

SOCIETY

By AUDRED BUNCH
Phone 106

SOCIAL CALENDAR

TODAY
Iowa Picnic, State Fairgrounds.
WRC and G.A.R. Annual all-day picnic at State Fairgrounds.

Sunday
Reunion of the Descendants of Jesse and Ruby Looney, Santiam Park at Jefferson.

ning for a delightful evening at the home of Miss Mary Erickson. The feature diversion of the evening was the making of prints from the camp pictures taken while the girls were on their holiday at Taylor's Grove. In the group at Miss Erickson's home were: Miss Marian Wyman, Miss Mabel Savare, Miss Elizabeth Fairchild, Miss Loreta Varley, Miss Ruth Stover, Miss Valdes Ohmart, Miss Bernice Mulvey, Miss Lucille Davis, Miss Irene Breithaupt, Miss Imogene Gardner, Miss Myrtle Smith, and the hostess, Miss Mary Erickson.

A delightful afternoon affair of yesterday was the informal tea at which Miss Gladys Wilson and Miss Carolyn Wilson were hostesses honoring Miss Ruth Bedford, who leaves early in September for Chicago where she will continue her musical studies. Cosmos, in the delicate pastel shades, filled attractive vases about the rooms. At the tea hour covers were arranged for the group in the dining room where ices were served.

Miss Jennette Honor Zell and Mr. Harold A. Baulig were united in marriage on Friday, August 14, with Reverend Z. C. Mower officiating. The ceremony was performed in the newly built and completely furnished home of the young couple at the corner of Nineteenth and Nebraska avenues.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Campbell plan to leave on Monday by way of Salt Lake City and Denver for Hutchinson, Kansas. They will also go to Kansas City and St. Joseph, Mo., prior to the return trip which will include a stop in Oklahoma City where they will attend the national convention of the First Christian church which is to be held there from the 8th to the 10th of October. They will arrive in Salem again the latter part of that month.

Six reels of motion pictures depicting scenes and outstanding events in Woodrow Wilson's career will be shown by the Memorial society at the First Christian church on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. While no admission will be charged, a silver offering will be taken.

Mrs. W. D. Fernald of Kansas City, Mo., was the house-guest early in the week of her cousin, Mrs. Frank E. Churchill.

Mrs. Jessie Robertson was the inspiration for the attractive afternoon tea which Mrs. N. C. Kafoory gave on Wednesday afternoon at the Kafoury home.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Stearns and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ashby are on a four day motor trip to Cascadia. They will return this weekend.

Dr. Mary C. Rowland has as her house-guest, her daughter, Mrs. Lewis Green of Portland. Dr. Rowland has just returned from a recent two weeks' vacation in Idaho.

The Turner Commercial band will give a concert at Turner, Or., on Saturday evening, August 22, in the S. P. Grove, west of the depot, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. In connection with the concert, the ladies of the Christian church will serve ice cream and cake. The proceeds will go to the Aid fund and be used for numerous good causes. Aside from the attractions of the band, Garland Hay, Christian minister of Stayton, and Reverend Shelley of Eugene, pastor of the Christian church at Turner, will take part in the program. Every one is welcome.

A group of about 30 young people gathered at the P. F. Stolzheim home in Salem Heights in honor of Miss Neva Stolzheim's birthday.

The evening was spent with games and music after which delightful refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served to the guests. Many beautiful gifts were received by the honor guest.

An unique birthday cake of Angel food with logs of chocolate cake built to represent a rail fence surrounded the angel food cake, in the center of which were placed the initials "N. S." in pink candles and candle holders, which were lighted during the early part of the refreshment hour.

Mrs. Christina Hansan of Silverton entertained Thursday of this week, honoring Mrs. J. Randall of Arizona. The guests were: Mrs. J. Randall, Mrs. E. Weaver, Mrs. O. S. Hauge, Mrs. K. Jensen, Mrs. J. Sapend, Mrs. G. Underdahl and son, Mrs. Dan Dybsetter, Louise Dybsetter, Charlotte Goplerud, Borghild Underdahl.

Mrs. Dan Dybsetter entertained last Wednesday in honor of Mrs. J. Randall of Arizona. Guests were Mrs. J. Randall, Mrs. E. Weaver, Mrs. O. S. Hauge, Mrs. Martha Gunderson, Mrs. Hans Jensen, Mrs. G. Underdahl, Mrs. C. Hansen, Mrs. J. Moe, Mrs. C. Baltimore, Mrs. J. Goplerud, Mrs. A. Hall, Mrs. G. Gunderson, Mrs. E. Olson, Annabelle Jensen, Borghild Underdahl, Louise Dybsetter, Charlotte Goplerud, Robert Hauge, Paul Dybsetter, Robert Olson, Maxine Olson, Lucille Hall.

