Two British Towns Claim Composer as Native Son

OXFORD, Eng.-The tercentenpary of Orlando Gibbons, one of he most famous of Tudor musicians and composers, has revived the old claims which both Oxford and Cambridge make as his native town.

It has long been known that Gibbons became a chorister at King's chapel, Cambridge, at the age of 12, and that Cambridge cave him a degree in music when, at the age of 21, he became orthese facts were taken as disprov-ing the Oxford claim. By accident a chance searcher in the rec ords of the City church of Oxford has found an entry of the baptism of Orlando Gibbons under date of Deember 25, 1583, and as the name is no usual one it seems certain that the entry refers to the great church composer. In his own time Gibbons was known more as an organist than as a composer, for he had "the best hand in England," His comsositions are few, but they are declared unsurpassed in dignity, pro-priety and beauty. His anthems, "Oh, Clap Your Hands." "Hosan-na" and "Almighty and Everlau-ing," and his madrigals, "The Sil-ver Swan" and "Oh, That the Learned Poets," are regarded the high points of the ancient, simple and musical art of England.
