world! but what gets the reader's interest worked up are the words "given away." This is done according to Army custom, and it happens quite often in the organization. However, the public will be let in on the whole thing next Sunday night, at a special service to be held in the local Army hall. "The fact of the matter is that we are going to make a presentation of two babies, instead of just one," said Captain Pitt, "but chief interest will center in the youngest, of course, for all love babies, just as most men love—er—well, that sex which our baby in question represents." A later notice of the event will be given.

CUT PRICES ARE PLAYED

PORTLAND DRUGGIST SAYS 1 CENT SALES ARE UNFAIR

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 2.—F. H. Peterson of Portland, Or., president of the National Association of Retail Druggists, today scored the "cut rate" policy of merchandising as "plain bunk," harmful to the drug business, and likened tactics of the "cut raters" to a blow below the belt, in an address before the annual convention of the organization here.

Mr. Peterson called the one-cent sale a "commercial monstrosity" because, he said, it creates an unfair and harmful impression in the public mind relative to a pharmacist's profit. If the sales were logical twice a year, why not 52 times a year, he asked. Mr. Peterson said the past year had been marked by a "national orgy" of price-cutting, "unprecedented in bitterness and foolhardiness," and declared the purpose of the cut-rater was to sell enough other goods at a profit to reimburse him for his loss on "bait" merchandise.