"Do you think we are descended from monkeys?" "Certainly not," answered Miss Cayenne. "Monkeys have had neither the wealth nor the distinction to encourage us to claim them as ancestors."—Washington Star.

LODGES PICNIC SUNDAY

REBEKAH AND IOOF WILL SPEND DAY AT AURORA

Salem members of the Rebekah and IOOF lodges have been extended an invitation to attend a joint get together picnic at Aurora Sunday with other lodges of the northern part of the valley. Arrangements for the picnic which will be held in the River Bend park, have been made by the Western Hope Rebekah lodge No. 125, of Aurora.

Entertainment is being arranged by the Aurora Rebekahs. Reservations for tables and furnaces have been made with Dr. W. E. Hempstead, owner of River Bend park which is a new family recreation resort on Pudding river. Swimming, boating, shade and pure drinking water, are among the park's attractions which are all available to visiting Rebekahs and Oddfellows.

ment of the new dry staff was the appointment of Walton A. Green, former army officer, who assisted Mr. Andrews, who served as a brigadier general during the war in the formation of the military police in France, as the chief prohibition investigator, a new office, and the sending to the San Francisco district as federal administrator of E. C. Yellowley, chief of general prohibition agents whose office is abolished.

Mr. Green, who also is a former publisher of the Boston Journal, will be charged with the building up of a highly trained group of investigators, who will work on big conspiracy cases. They will be the "eyes in the field" for General Andrews to determine what results are being obtained from the expenditure of millions of dollars to enforce prohibition.

Besides Chief Investigator Green, the new appointees include Frederick Baird, former traffic manager of the Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad who will be in charge of the Pittsburgh district; Halsey Danwoody, formerly a colonel in the army, who has been engaged in business in France, in charge at Tampa; Herbert H. White, former army officer at Fort Worth, Texas; Robert E. Frith, former army officer at Los Angeles, and A. J. Hanlon, former army officer at San Juan, Porto Rico.

Administrators appointed include Elias Masters, former director for Idaho, Helena district, and Roy C. Lyle, former director of Washington state for the Seattle district.

ment of the new dry staff was the appointment of Walton A. Green, former army officer, who assisted Mr. Andrews, who served as a brigadier general during the war in the formation of the military police in France, as the chief prohibition investigator, a new office, and the sending to the San Francisco district as federal administrator of E. C. Yellowley, chief of general prohibition agents whose office is abolished.

Mr. Green, who also is a former publisher of the Boston Journal, will be charged with the building up of a highly trained group of investigators, who will work on big conspiracy cases. They will be the "eyes in the field" for General Andrews to determine what results are being obtained from the expenditure of millions of dollars to enforce prohibition.

Besides Chief Investigator Green, the new appointees include Frederick Baird, former traffic manager of the Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad who will be in charge of the Pittsburgh district; Halsey Danwoody, formerly a colonel in the army, who has been engaged in business in France, in charge at Tampa; Herbert H. White, former army officer at Fort Worth, Texas; Robert E. Frith, former army officer at Los Angeles, and A. J. Hanlon, former army officer at San Juan, Porto Rico.

Administrators appointed include Elias Masters, former director for Idaho, Helena district, and Roy C. Lyle, former director of Washington state for the Seattle district.

ment of the new dry staff was the appointment of Walton A. Green, former army officer, who assisted Mr. Andrews, who served as a brigadier general during the war in the formation of the military police in France, as the chief prohibition investigator, a new office, and the sending to the San Francisco district as federal administrator of E. C. Yellowley, chief of general prohibition agents whose office is abolished.

Mr. Green, who also is a former publisher of the Boston Journal, will be charged with the building up of a highly trained group of investigators, who will work on big conspiracy cases. They will be the "eyes in the field" for General Andrews to determine what results are being obtained from the expenditure of millions of dollars to enforce prohibition.

Besides Chief Investigator Green, the new appointees include Frederick Baird, former traffic manager of the Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad who will be in charge of the Pittsburgh district; Halsey Danwoody, formerly a colonel in the army, who has been engaged in business in France, in charge at Tampa; Herbert H. White, former army officer at Fort Worth, Texas; Robert E. Frith, former army officer at Los Angeles, and A. J. Hanlon, former army officer at San Juan, Porto Rico.

