THE LOVE THAT SAVES:—For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. John 3:16.

GROWING SUGAR BEETS IS PROFITABLE

(A friend of the Slogan editor sends clippings from two Idaho newspapers. The first one is in part as follows:)

"Amos George, who lives near the highway about six miles south of Pocatello, believes in raising sugar beets. He had a field last year that went 10 tons to the acre, and the crop he has this year he thinks will make at least 14 or 15 tons on the average. Last year's crop was raised on a piece of land that had been in peas, which left it weedy. The beet crop, with the cultivation it got, enabled the farmer to clean up the land. He finds that while the beets take a little more work, they are ready to help clean out the weeds. They are also a sure crop if they are given proper and persistent cultivation and are watered at the right time."

(The second one contains the following statements:)

"It is estimated by a conservative man who has had much experience in that business that a certain 90 acre field of beets near Lincoln will yield enough tons to bring the total return from the field up to $10,000, with the beets figured at the contract price of $6 a ton."

"He says further that the total return from that land, in the sugar that those beets will produce, will be about $25,000 or a little less than three hundred dollars an acre. Most of that money will stay right in this section where it was produced."

"It doesn't take an economic genius to see that production of that kind will develop a prosperous country. That amount of money being taken from an acre leaves a good return on the investment in land and water and pays living wages to the people who handle the crop."

"There is one other point worth considering in connection with the growing of sugar beets. The product that is eventually sold is a concentrated one. Its gross value is liable to less reduction from freight charges than other commodities which entail the shipment of raw material in their marketing."

Sugar beets can be grown as well in selected fields of the Salem district as in the irrigated parts of Idaho—

As many tons to the acre, and with as high a sucrose (sugar) content.

Beets have been grown in the Idaho district with 25 per cent of sugar content, and that is unusually high, for the very best beet districts in the world.

Outside of flax growing and manufacturing, there is nothing that will do more for the progress and prosperity of the Salem district right now than sugar beet growing and manufacturing—

For it is the one great industry that will develop our dairying and live stock industries in a large way, and that will result in building up and conserving that fertility of our soil. Figure around $300 an acre, new money, each year, for sugar beet growing and manufacturing, to say nothing of the great benefits from the feeding of the by-products, the tops, pulp and molasses, and you get an idea of what is going to happen to the Salem district from the beet sugar factories we must have—

And we must begin to get them right now. There is no time to lose, if our first factory is to be ready for the 1926 crop.

The factory of the Miles Linen company is running every day now, on work leading up to the production of thread and twine on a considerable scale. The completed output will begin to be ready for the markets within about two weeks. This is a wonderful beginning of the great development that is coming. This city and community will owe a debt of gratitude to Mr. Miles and his associates that will be a lasting one. It will be more appreciated as the years pass.

PROTEST NEEDED

Within a short time during the summer just passed there arrived in a port of this Pacific northwest over two million pounds of coconut oil and three million pounds of copra or coconut meat.

Both products came from a foreign land, tariff free and to displace the dairy products of this section of the United States. It will be made up into bogus butter inferior in quality and sold at a price far below that of the genuine dairy and creamery made article.

It can be sold cheaper than genuine butter because the copra and oil are produced by laborers, semi-civilized, half naked—living in filth and working for a few cents a day—a wage insignificant for a citizen living at any thing like American standards.

By using these butter substitutes the oriental orchardists and the eastern capitalists are favored while the dairymen and farmers are being driven out of the dairy business of the Pacific coast and elsewhere in this country. To allow this ruinous competition to continue without protest to Congress and demand for protection is inexcusable.

CLASS TAX SOP

Florida's sop to the idle rich has aroused in the sister state of Georgia the spirit of emulation and her legislature is likely to repeal the state inheritance tax. And an effort is being made to prohibit levying in the future, any income taxes.

This, if accomplished, will throw the burden of taxation on property. It will furnish opportunity for those who have amassed wealth from natural resources as water power, timber and minerals, to keep their accumulations in their immediate family coffers instead of returning to the state a portion of it—a purely selfish privilege.

But the same tax burden must be carried. Schools, streets and other commonwealth needs must be met. The result will be more wealth and more idleness for the very rich; more taxes, additional burdens and greater discontent among those who toil.

The Dennis resolution which will be submitted to the voters of Oregon at the November election in 1926 contains these infamous tax features. And this is one measure doomed to slaughter at the polls in this progressive state.

NEWS BRIEFS

Obituary Services Today—

Funeral services will be held from Webb's funeral parlors at 10 o'clock this morning for Morrill D. Ohling, Jr., the three months' old son of Mr. and Mrs. Morrill D. Ohling, who died Thursday. The infant is survived by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Ohling, now on an extended visit east and Mr. and Mrs. Mark H. Savage. Interment will be made in City View cemetery. Mr. Ohling is engaged in the insurance business and is a member of the Lions' club.

Births Are Reported—

Five birth reports were filed with the city health officer Friday. These announced the arrivals of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kautelberg, 1435 North Twelfth, Sept. 4; Donald Connell, to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Oldenburg at the Salem hospital, August 23; a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. William B. Simmons, 2546 Hazel avenue, Sept. 8; James Oliver, to Mr. and Mrs. Percy E. Budlong, 545 South Twentieth, Sept. 5, and Glen Maynard, to Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Simpson, 1915 Yaw, Sept. 2.

Prowler Is Frightened—

For the second time in the last two weeks, residents of South Salem heard the sound of revolver shots in the night late Thursday night when Joe James, son of "Cherry" James, Salem police officer, frightened a man away from the home of Fred A. Wilson, 943 South Liberty. Young James saw the prowler and commanded him to throw up his hands. The prowler fled and young James fired a shot at him. Officers were called and took into custody a man whose physical condition indicated he had been running. The suspect was taken to the police station, questioned and later released.

Four Accidents Fatal—

Four of the 655 accidents reported to the state industrial accident commission for the week ending Sept. 10 resulted in fatalities. These were Fred Flie, timber faller, La Grand; George Catching, carpenter, Springfield; Mike J. Simmons, fireman helper, Portland; and Fred G. Alton, milkwright, West Linn. Of the total number reported 544 were subject to the provisions of the compensation act, 119 were from firms and corporations that have rejected the provisions of the act.

Entertainment Offered—

Entertainment at the Lake Brook hop yard was in charge of local talent last night, the Jones family, who are engaged in picking hops, professional entertainers, having volunteered to furnish the program. A moving picture show was also offered. Regular show nights are Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Sunday afternoon the boys' band from the state training school will offer a special program.

Summer Session Ends—

With 75 students in attendance, the summer school session at Willamette university ended Friday. The enrollment for the first term was 125. Registration for the fall term begins September 21 with the classwork for the 1925-26 term starting September 24. Registration at the Kimball college of Theology will begin September 22 with class work starting two days later.

First Deer Killed—

F. A. Ackerman, of Salem, lays claim to having killed the first deer of the season. He left for the district 15 miles south of Dallas Wednesday night and at 6:30 o'clock the morning of the open season had bagged the first animal. Before the day closed another deer fell before his gun. Both animals were brought back to Salem yesterday. Mr. Ackerman is in the laundry business.

Guardian Appointed—

James C. Gibson was appointed guardian ad litem for Tracey Given yesterday by Circuit Judge L. H. McMahon. Gibson is young Given's uncle. The action was taken in view of a court summons, entailing legal action.

Get Building Permits—

Building permits were issued Friday to Waldo O. Mills to repair a dwelling at 1005 North Twenty-first, at a cost of $500, and to Hal W. Russell, to erect a $3500 dwelling at 1530 Center.
