

LARGE REUNION IS HELD AT JEFFERSON

Family Joins in Honoring J. B. Looney; Over 100 Attend Meeting

The descendants and relatives of Jesse and Ruby Bond Looney held a reunion Sunday, August 23 at the Masonic hall in Jefferson, nearly one hundred attending. They met in honor of J. B. Looney, the only living member of the family who crossed the plains in 1842; and also to honor the birthday of Jesse Looney Steiwer, son of Susan Steiwer, eldest daughter of Jesse and Ruby Looney.

There was a long table set the length of the hall, and bounteous feast was spread upon it. After grace, a toast was drunk to the health of John Looney and Jesse Steiwer, and Addie Looney Fairbanks of California, following this, letters of congratulations and regrets were read from the absent members: Mrs. Addie Looney Fairbanks, Willits, Cal.; Mrs. Anna Bond Reed, Lebanon; and Frederick Steiwer, Pendleton.

Mrs. Mary Looney, of Linn county, who crossed the plains in '49, was present with children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren. Every branch of the family was represented, with exception of the Fairbanks' family of California.

After dinner an organization was perfected of the descendants and relatives of Jesse and Ruby Looney, and the following officers elected:

John Looney, honorary president; D. H. Looney, president; Jesse L. Steiwer, vice president; Ruby Cornell Griffith, secretary; Karl Steiwer, treasurer; Guy Looney, chaplain; Lona G. Looney, historian.

forward with pleasure to the next meeting.

Famine Victims on Island in Japan Eat Ground Bark

TOKYO—A commission which recently returned from the Loo-choo islands, which lie between Japan and Formosa, reported that the inhabitants have been reduced to abject misery because of the scarcity of food this year. Many of them, it was stated, are eating the bark of banana palms ground into powder. It is now proposed that the unfortunate residents be permitted to use the sugar and sake taxes, amounting to about 3,000,000 yen, for the purchase of food.
