

SALEM SOCIAL NEWS

By AUDRED BUNCH, Phone 106

TO have reached the ages of 90 and 88 years, and to have completed 65 years of married life is the good fortune of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Elwell, who celebrated the event with a family reunion on Tuesday evening, September 2, at the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. McClean at 2720 Cherry avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwell were married 65 years ago, in New Hampshire in a town of the antique name of Farm Worth Iron Works. After their marriage they settled in Roscoe, Minn., going thence to Red Wing, the home at which their children were born. Two sons and two daughters make up the family, one son being unable to attend the reunion on Tuesday. For the past five years Mr. and Mrs. Elwell have made their home in Salem, having traveled from ocean to ocean to take up their residence.

Roses and marigolds, in shades of red and gold, were used in the decorative scheme at the anniversary dinner. A beautiful ceremonial feature of the evening was the bringing in of a miniature altar, with bride and groom, and placing it on the table with the elaborate wedding cake, iced in gold, bearing the dates 1860-1925, and surmounted with 65 glowing candles. The anniversary cake was baked for the occasion by Mrs. G. W. Logan. After the close of the dinner the honor guests recounted the experiences of their honeymoon days. Both have retained their unusual activity through their late years, and both are as mentally alert as those many years their junior.

Auxiliary to Meet

Hal Hibbard auxiliary will meet at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, September 4, at the home of Mrs. Leroy Hewlett, 575 North Summer street. All members are urged to be present for the opening meeting of the new season.

S. S. Elects Officers

The annual election of officers in the Sunday school of the First Methodist church took place at the board meeting on Tuesday evening. The resignations of Miss Flora Bleber as superintendent of the intermediate department and Mr. Paul Johnson as general secretary, were accepted. The report of the nominating committee was accepted by the board and the following officers for the new year were duly elected:

For general superintendent, H. F. Shanks; first assistant, Miss Grace E. Smith; second assistant, Dr. J. D. McCormick; board secretary, (to be chosen by board); general secretary, Miss Dorothy Ellis; assistant secretaries, (to be chosen); general treasurer, Walter Marsters; assistant treasurer, Kenneth McGueren; librarian, Mr. Usher; superintendent home department, Mrs. M. E. Oakes; superintendent cradle roll, Mrs. H. F. Shanks; superintendent temperance department, Miss Amy Martin; superintendent missionary department, Mrs. J. W. Beckley; superintendent of enrollment, H. W. Swafford; cradle roll superintendent, Mrs. Shanks; beginners' superintendent, Miss Margaret Fisher; primary superintendent, Mrs. Ray L. Farmer; Junior superintendent, Mrs. O. L. McIntyre; intermediate superintendent, (to be supplied); senior superintendent, Miss Laura Hale; young people's superintendent, Dr. C. Glover; adult superintendent, Dr. B. E. Blatchford.

Portland Folk Are Guests

Mrs. Henry Lee entertained as her guests early this week Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Tarpley, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Martien and son, Richard, all of Portland. Mr. Tarpley and Mrs. Lee are brother and sister.

Miss Johnson Is Guest

Miss Olga Johnson of Albany is the house guest of Miss Margaret Stolz at the W. T. Stolz home.

Miss Stolz and Miss Johnson are Kappa Alpha Theta sorority sisters at the University of Oregon. Miss Stolz has entertained at a number of informal affairs for her guest.

Eastern Star Has Meeting

The first business meeting of the Eastern Star since the summer vacation interval was held on Tuesday evening in the halls. The chief business of the evening dealt with plans for a dinner on September 15 to honor members of the Masonic Temple building committee, who have made some greatly appreciated innovations during the summer. The two Masters of the Grottoes of the two Masonic orders, with their families, are also invited. A large part of the evening was spent in the consideration of business matters which had accumulated during the summer. In honor of Mrs. Annetta Williamson of Portland and of Al H. Steiner an impressive memorial service was held. A large number of visitors, belonging to chapters of the Eastern Star, both in California and the east, met with the group last night.