Administrators appointed include Elias Masters, former director for Idaho, Helena district, and Roy C. Lyle, former director of Washington state for the Seattle district.

ment of the new dry staff was the appointment of Walton A. Green, former army officer, who assisted Mr. Andrews, who served as a brigadier general during the war in the formation of the military police in France, as the chief prohibition investigator, a new office, and the sending to the San Francisco district as federal administrator of E. C. Yellowley, chief of general prohibition agents whose office is abolished.

Mr. Green, who also is a former publisher of the Boston Journal, will be charged with the building up of a highly trained group of investigators, who will work on big conspiracy cases. They will be the "eyes in the field" for General Andrews to determine what results are being obtained from the expenditure of millions of dollars to enforce prohibition.

Besides Chief Investigator Green, the new appointees include Frederick Baird, former traffic manager of the Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad who will be in charge of the Pittsburgh district; Halsey Danwoody, formerly a colonel in the army, who has been engaged in business in France, in charge at Tampa; Herbert H. White, former army officer at Fort Worth, Texas; Robert E. Frith, former army officer at Los Angeles, and A. J. Hanlon, former army officer at San Juan, Porto Rico.

Administrators appointed include Elias Masters, former director for Idaho, Helena district, and Roy C. Lyle, former director of Washington state for the Seattle district.

ment of the new dry staff was the appointment of Walton A. Green, former army officer, who assisted Mr. Andrews, who served as a brigadier general during the war in the formation of the military police in France, as the chief prohibition investigator, a new office, and the sending to the San Francisco district as federal administrator of E. C. Yellowley, chief of general prohibition agents whose office is abolished.

Mr. Green, who also is a former publisher of the Boston Journal, will be charged with the building up of a highly trained group of investigators, who will work on big conspiracy cases. They will be the "eyes in the field" for General Andrews to determine what results are being obtained from the expenditure of millions of dollars to enforce prohibition.

Besides Chief Investigator Green, the new appointees include Frederick Baird, former traffic manager of the Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad who will be in charge of the Pittsburgh district; Halsey Danwoody, formerly a colonel in the army, who has been engaged in business in France, in charge at Tampa; Herbert H. White, former army officer at Fort Worth, Texas; Robert E. Frith, former army officer at Los Angeles, and A. J. Hanlon, former army officer at San Juan, Porto Rico.

Administrators appointed include Elias Masters, former director for Idaho, Helena district, and Roy C. Lyle, former director of Washington state for the Seattle district.

ment of the new dry staff was the appointment of Walton A. Green, former army officer, who assisted Mr. Andrews, who served as a brigadier general during the war in the formation of the military police in France, as the chief prohibition investigator, a new office, and the sending to the San Francisco district as federal administrator of E. C. Yellowley, chief of general prohibition agents whose office is abolished.

Mr. Green, who also is a former publisher of the Boston Journal, will be charged with the building up of a highly trained group of investigators, who will work on big conspiracy cases. They will be the "eyes in the field" for General Andrews to determine what results are being obtained from the expenditure of millions of dollars to enforce prohibition.

LODGES PICNIC SUNDAY

REBEKAH AND IOOF WILL SPEND DAY AT AURORA

Salem members of the Rebekah and IOOF lodges have been extended an invitation to attend a joint get together picnic at Aurora Sunday with other lodges of the northern part of the valley. Arrangements for the picnic which will be held in the River Bend park, have been made by the Western Hope Rebekah lodge No. 125, of Aurora.

Entertainment is being arranged by the Aurora Rebekahs. Reservations for tables and furnaces have been made with Dr. W. E. Hempstead, owner of River Bend park which is a new family recreation resort on Pudding river. Swimming, boating, shade and pure drinking water, are among the park's attractions which are all available to visiting Rebekahs and Oddfellows.

ment of the new dry staff was the appointment of Walton A. Green, former army officer, who assisted Mr. Andrews, who served as a brigadier general during the war in the formation of the military police in France, as the chief prohibition investigator, a new office, and the sending to the San Francisco district as federal administrator of E. C. Yellowley, chief of general prohibition agents whose office is abolished.

Mr. Green, who also is a former publisher of the Boston Journal, will be charged with the building up of a highly trained group of investigators, who will work on big conspiracy cases. They will be the "eyes in the field" for General Andrews to determine what results are being obtained from the expenditure of millions of dollars to enforce prohibition.

