jacket suit—And every frock or at least a large majority will not be complete without a collar and cuff set of lace or linen.

We have taken extra pains this year with the "necessities of dress."
