

WOMEN'S TENNIS TROPHY IS LOST

British Players Are Again Victorious In Play For Wighman Emblem

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 15.—(By The Associated Press)—The Wighman cup, emblem of international women tennis supremacy, goes back to England for another year's sojourn. Britain's feminine racquet wielders successfully defended the trophy today when they emerged victorious by the close margin of four matches to three at the end of the two day international tournament of the rivals.

The invading forces clinched their triumph in brilliant fashion when the doubles team of Miss Kathleen McKane and Miss Evelyn Colyer vanquished Miss Helen Wills and Miss Mary K. Browne, 6-0, 6-3, after the United States forces had staged a sensational uphill battle to square the series.

Holding a lead of two matches to one as a result of yesterday's play, the British forces increased their edge when Mrs. Lambert Chambers, veteran captain, conquered Miss Eleanor Goss, 7-5, 6-0, 6-1, in the first match this afternoon but spectacular singles triumphs by Miss Wills and Mrs. Molla Mallory at the United States back in the running until Britain's hurricane finish decided the issue.

Miss Wills gained the singles laurels of the series when she succeeded her leading British rival, Miss Kane in a tensely fought three set struggle, 6-1, 1-6, 9-7 while Mrs. Mallory turned in the other American victory today by downing Miss Joan Frye, 19 year old English girl, 6-3, 6-0.

TRAIN CRASH IS PROBED

ENGINEER IS BLAMED FOR SERIOUS RAIL ACCIDENT

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—(By The Associated Press)—A board of inquiry tonight placed blame for the accident at Sasalito today upon the engineer of the Northwestern Pacific railroad train which crashed into the rear of a two-coach electric train. Twenty-seven passengers were injured, four seriously.

A statement issued by W. S. Palmer, president of the Northwestern Pacific and chairman of the board of inquiry, said:

"Decision of the board of investigation places the blame upon the engineer of the steam train, and discipline will follow accordingly."

The board further found that the engineer of the steam train "approached the automatic signal protecting the rear of the San Francisco electric train at a speed too high to permit of his train being brought under control before striking the rear end of the electric."

C. H. Worth was engineer of the steam train. He has had 47 years of experience as a fireman and engineer and was eligible for pension next October.

Bits For Breakfast

Have you a theory? That is, about the escaped prisoners?

If you have, it is likely as good a guess as any. It is all guess work so far, or was up to a late hour last night.

Oswald West made a statement a couple of days ago that Warden A. M. Dalrymple was discharged from a minor position at the penitentiary when he was governor, intimating that he was glad to have him fired. Now comes C. W. James, county judge of Lincoln county, who was warden at that time, under Governor West and says Mr. Dalrymple was discharged; that he resigned of his own will. Which is the truth, of course. Mr. James knows. And Mr. Dalrymple knows. Mr. West does not like Mr. Dalrymple. They are both Democrats, but they belong to different factions of that party.

"Do you know," says The Salem Statesman, "that Salem is the world seed center?" Yes, we are perfectly willing to believe it. More people go to seed there than any place else.—Corvallis Gazette-Times. The Corvallis editor thinks that is funny. Let him enjoy himself. But The Statesman did not put it that strong. The idea was conveyed that Salem has a chance to become the world seed center, which it has. And the Corvallis district will be taken in as a part of the great

SEED TERRITORY. Then the country will go to seed to some purpose.

Here is a true story, reinforcing the fact that truth is stranger than fiction: A Salem man had occasion to drive past the penitentiary in his auto on Wednesday evening. He was accompanied by his wife. They went at the time when the bodies of the murdered guards were being removed. That was enough to get on the nerves and disturb the dreams of the wife, to say nothing of the husband. At about daybreak on Thursday morning, the wife heard what appeared to be a man walking and rummaging about upstairs in their house. The second floor was otherwise unoccupied that night. The husband wanted to go upstairs and investigate, but the wife would not listen to it; not for a moment. She was sure it was the escaped convicts from the penitentiary, and they would without a doubt shoot her husband if he ventured upstairs. So the walking and rummaging went on. Finally, after what seemed an age to the wife, the supposed man started down stairs, a slow step at a time. It was all very plain. There could be no mistake about some one being in the house. Then the supposed man knocked over a piece of furniture in the living room, with a loud noise. Finally, against the protests of the wife, the husband peeked through the door—and saw a large owl! The night bird had gained entrance to the upper rooms through a window that had been left open by some workman. Then the poor bewildered bird did not know how to get out; the difficulty no doubt increased with the coming on of daylight. They eyes of the owl are for seeing at night, and he has very poor sight in the day time. The hundreds of women who have been terror stricken by the possibility of a visit from the escaped prisoners will appreciate the feelings of the lady whose house was invaded by the innocent owl. The owl was assisted in finding his way out of the house, and was glad of the chance to get away.

STUPENDOUS FILM COMING TO GRAND

'The Ten Commandments' Returns Here At Popular Prices August 25

Featuring the last week of operation of the Grand theater under the present management "The Ten Commandments" will open a return engagement at popular prices at that show house August 25, and will remain on the bill here for the remainder of the month.

Throughout the country this super-production by Cecil B. DeMille has broken all long run records, although it was first presented in most cities at road show prices, and has been declared by critics everywhere to be one of the masterpieces of the screen.

Playing the "two-a-day" in New York City, it broke the record of 59 weeks which had been held by "The Covered Wagon," remaining at capacity business for 62 consecutive weeks. "The Birth of a Nation" was only able to last 44 weeks on Broadway, while "Way Down East," "The Four Horsemen," and "The Thief of Bagdad" held up for a lesser period. About 5,000,000 people have seen this remarkable picture since it was first shown at a two dollar scale.

In Los Angeles it held up for 31 weeks, Chicago and Philadelphia 20, Boston 14, San Francisco and Cleveland 8; while in Detroit, Washington and Cincinnati it played 5 weeks. Sidney, Australia stayed host to it for 20 weeks as did Melbourne; while Paris and Auckland, New Zealand greeted it enthusiastically for 10 weeks. Berlin, as impoverished as it was at the time, played the picture for 4 weeks, with the best seats selling at five dollars each.