Besides Chief Investigator Green, the new appointees include Frederick Baird, former traffic manager of the Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad who will be in charge of the Pittsburgh district; Halsey Danwoody, formerly a colonel in the army, who has been engaged in business in France, in charge at Tampa; Herbert H. White, former army officer at Fort Worth, Texas; Robert E. Frith, former army officer at Los Angeles, and A. J. Hanlon, former army officer at San Juan, Porto Rico.

Administrators appointed include Elias Masters, former director for Idaho, Helena district, and Roy C. Lyle, former director of Washington state for the Seattle district.

ment of the new dry staff was the appointment of Walton A. Green, former army officer, who assisted Mr. Andrews, who served as a brigadier general during the war in the formation of the military police in France, as the chief prohibition investigator, a new office, and the sending to the San Francisco district as federal administrator of E. C. Yellowley, chief of general prohibition agents whose office is abolished.

Mr. Green, who also is a former publisher of the Boston Journal, will be charged with the building up of a highly trained group of investigators, who will work on big conspiracy cases. They will be the "eyes in the field" for General Andrews to determine what results are being obtained from the expenditure of millions of dollars to enforce prohibition.

Besides Chief Investigator Green, the new appointees include Frederick Baird, former traffic manager of the Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad who will be in charge of the Pittsburgh district; Halsey Danwoody, formerly a colonel in the army, who has been engaged in business in France, in charge at Tampa; Herbert H. White, former army officer at Fort Worth, Texas; Robert E. Frith, former army officer at Los Angeles, and A. J. Hanlon, former army officer at San Juan, Porto Rico.

Administrators appointed include Elias Masters, former director for Idaho, Helena district, and Roy C. Lyle, former director of Washington state for the Seattle district.

ment of the new dry staff was the appointment of Walton A. Green, former army officer, who assisted Mr. Andrews, who served as a brigadier general during the war in the formation of the military police in France, as the chief prohibition investigator, a new office, and the sending to the San Francisco district as federal administrator of E. C. Yellowley, chief of general prohibition agents whose office is abolished.

Mr. Green, who also is a former publisher of the Boston Journal, will be charged with the building up of a highly trained group of investigators, who will work on big conspiracy cases. They will be the "eyes in the field" for General Andrews to determine what results are being obtained from the expenditure of millions of dollars to enforce prohibition.

Besides Chief Investigator Green, the new appointees include Frederick Baird, former traffic manager of the Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad who will be in charge of the Pittsburgh district; Halsey Danwoody, formerly a colonel in the army, who has been engaged in business in France, in charge at Tampa; Herbert H. White, former army officer at Fort Worth, Texas; Robert E. Frith, former army officer at Los Angeles, and A. J. Hanlon, former army officer at San Juan, Porto Rico.

Administrators appointed include Elias Masters, former director for Idaho, Helena district, and Roy C. Lyle, former director of Washington state for the Seattle district.

ment of the new dry staff was the appointment of Walton A. Green, former army officer, who assisted Mr. Andrews, who served as a brigadier general during the war in the formation of the military police in France, as the chief prohibition investigator, a new office, and the sending to the San Francisco district as federal administrator of E. C. Yellowley, chief of general prohibition agents whose office is abolished.

Mr. Green, who also is a former publisher of the Boston Journal, will be charged with the building up of a highly trained group of investigators, who will work on big conspiracy cases. They will be the "eyes in the field" for General Andrews to determine what results are being obtained from the expenditure of millions of dollars to enforce prohibition.

Besides Chief Investigator Green, the new appointees include Frederick Baird, former traffic manager of the Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad who will be in charge of the Pittsburgh district; Halsey Danwoody, formerly a colonel in the army, who has been engaged in business in France, in charge at Tampa; Herbert H. White, former army officer at Fort Worth, Texas; Robert E. Frith, former army officer at Los Angeles, and A. J. Hanlon, former army officer at San Juan, Porto Rico.

Administrators appointed include Elias Masters, former director for Idaho, Helena district, and Roy C. Lyle, former director of Washington state for the Seattle district.

ment of the new dry staff was the appointment of Walton A. Green, former army officer, who assisted Mr. Andrews, who served as a brigadier general during the war in the formation of the military police in France, as the chief prohibition investigator, a new office, and the sending to the San Francisco district as federal administrator of E. C. Yellowley, chief of general prohibition agents whose office is abolished.

Mr. Green, who also is a former publisher of the Boston Journal, will be charged with the building up of a highly trained group of investigators, who will work on big conspiracy cases. They will be the "eyes in the field" for General Andrews to determine what results are being obtained from the expenditure of millions of dollars to enforce prohibition.