WOMEN Met Yesterday

The Women's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church met for the regular September meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. E. Carrier on Court street. Mrs. E. S. Hammond conducted the devotions, while the lesson was given by Mrs. J. W. Beckley. Mrs. C. F. Wilson, the president, presided. At the business meeting the group planned a Christmas box for the Beckendorfs, who are missionaries in the Philippines. Miss Myrtle Maxwell, who left yesterday afternoon for the east, told in an interesting manner of her work as a deaconess in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The social committee assisting the hostess at the tea hour included Mrs. F. H. Thompson, chairman; Mrs. W. T. Riedgen, Mrs. H. H. Vandewort, Mrs. J. H. Baker, Mrs. Herrick and Mrs. C. A. Downs.

B. P. W. Dinner

With the return of the delegates who attended the seventh annual convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs at Portland, Me., a dinner meeting for all members of the Oregon federation will be held in the Multnomah hotel ballroom Saturday at 6:30 p. m., September 12. Reports will be heard regarding the national convention activities. Miss Louise M. Hacker, state president, will preside. National Vice President Mrs. Alice B. Maloney of Marshfield being toastmistress. The Portland (Maine) convention is reported as one of the best in the history of the federation and it is anticipated that large groups from the state clubs will attend the dinner, for the meeting is of great interest.

Miss Adella Prichard, who has been national president for the past two years, and who has just returned from New York where she turned over to her successor, Mrs. Olive Joy Wright of Cleveland, Ohio, the newly elected president, such matters and affairs as pertained to the office, will be the honor guest, together with other members who have just returned from the east, and will tell of their experiences; Mrs. Sadie Davis of the local club; Miss Martha Gash, who was state convention chairman and represented Oregon on the national executive council; Mrs. Josephine Forney, national publicity chairman; Dr. Mary Purvine, ex-president of the Salem club; Mrs. LaRue Ross and Miss Grace E. Smith of Salem.

Members may take guests, all reservations to be made by mail to Miss Ann Sherlock, 711 Corbett building, by September 10.

Miss Dorothy Moore is entertaining as her house guest her friend, Miss Betty Roberts of Seattle.

Miss Sylvia Woods is home from a two weeks' vacation spent with friends in Corvallis and Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Park returned the first of the week from a four-day motor trip to Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Knighton visited over the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Waters.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Elliott returned home on Monday from a week's vacation at Seaside.

