of the officers this encampment was the most successful ever established. The officers and enlisted personnel were declared to be especially competent. This was the second of a series of three camps. Resides the 382nd reserve inantry, officers of the medical. field artillery, dental, engineering and veterinary corps participated in the work. Administration. disciplinary drill and minor tactics occupied the attention of the men. When practicable, the air, tank artillery branches of the service were used to make the work more realistic and interesting.

On August 11 Major-General Khun, of the ninth corps area, reviewed the troops, in his last official connection with the army befire his retirement which is to take place soon.