Besides Chief Investigator Green, the new appointees include Frederick Baird, former traffic manager of the Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad who will be in charge of the Pittsburgh district; Halsey Danwoody, formerly a colonel in the army, who has been engaged in business in France, in charge at Tampa; Herbert H. White, former army officer at Fort Worth, Texas; Robert E. Frith, former army officer at Los Angeles, and A. J. Hanlon, former army officer at San Juan, Porto Rico.

Administrators appointed include Elias Masters, former director for Idaho, Helena district, and Roy C. Lyle, former director of Washington state for the Seattle district.

ment of the new dry staff was the appointment of Walton A. Green, former army officer, who assisted Mr. Andrews, who served as a brigadier general during the war in the formation of the military police in France, as the chief prohibition investigator, a new office, and the sending to the San Francisco district as federal administrator of E. C. Yellowley, chief of general prohibition agents whose office is abolished.

Mr. Green, who also is a former publisher of the Boston Journal, will be charged with the building up of a highly trained group of investigators, who will work on big conspiracy cases. They will be the "eyes in the field" for General Andrews to determine what results are being obtained from the expenditure of millions of dollars to enforce prohibition.

Miriam and the Golden Calf

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

Cecil B. DeMille's Cinemasterpiece

STARTS TUESDAY AUG. 25

GRAND

AT POPULAR PRICES

NEW TODAY

She'll Charm Everybody!

Tender and tearful, innocent and fascinating—that's Pola as the dazzling dancer in "The Charmer." From the novel "Mariposa." Her first picture under the direction of Sidney O'cott, producer of "The Humming Bird" and "Monsieur Beaucaire."

Grand Orchestra

"JUST A GOOD GUY" NEWS

Pola Negri IN "THE CHARMER"

GRAND

MOTORMATES

"Sustained Quality" as applied to Associated Gasoline and Cycol Motor Oil, means that these two products constantly and successfully meet the most rigid of operative tests. Regular use of the MOTORMATES assures you of efficient, economical motor operation.

ASSOCIATED OIL COMPANY
Deal with the dealers who serve you well—the MOTORMATES dealers. They are named below.

- Salem
Geo. E. Allen
A. M. Anderson, Route 8
Anderson & Adams
Buckeye Service Station
Boustele Motor Co.
E. Belle
A. Davis
Frohman Bros.
W. B. Gerth, West Salem
Highland Grocery Co.
Ira Jorgensen
A. E. LaBranche, Route 6
L. C. Mitchell, Route 6
C. W. Pugh, Route 8
A. D. Olson, West Salem
Valley Motor Co.
W. A. Wilcox
John Williamson
O. J. Wilson
Riverside Service Station, West Salem
Zosel's Tire Shop
Ball Bros., Turner
- Oregon Grain Co., Aumsville
Boone Service Station, Aumsville
Yeoman Bros., Stayton
Henry Rauscher, Sublimity
W. A. Heater, Sublimity
Knight Bros., Jefferson
McKee & Warner, Jefferson
Irwin Bann, Independence
R. E. Derby, Monmouth
Hazen Bros., Silverton
Silverton Lumber Co., Silverton
Lima Flouring Mills, Silverton
Wm. Frodoek, Mt. Angel
E. G. Emmett, Mt. Angel
J. P. Jensen, Monitor
Earl's Garage, Scotts Mills
W. B. Nutting, Gervais
N. Becker & Son, Woodburn
E. L. Patton, Woodburn
Dewey Payne, Woodburn
E. E. Watkins, Hubbard
Stoner Bros., Aurora
C. H. Ernst, St. Paul
Julian De Jardine, Homers

The Smart Shop
115 N. Liberty
Presenting Dresses
Coats
Millinery
for the Woman and Miss
TRULY ARISTOCRATIC IN THEIR SUBDUED ELEGANCE AND PERFECT TASTE.
Fall Opening NOW SHOWING

STARTS TODAY
HOT TAMALE! WHAT A SHOW!
GOLLEEN MOORE
in The DESERT FLOWER
Don Mullally's Stage Play
WITH LLOYD HUGHES and KATE PRICE
Bubbles of mirth—Sensuous strains from a romantic rouser—A thrill—Surprise—All the fun and pep of a firecracker—All the beauty of a flower that gives and blossoms in the desert sun—but NOT to be uprooted.
O-R-E-G-O-N
THE HOME OF QUALITY PICTURES
THE SPATS FAMILY IN "WILD PAPY"—McDONALD AT THE WHEELER—NEWS
TODAY SUNDAY MONDAY