

MONTANA CONGRESSMAN PAYS VISIT TO HIS OLD HOME TOWN, FALLS CITY

He Taught School There in the Old Days, and Started the First Falls City Newspaper—Personal and General News of the Live City on the West Side of Old Polk

TURNER-TRIBUNE EDITOR CALLS ON ENTERPRISE

F. P. Rowley, a former resident of Falls City, now editor and owner of the Turner Tribune, was a visitor to the Epworth League institute last week, and called upon the Enterprise force. He was a Scout Master while here, and is still a Scout Master, bringing a group of his boys over for the week-end.

Old Friend Visits Editor

Among other attendants at the Epworth League institute was the Rev. J. Sandford Moore, who is now pastor of the Rockwood M. E. church. He was in Willamina in 1914, 1915 and 1916, and he and the Enterprise editor became firm friends. Mr. Moore called at the office last Monday, enjoying a chat over old times.

League Institute Successful

The Epworth League institute, which closed with the Sunday evening service, was about the same in point of numbers as the one held the year before, but in work accomplished was probably the best ever held. Two new departments were carried on this year, the Junior department, under the charge of Mary Findley of Salem, with 45 children under 14 years of age registered, and with a regular plan of Bible study, was very successful, and was carried out under plans worked out during the past year. A new department of study of intermediate and junior methods was under the direction of Mrs. McIntyre of First church, Salem, and had a large and successful class.

The sermons Sunday morning and evening were delivered by Dr. I. M. Hargett, and in the afternoon a gospel service was held. Miss Ferris, who is editor of the Epworth League Quarterly, came from Chicago, and her work was very pleasing. Many new faces were seen, both among faculty and students. All missed Blaine E. Kirkpatrick, and will be glad to know he plans to be present at the institute next year.

The work of cleaning up the grounds and putting away equipment is progressing rapidly. A number of stumps are being blown out and other changes made. The institute managers had to make a general cleanup before their members came this year, as picnic parties enjoying the park earlier in the season had neglected to leave a clean camp, though that is the unwritten law of good campers everywhere.

Falls City Hotel Changes Hands

On Wednesday, Aug. 12, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Wise and A. Van Adelson, who came here from Grand, Wash., took over the management of the Falls City hotel, which they recently purchased from Mr. and Mrs. George E. Robinson. The new proprietors have been engaged in the hotel and restaurant business for the last 20 years, operating in Salt Lake City, ferret places in Wyoming, and have been in Oregon most of the time for the past two years. They are planning to make several changes in the equipment of the hotel, and extend a cordial invitation to residents of the community to come in and get acquainted. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson go from Falls City to Oregon City where they will rest for a while before deciding upon definite plans for the future.

Leavitt Visits Old Home

Hon. Scott Leavitt, member of congress for the second district of Montana, is in the city the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Frier. Mrs. Leavitt has been here for several weeks visiting with her parents. They will leave Thursday for Montana where they will remain a month or six weeks before going to Washington.

Mr. Leavitt First Came to Falls City in January, 1901.

With Russell Davenport and Tom Dunsen, who all came west from Michigan, he took a homestead 20 miles from Falls City, south of the Grand Ronde Indian reservation, and they used to pack all their supplies in from Falls City. Mr. Leavitt taught school here in Falls City in 1901, 1902 and 1903. He also started the first newspaper in Falls City. The Leader, gathering the news and having the printing done in Independence. This paper was started to boost the community, and more especially to help in securing the railroad.

During this visit Mr. Leavitt has found many old-time friends, renewing acquaintances of years ago. He has a very vivid recollection of painting the Tice building, in which the Enterprise now has its home, as at that time he felt, breaking his leg.

Falls City has seen many changes since the coming of the railroad, people have come and gone, but all the early residents who come back write in praise of the people and the friendly spirit displayed in the early days. Those of us who have come later have much to live up to in perpetuating a good community spirit.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. John Chappell drove up from Tillamook and spent the week-end visiting relatives, also looking after their property here. Mr. and Mrs. Chappell are well pleased with the prospects for the Sanitary Bakery of Tillamook, in which they have acquired an interest, being associated with Fred Siewert, who formerly operated the Falls City Bakery.

Syvan Anderson, local mail carrier, has a new red cart with green wheels in which to transport the mail between the post office and the Southern Pacific depot.

Mrs. Wm. Ellis was over from Dallas, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Tice.