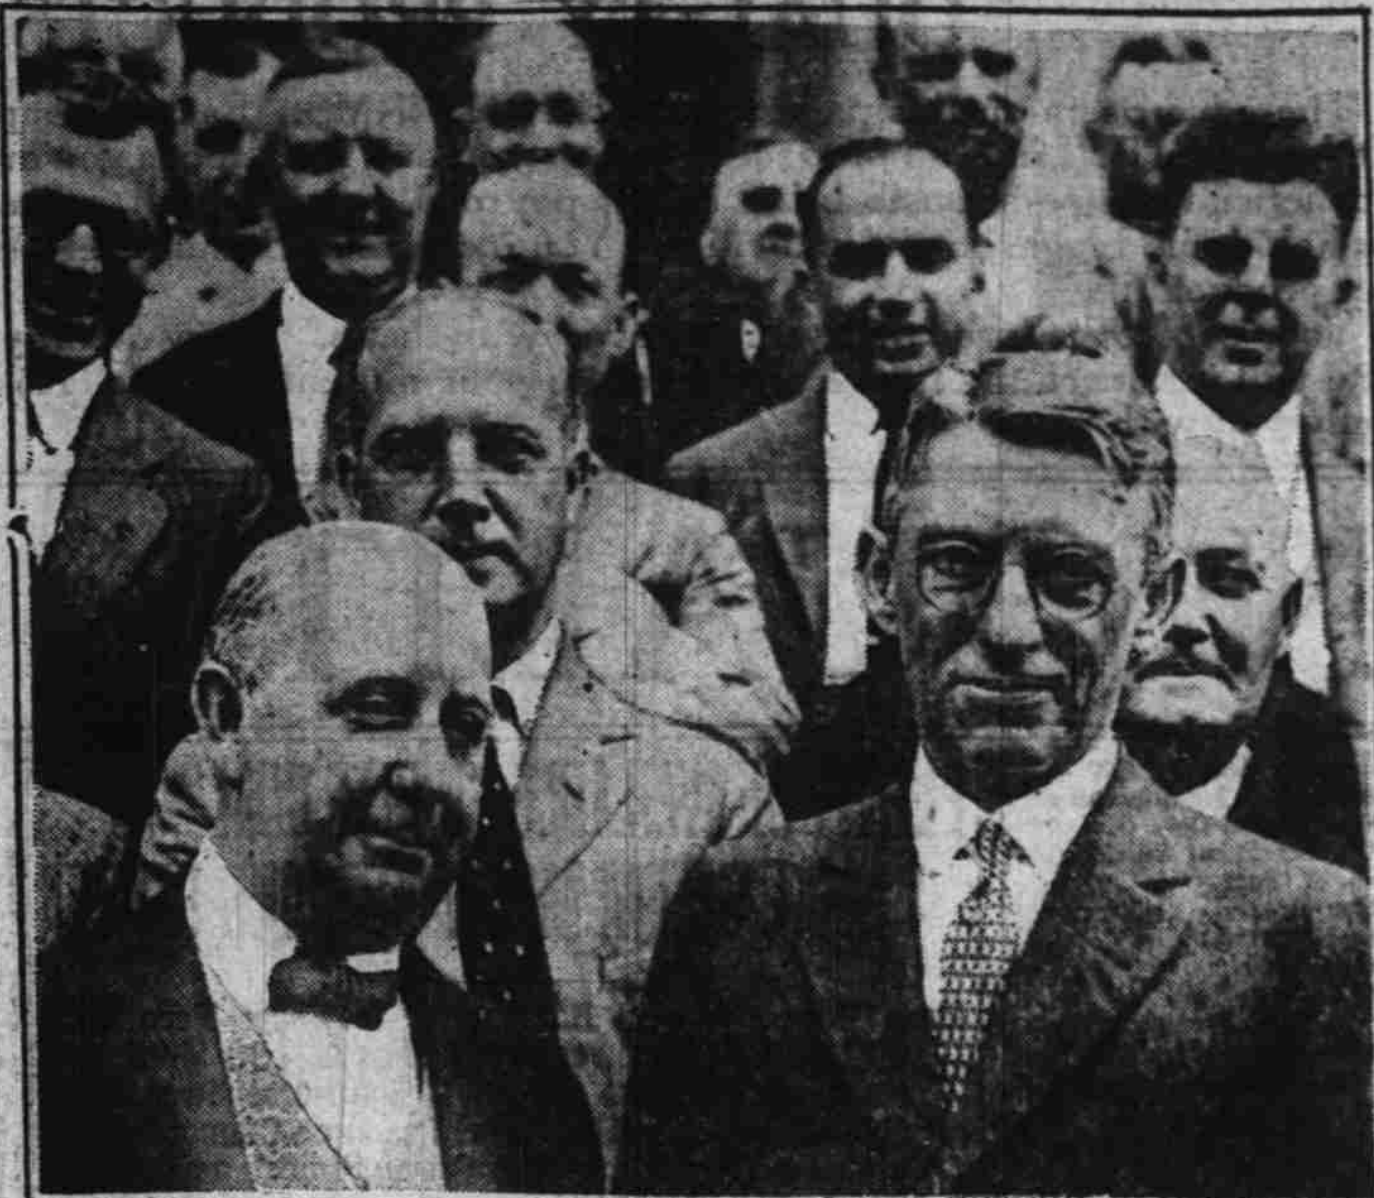

What is more, the great wheels up there in the Cascades, in the Oak Grove plant, will always give Salem her quota of power just the same as they will give Portland hers; in proportion to the use made of it in the motor driven machinery of the two cities.

As Much As All Salem And Salem's use of it will no doubt grow fast. The power used for machinery and lights by the Salem paper mill equals the volume used in all the rest of Salem—partly because the heavy load in the rest of the city is for only about eight hours; while in the paper mill, it is steady during all of the 24-hour day. This explains why power for such factories can be supplied at a much lower rate than must apply to power for machinery and lights that have their peak loads once in a day, and for the greater part of the 24 hour day use little or no power at all.

from the eastern ends of both Clackamas and Marion counties; about as much from Marion as from Clackamas—and a good deal of it from Marion county comes from the eternal snows of Mt. Jefferson.

