Director's Fall Selling Campaign of 1925

NOW ON

Doors Open Today 9 A. M. Saturday, 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

It surely eclipses all previous records in point of attendance and buying activity.

It is 5:30 p. m. now as this article is being written for the press and the crowds are still storming the store unabated.

But by morning the stocks of every department will be completely refilled and several cases that have arrived during the day go in for good measure.

All we ask of you is to come to the store and at one glance the whole sequel of this wonderful selling will be revealed to you in a way that will make buying irresistible.

What the Sale Means to You

The man or woman with limited means will find that their money will do far more than they had ever expected.

The working man will find that he can save a day's wages in an ordinary purchase. And to the mother's delight that her children can be clothed for school at a sum that is within her means without skimping.

In other words, it means that it is now within range of everybody's pocketbook to get in on one of the most economical bargain events of the year.

Months of planning and carefully selecting concessions made us by wholesalers and manufacturers bring on this greatest of all sales offering the public the