Mrs. Arthur Porter and children left on Tuesday for the Cooper Hop Yard, near Independence, where they will camp and pick hops. As Mrs. Porter has relatives there they enjoy a visit while on the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Koger and son Glenn, of Herlington, Kansas, returned from Fresno, Cal., last week for their second visit with their old friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bowman. They left Sunday for Portland and Central Oregon, where they expect to spend a few days. From there they will return to their home in Kansas, Mr. and Mrs. Koger were much impressed with this community, and regretted they could not make a longer stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Hancock Anderson and George, were over from Silverton for a week end visit at the J. A. Bowman home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Patton were Monday visitors in Falls City. They will soon come to get their home settled before the opening of school. Mr. and Mrs. Patton will be "at home" in "Peeply House" just east of the High school.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Otte and daughter, Mrs. Orrin Post, and her children, spent Sunday in Salem, where they went to visit Mrs. Oliver Jory, a neighbor of Mrs. Otte's in her girlhood when she resided in Brainerd, Minn. Mrs. Otte and Mrs. Jory's daughter, Mrs. Geo. Robinson were girlhood chums, and while visiting her during their recent visit in Brainerd Mrs. Otte learned of the mother's residence in Salem. The Robinsons are now on their way west, and will stop in Washington, probably coming later for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Otte.

Mrs. Rachel Camel and son, of Sheridan, were week end visitors at the home of E. A. Jones.

Miss Elsie Kneebone, who recently met with a severe accident while driving a horse for hay loading, is improving nicely, and will soon be able to return home from the hospital in Dallas.

Mrs. John Reasnor, of Dallas, was a Monday visitor at the home of her brother, E. P. Brown.

Ike Stewart, of Woodburn, is in town for a few days, making some repairs and improvements upon the Gem Theatre, for his sister-in-law, Mrs. M. A. Pugh. The theatre will have a new floor, so built as to give all a better view of the stage, and other changes will probably be made.

Henry Otte is again employed as engineer for the W. T. Grier mill at Pedee.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. White returned home Sunday from a vacation trip to Seattle and Tacoma. On their return they visited among other places in Raymond, Washington, Long Beach and Seaside, Nedonna and other Oregon Beaches.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Mather Smith,

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McDonald and son Ronald, were week-end visitors at the Smith cottage on Nedonna Beach. They report weather conditions ideal for swimming.

Much speculation resulted from the interruption of electric service last Saturday night. This was caused by an aerial pole belonging to W. H. Porter falling across the lines, causing a break and short circuit. The Gem Theatre had juice for the operation of the picture machine from the special D. C. line, while the office was lighted by "candle" power.

Emmitt Bainter and small daughter, Marjorie, drove up from Sheridan last Sunday for a short visit with Mrs. Bainter. While here they attended the Sunday meetings of the Epworth League where Mr. and Mrs. Bainter found several old friends from other parts of the state. Mr. Bainter's niece, Mrs. J. L. Hammer, returned home with them, after having spent a week here with Mrs. Bainter. A visit to Hazel Dell Ranch, the home of Roquefort cheese, proved very interesting, at least one member of the party was permitted to help milk the goats, and the small member of the party was very sure she needed one goat for a pet. The entire party sampled the Roquefort cheese, which they all liked, also drank goat's milk, and came away very favorably impressed.

Mrs. Bertha Spawm, and daughter, Mrs. Chas. Mattson, of Marshfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Jett, daughter Edra and her friend, Miss Pearl Thomason, from Washougal, Wash., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Mott.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Aurland returned home Saturday from Rickreall, where they have been for several weeks, as Mr. Aurland had a contract on a new building over there.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kersten were week-end visitors to Pacific City.

Miss Barbara Cable came out from Portland last week to attend the Epworth League institute. She is the niece of W. T. Brown, and will visit with Mr. and Mrs. Brown at their camp in McTimmond's Valley before returning home.

The many friends of Elton R. Frink will be pleased to learn that he is well on the road to recovery, following his recent severe illness, and the relapse after his first improvement, and is now able to sit up for a little while each day.

Miss Sybil Wilson, foster daughter of Mrs. L. K. Ford, who now teaches school in Los Angeles, arrived in Salem last week, having driven up with friends from Los Angeles, and has now gone to Newport where Mrs. Ford and Nelle Sears are on a vacation. She will come to Falls City with them in a few days, to finish her visit of two or three weeks.

Miss Mildred Thompson visited with Sybil Wilson in Salem last week.

Ted Harlan and friend, John Goble, were over from Blodgett Sunday, visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Harlan, at the Blue Bird Confectionery.

Mrs. M. L. Thompson returned from the Dallas hospital last Friday, and her hosts of friends will be pleased to know she is much improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Driggs had as guests last week Miss Marion Driggs, their grand daughter, and her friends Hazel Pro and Dorothy Sawyer, all of Salem, who were students at the Epworth League institute.

