ONE OF THE MOST FETED of the season's brides-elect is Miss Luella Patton, whose wedding date—Thursday, August 20—was formally announced at the attractive 1 o'clock luncheon last week at which Mrs. Louis Lachmund was hostess. At the formal announcement luncheon, with pink gladioli in a crystal bowl centering the table, covers were placed for Miss Luella Patton, Miss Helen Moore, Miss Valerie Briggs, Miss Marie Briggs, Miss Molly Schwabauer and the hostess, Mrs. Louis Lachmund. Miss Patton, the fiancée of Ellis Carl Charlton, is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Cook Patton.

At a pre-nuptial shower of exceptional loveliness, with Mrs. R. L. White and Mrs. Armin Berger entertaining in Derby hall, Miss Patton was again the honor guest. Innumerable tall baskets of pink and white gladioli transformed the place, with a lavish "shower" streaming from a great spreading Japanese umbrella. Miss Molly Schwabauer and Miss Valerie Briggs cut the loaves while assisting in the serving were Miss Maxine Myers, Miss Cynthia Delano, Miss Pauline Marnach and Miss Lucille Pettyjohn.

Guests for the delightful affair were Miss Patton, Mrs. Herbert Hald of Portland, Mrs. Elwyn Craven (Dorothy Dick) of Dallas, Mrs. C. R. Knickerbocker of McMinnville, Miss Jennette Meredith, Mrs. Oral Lemmon, Miss Fay Wassam, Mrs. Florence Leed, Mrs. Reed Rowland, Mrs. George W. Nelson, Mrs. E. Cooke Patton, Mrs. H. L. Briggs, Mrs. Harry Weis, Mrs. Paul Marnach, Mrs. Margaret Montgomery, Mrs. Frederick M. Deane, Mrs. Richard Slater, Mrs. W. R. Rogers, Miss Audrey Romero, Miss Amanda Schwabauer, Miss Junette Jones, Miss Molly Schwabauer, Miss Valerie Briggs, Miss Helen Moore, Miss Ruth Moore, Miss Edna Vogt, Miss Bertha Babcock, Miss Amelia Babcock, Miss Pauline Marnach, Miss Florence Cartwright, Miss Lucille Pettyjohn, Miss Maxine Myers, Miss Cynthia Delano, Miss Ethel Ripert, Mrs. Prudence Prunk and the hostesses, Mrs. Berger and Mrs. White.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lutz and son Austin left last evening for their home in Harlowton, Mont., after a week visit with their aunt and niece. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Bennett of Paisley, Ore., were accompanied by Miss Vivian Chain who will stay with them for an indefinite period.

Contrary to earlier plans, the Writers' club will hold its regular meeting as usual tonight at the home of Prof. and Mrs. J. C. Nelson, 104 East Wilson street. The meeting will be in the nature of a porch gathering with a group supper at 6.

Miss Carolyn Wilson was the guest last week of Miss Carol Rahkopf in Portland.

Miss Marie Churchill returned home last week after a month's absence in southern California and northern Mexico. She made the trip from San Francisco north by boat.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Hixon and Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Quisenberry have gone to Seaside for a two weeks' vacation.

Twenty university girls were the guests yesterday afternoon of Mrs. Florian Von Eschen at her home on Court street when she entertained with a delightfully planned tea from 2:30 to 5:30 o'clock. Though largely a reunion, the affair was also a compliment to Miss Genevieve Findley, whose marriage to Mr. George Oliver will be an event of tomorrow. Some of the choicest flowers in the Von Eschen gardens,—Japanese gold band lilies and Mount Hood lilies, and gladioli in pastel shades,—decked the rooms and sun-porch. An additional guest of the afternoon was Mrs. Carl Gregg Doney. At five o'clock the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Invited for the tea were: Miss Genevieve Findley, Miss Margaret Legge, Miss Cooley, Miss Louise Findley, Miss Pauline Remington, Miss Marian Emmons, Miss Kathleen La Raut, Miss Jenelle Vandervort, Miss Mary Findley, Miss Mary Jane Albert, Miss Beryl Marsters, Miss Ruth Veichter, Miss Gladys McIntyre, Miss Frances Hodges, Miss Carolyn Wilson, Miss Carol Cheney, Miss Hilda Hageman, Miss Faye Sparks, Miss Marie Rostein, Miss Mildred Hansen, Miss Ruth Ross, Miss Mary Gilbert, Miss Edna Jennison, Miss Ruth Bedford, Miss Ruth Heinick, and Miss Elois Heinick.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Caughill are entertaining as their house-guests Mr. and Mrs. Roy Howard of Los Angeles.

The Auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans will have an afternoon today—Tuesday, August 18,—at the home of Mrs. Florence Shipp, 1162 North Fifth street. A large attendance is desired.

The Barbara Fricthe Sewing club will meet on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. E. Gilliam, 776 South Twelfth street. The meeting has been postponed from Tuesday, the regular day, on account of the death of Comrade Faulkner.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Schaefer and daughter, Bonnie, have returned from a trip to Mexico, California, and Canada. They were gone two and a half months.

The members and friends of the local WCTU are interested in the health program announced for 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in the hall on South Commercial street. An interesting feature in connection with the silver tea with the proceeds going to the Children's Farm home at Corvallis.

On Saturday afternoon, August 15, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Alexander, Miss E. Marjorie Alexander and J. Verns Chandler were united in marriage. Reverend Thomas A. Acheson officiating. Only relatives and a few intimate friends were present for the ceremony. Miss Alexander, who has an excellent position as a teacher of domestic science and art in California schools, will be remembered by many as a graduate of Salem high school and later of the Oregon Agricultural college. The groom is a well-known business man of Salem. After returning from a honeymoon trip up the Columbia River highway, Mr. and Mrs. Chandler will be at home to their friends in Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Starr, Mr. C. H. Long, Miss Jessie Starr, and Virgil Starr are home from a week's vacation at Oceanside. During the early part of the week members of the party were Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Spalding and daughter, Miss Lena Spalding, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Spalding and three children. Miss Lena Spalding remained throughout the latter part of the week as the guest of Miss Starr.

Mrs. S. C. Dyer has taken an apartment at the Court for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Findle are stopping at the Hotel Monticello while in Longview, Wash.