Birthday Reunion

More than 25 persons from wide distances throughout the state, and from California, met on a recent Sunday for an all-day reunion, the occasion being the birth day anniversary of Ed Taylor. The first plans were to have the affair a surprise for Mr. Taylor in Taylor's grove at Mehama, but weather conditions made it necessary to meet indoors. An elaborate dinner was served at noon, with the afternoon spent in visiting and recounting experiences.

Those present were Ed Taylor, Elizabeth Taylor, Elmer Taylor, Marion Taylor, Martha Taylor, W. A. Taylor, Rosa Taylor, Walter Taylor, Nina Taylor, Elva Taylor, Edwin Taylor, Kate Taylor, Mari-an Taylor, Ada Jerman, Mary Ann Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Mosher and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Patton and daughter, Vernon Patton, May Patton, Alta Bonn, Frank De Pew, Orpha De Pew, Frank De Pew, Jr., Cleve Wagner, Lucille Richards, Mr. Erickson and Elizabeth Latham.

Mrs. Mary Ann Baker, Mr. W. A. Taylor, and the father of the honor guest, Ed Taylor, and owner of the popular mountain resort, "Taylor's grove" at Mehama, Marion Taylor were together on this occasion for the first time in many years. The two brothers and the sister are the surviving members of the old Taylor family. Mrs. Baker is of Oakland, Cal. Miss Bonn is of The Dalles, while the De Pew family came up for the occasion from Springfield, Ill.

Kantners in Portland

Reverend and Mrs. W. C. Kantner and daughters, Miss LaVerne Kantner and Miss Constance Kantner, were guests over the past week-end in Portland. Dr. Kantner had charge of the services at the First Congregational Church in Portland and had the pleasure of renewing acquaintance with many friends. Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Branson entertained for the pleasure of the family at dinner at the Morris Hotel.

Reception for Pastor

Members and friends of the Central Congregational church are anticipating the reception planned for the honor of Reverend and Mrs. H. C. Stover upon their return to Salem to assume the pastorate of the Central church. The original plan for the reception, which was to have been held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Reid on 17th street, has been changed and the gathering will now be held in the church parlors at 19th and Ferry streets. On account of the September chill it was felt that an outdoor reception in the evening would not be pleasant for those in attendance.

The reception will open at 7:30. There will be a brief program and refreshments will be served. Mr. and Mrs. Reid, two of the oldest members of the congregation, will be host and hostess for the occasion. It is expected that all former members and friends will take advantage of this opportunity to greet the new pastor and his wife as he again takes up the oversight of Central congregation.

Rev. and Mrs. Stover arrived from Freewater on Tuesday evening and are already located in the parsonage which they formerly occupied for so many years.

Grax Party at Y. W. C. A.

Delightful among the social events enjoyed by the members of the Grax club was the party Monday evening at the Y. W. C. A. After a social hour the group adjourned to the dining room where a dainty luncheon was served. Each table was tastefully arranged. The center table, around which the others were placed in a square, held a basket of flowers with streamers extending to each of the other tables. The napkins and streamers alike were in pastel shades. Special guests of the group were: Miss Hackett, Margaret Hogg, and Esther Diefenbach. The members present were: Miss Marian Wyman, Miss Loretta Varley, Miss Lillias Rowe, Miss Imogene Gardner, Miss Mary Erickson, Miss Valleda Ohmari, Miss Irene Breithaupt, Miss Myrtle Smith, Miss Clementine Charles, Miss Angeline Smith, Miss Bernice Mulvey, Miss Roberts, Miss La Vinla Buirgy, and Miss Ruth Stover.

Under Three Flags

Via Long Distance

"Hello, hello! give me Havana, Cuba," was the direction given to his switchboard operator recently by Senor A. Barranco, Mexican Consul General in Ottawa, Canada. Within 15 minutes he was talking to Havana.

The call went to Montreal, then through New York, Richmond, Va., Jacksonville, and Key West, Fla., and for 90 miles under the sea to Havana. To send a letter this distance and receive an answer would take at least two weeks. By the use of the telephone it was possible to have a personal conversation with a quarter of an hour.

Mathewson returned to the mountains from the offices of the Boston Braves several weeks ago after the tedious duties of being president to the struggling ball club had so taxed his strength that a breakdown was feared. Matty had come back previously to baseball's ranks in the role of magnate after devoting many months to regaining his health. Let's hope that he retains his renewed strength and vigor for many years.