Last Sunday W. J. West drove to McMinnville where he was one of a party of forty-nine relatives who helped his Aunt, Mrs. Mary Wiegler, who resides in McMinnville, celebrate her eighty-third birthday. They had a picnic dinner in the Auto Park, and her children came from Portland, Newport and Amity, with other relatives from different places in the State to enjoy the occasion. Mr. West was station agent in St. Charles, Minnesota, 30 years ago.

and sold the family party tickets to the West and this occasion is the first time he had seen all of them since that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hudson and children visited relatives in Vancouver, Wash., last week, returning home Sunday.

Several of the high school girls enjoyed a party at the home of D. C. Ward Monday evening, where the D. S. girls practiced some of the cookery learned last winter. Those present were, Mrs. Ward and the Misses Isabel Hatcher, Bobby Hall, Roberta Hawk, Juanita Hawk, Frances Guthridge and Violet Hawk.

Mr. and Mrs. R. VanDenBosch were in town Tuesday from their ranch and mill near Pedee. They report everything fine, the planer recently installed as behaving nicely, but were in search of parts for the cream separator, which is operated regularly twice a day, regardless of other shut downs.

Mrs. L. R. Kimes has as guests this week her nephew, Walt Mason, and his bride, whose home is in Hillsboro. They have been travelling around "seeing Oregon first" and have visited almost every part of the state. After a short visit at the Kimes home they will go to Hillsboro, where they will reside.

Mrs. J. C. Moyer came over from Salem Saturday afternoon and has been the guest of her son, John Moyer, and Mrs. Moyer, returning to Salem Tuesday evening. Mrs. Moyer lived in Falls City many years, in fact the Moyers were here before Falls City was incorporated, so she still calls this home, and always enjoys meeting old friends and forming new friendships. Of course we are pleased that Mrs. Moyer likes the improvements in the looks of our city.

The Falls City Canning company expects to begin the pack on blackberries next week. Their first shipments of bartlett pears will arrive soon.

Bert Keller has gone to Portland to attend the annual camp meeting of the Free Methodist church. Mrs. Keller went down last week. They will return next Monday.

Randolph Butler, Dell C. Ward, Clarence Lee and Ben McDowell are the committee of the local lodge of Odd Fellows to meet with like committees from other lodges in Polk county to make arrangements for Polk county's participation in the meeting of the Sovereign Grand lodge to be held in Portland beginning Sept. 20th. They attended a committee meeting in Independence August 6th, and another in Monmouth the 10th, to make final arrangements. This committee has charge of the arrangements for banners, costumes, etc. to be used in the Grand parade. All the I. O. O. F. lodges in Polk county will march together.

Falls City has another park. The splendid fir grove just east of the grade school has been the scene of many neighborhood gatherings. Last Sunday the "Thompson and Gardner Park" was the meeting place for about twenty-five residents and former residents of Falls City, who enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Anna Gardner and Mrs. S. W. Wingo. Those present and partaking of the picnic dinner were: M. L. Thompson and family, Sol. Wingo and family, C. L. McSherry and family of Pedee, A. G. Ross and family of Valsetz, Albert Cook from Pedee, Mrs. Lot Gardner and children, of Valsetz, Mrs. Wallace Gottfried and Mrs. Anna Gardner. All present joined in praise of the delicious repast prepared by Mrs. Wingo and Mrs. Gardner.

A. H. Dodd was a visitor in Dallas last Thursday.

Miss Dorothy Guthridge returned last week from a visit to Trout Lake, at the foot of Mt. Adams. She was the guest of her Aunt, Mrs. Lillian Hill and her cousin Mrs. S. P. Osborne. Mrs. D. D. Bell of Independence, and Mrs. H. F. Pys, 106 Forest Grove were guests at the W. D. Bencroft home last Saturday. Miss Greta Chamberlain has returned to her home in Salem, after a few days' visit at the Geo. Chamberlain home. Mrs. Edith Flett is here from Modesto, Cal., for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Reiber and family. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Reiber are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son, July 29th.

CHEMAWA WOMAN DEAD

MRS. LILLIAN ILIFF MEETS DEATH IN ACCIDENT

OREGON CITY, Or., Aug. 12.—Mrs. Lillian Iliff, 69, of Chemawa, died in a hospital here this afternoon as the result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident on the Pacific highway three miles south of this city. Mrs. Iliff was riding in an automobile driven by her son, Joseph Iliff, acting superintendent of the Chemawa Indian school. The party was traveling south behind a large truck, driven by Arthur Widner of Portland. Mr. Iliff attempted to pass the van, but it turned suddenly to the left, forcing the automobile off the highway against the protruding rocks. Other members of the party which included Mr. Iliff's wife, daughter and son, all of Chemawa, were slightly injured.