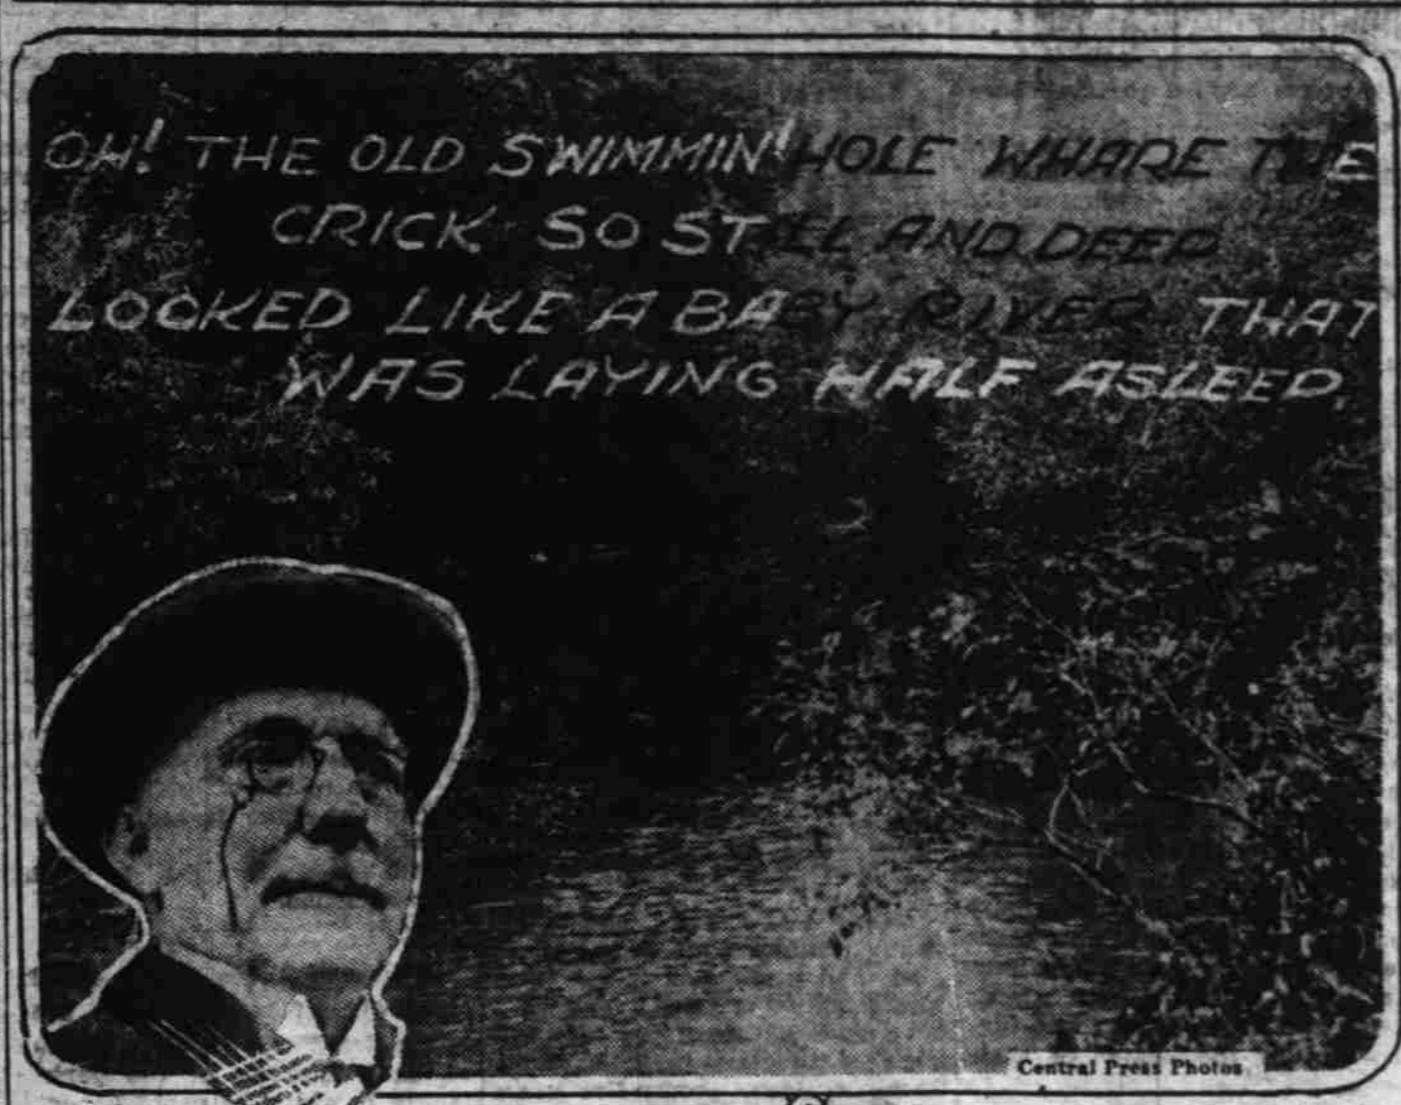

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Smart and children, Margaret and Jimmy, are home from a ten days' vacation over the Mount Hood Loop and to the beaches.

Miss Ella M. Bennett from Oakland, Cal., arrived in Salem Wednesday evening for a month visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Bennett on Fairview avenue. She was accompanied by Miss Marjorie Porteous, of San Francisco.

A beautiful wedding of the late summer and of interest to many throughout the state was that of Miss Anna Eugenia Ulen and Mr. Burton C. Bell, at 8:30 Saturday evening, August 8, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Ulen, No. 7429 82d street southeast. Rev. Charles P. Johnson of the Montavilla Methodist church officiated using the double ring ceremony.

"Old Swimmin' Hole" Now Memorial to Poet Who Made it Famous

The old swimmin' hole, which inspired James Whitcomb Riley's famous poem, and (inset) one of the last pictures of the late poet.

Greenfield, Ind., Aug. 17.—(By Central Press.)—This little Indiana town has at last realized its dream. For years it has wanted to erect some sort of lasting memorial to its favorite son, James Whitcomb Riley, the poet who is often called "America's Robert Burns."

