

County News in Brief

Stayton

Bert Munkers returned to Stayton on Saturday of last week after an absence of several months spent at Klamath Falls. Mr. Munkers returned to the Willamette valley to take his usual share of work in the hop fields in this section of Oregon.

A. J. Rifer, an expert-beauty operator, has opened an office in Mrs. Dana Mock's millinery store, and is meeting customers in: hair dyeing, marcelling, scalp and facial massage, etc. She has had 16 years experience in her line of work, and is offering the public the benefit of her knowledge.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schaefer who have for the past five days been visiting at the homes of his brothers, B. A. Schaefer and C. E. Schaefer left Wednesday morning for their home near Dayton, Ore., where they reside on one of the prosperous farms in that vicinity.

James P. Davie, a paralytic invalid, who is confined to his bed the greater part of the time, dropped the burning head of a match on his shirt-front while attempting to light his pipe Tuesday, burning a good sized hole through his garments and the bed clothing; the heat reaching his flesh, attracted his attention to it. He called to his wife who was busy about the home and the fire was extinguished before any great damage was done. However the story might have had a very different ending.

Stayton friends of Mrs. Wm. Lake have been notified of her serious illness at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Susan Caplinger in Salem. For the past two years Mrs. Lake has been suffering intermittently from leakage of the heart, and was recently taken to Salem for treatment, but little hope is being held out for her recovery.

Owen Smith and his sister Miss Eva Smith; Edward Clark, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Day were called to Salem early in the week by the serious illness of Mrs. Lake, who is the mother of Edward Clark, and a sister to Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

Otto Limbeck who was seriously injured by a gun shot wound while hunting at his farm 5 miles south of Stayton, last Sunday afternoon, is reported to be improving. Mr. Limbeck and a young son of George Chrisman were hunting squirrels on the farm where the Chrisman boy fired, not noticing that the older man was in range. The shot took effect in Mr. Limbeck's face and shoulder causing a deep and painful wound. The injured man was hurried to an Albany hospital where his wounds are being cared for.

The beautiful new seven room residence being constructed by A. S. Walters in the east end of town is about completed and ready for the stucco finish. The new structure is one among Stayton's best residences and is built at a cost of about $4000.

The new $7000 residence of Geo. H. Bell is also rapidly taking on a home like look, and work is being rapidly pushed forward in order to reach completion before rainy season sets in. This is a beautiful addition to Stayton pretty homes.

R. H. A. Beauchamp and wife had a narrow escape from instant death on Saturday. They were passing a skid road where logs are sht down the mountain side at a great velocity of speed when they saw a log swing onto the skids. They were signalled to proceed, which they did and in some manner, either by mistake of carelessness the log was released and hurried down the mountain directly upon them, striking the front of the car in its mad career, completely wrecking it. By a miracle only the Dr. and his wife were uninjured.

Forrest Mack and wife made a business trip to Portland Wednesday where they spent the day returning home in the evening. Revival meetings at the M. E. church are continuing nightly. The meetings are in charge of Evangelist Walter Tullis, who is delivering the message in a forceful manner. The pastor Rev. Linn is a strong assistant in the work.

Everything wise has probably been thought and said, and all we moderns can do is to exhibit old thoughts in new lights and shades.

SIMPLE PROGRAM OUTLINED BY "Y"

The YMCA program for Marion county during the coming year will be more simple than before but will contain many attractive features of boys' work, according to announcement yesterday by Benjamin J. Kimber, county YMCA secretary. At least one pioneer club will be organized in every town, and in addition "Friendly Indian" clubs will be organized for boys of the ages of 9, 10, and 11.

The year's program includes four county rallies, two track meets, a hobby show, a bird house contest, and a county circus.

In the hobby show, which is a new feature, each boy will present some article, made by himself, in pursuance of some particular hobby. Amateur radio sets, or anything else dear to the youngster's heart, will be entered in the show which will be moved about from place to place in the county, allowing every town an opportunity to see it.

The bird house contest will be staged along similar lines. The bird house contest has been arranged in previous years.

The county circus—also a new idea—will consist of stunts from various clubs throughout the county.

Cantaloupe Preserves—Use small nutmeg cantaloupes. Peel and quarter them. To each pound of fruit allow one pound of sugar. Boil the sugar to a thick syrup, then add the fruit and boil until quite thick. About an hour before taking it from the fire add two or three pieces of preserved ginger cut small, and two lemons sliced thin. Seal in airtight jars.

country. Originality and initiative will be developed in the circus, Mr. Kimber states. Many of the stunts are expected to be "take offs" on various of their elders' institutions.

The Friendly Indian clubs will meet once a week, and have programs similar to the Pioneer clubs, except that they will be for younger boys and "have more the spirit of adventure in them," according to Kimber. The boys will sit on the floor at their meetings, he says, perhaps pass a pipe of some kind around. They will have many of the regular insignias and customs of the Indians.

The Hi-Y program for the county will be more extensive than ever before, Kimber declares. There will be a series of speakers arranged for high schools in the county. "This is a feature asked for by the boys themselves," he says. "It is being worked out according to their own request."