The park is along Bruney wine creek, which was the favorite haunt of Riley when a carefree youth. "A poet of the people, his own people, was James Whitcomb Riley," says Greenfield. "Dreaming their dreams, singing their songs, sharing their joys, sorrows and fancies, he touched these things with the wand of his great genius and enshrined them in the heart of the nation. "He was to American poetry what Mark Twain was to American prose. "One measure of his success, but by no means the greatest, may be gauged by the fact that he was one of the few Americans who, having devoted their lives to poetry, was able to gain a fortune by it. "Not only in America, but in all the world, having children claimed Riley as their own. "All the sorrows, the happiness and the joy of existence, have been exercised in his pages, and countless thousands have laughed and cried over them. "He is the most widely read and best beloved of the singers of America. "Riley never married, but he was a lover of children, whose spirit he divined so intimately. "Perhaps some of the "Literary Critics" do not agree, but, Greenfield observes, what does it matter what the critics think, if the children love Jim Riley?

Dempsey's Ex-Stepmother Accused in Divorce on Eve of Marriage

Lotta Dexter Dempsey, former stepmother of Jack Dempsey, champion prizefighter, denies she was the sweetheart of F. Harold Freeman, as charged by Mrs. Lucy Stelle Freeman in a divorce suit filed in Los Angeles. The allegations were made on the eve of Mrs. Dempsey's departure for New York to wed Kirk Greenley, sportsman. She was divorced from Jack Dempsey's father some months ago.

The Old Swimmin' Hole

By James Whitcomb Riley
Oh! the old swimmin' hole!
Where the crick so still and deep Looked like a baby river that was laying fast asleep.
And the gurgle of the water
round the drift just below Sounded like the laugh of some thing we onc' ust to know
Before we could remember anything but the eyes
Or the angels lookin' out as we left Paradise.
But the merry days of Youth is beyond our control,
And it's hard to part forever with
the old swimmin' hole.
Oh! the old swimmin' hole! In the happy days of yore,
When I ust to lean above it on the old scamore,
Oh! it showed me a face in its
warm sunny tide
That gazed back at me so gay and glorified.
It made me love myself as I leaped to caress
My shadder smilin' up at me with sich tenderness.
But them days is past and gone,
and old Time's tuck his toll
From the old man come back to
the old swimmin' hole.
Oh! the old swimmin' hole! When
I last saw the place,
The scene was all changed, like
the change in my face;
The bridge of the railroad now
crosses the spot
Where the old divin' fog lays sunk and forgot.
And I stray down the banks where the trees ust to be—
But never again will they shade shelter me!
And I wish in my sorrow I could
strip to the soul,
And dive off in my grave like the old swimmin' hole.

NEWS NOTES MOVIELAND

"Open confession is good for the soul," was evidently the thought of the popular Florence Vidor (pronounced "Veeder") when she gave way to the following confession:
"For years the clothes I have been obliged to wear in my various movie roles have been my greatest bugbear. I have been criticized for the type of dresses I have worn in my pictures because they were said to be too conservative—'school teacherish'—they were called.
"Several times against my own better judgment, I yielded when some gown designer would tell me that I was wearing a 'school teacher' dress.
"Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Marsters of Roseburg, who recently motored to points in Eastern Oregon, stopped over in Salem one night to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Lane Morley. Mr. Morley is a sister of Mr. Marsters. They will return to Roseburg where Mr. Marsters is engaged in the Monument business, and Mrs. Marsters is employed as a teacher in the Roseburg schools.
A congenial group of intimate friends mostly Tennesseans met Sunday at Clate Pleasant's home in Dallas on the occasion of a recovery from a very severe sick spell by a brother, Ronald Pleasant. Thirty-two were present, coming from different sections, neither group knowing the others were coming. Many in the group had never met before. Others had been friends from one to 20 years.
Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Clate Pleasant, Edith Pleasant, Ruth Pleasant, J. C. Pleasant, Herbert Pleasant, Ronald Pleasant and Aug. Garland, Dallas; Mrs. Bertha Marsters, Hazel Marsters and Kenneth Marsters, Roseburg; Arvon Campbell, Alice Campbell, John Campbell, Hobart Campbell, Laura Campbell, Edith Campbell and Elwood Campbell, Cattle Mullins and Winford Mulline, Eugene; Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Morley, Josephine Morley, Danny and Tommy Morley, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morley, Oswald Morley, Ansel Morley, Ellen Morley, Lane Morley, Laurence Morley and Ellsworth Morley, Salem.
