

STOLEN AUTO WRECKED
OCCUPANTS ESCAPE POLICE
AFTER NIGHT CHASE

After obtaining ten gallons of gasoline from the Marion Auto company here early Tuesday morning, and speeding away without paying for it, a man and a boy in a large touring car wrecked the machine in Albany after a 60-mile an hour chase through the downtown streets of that city, pursued by a city patrolman. It was later found that the car had been stolen in Portland Monday night. The occupants of the machine escaped.

After leaving Salem the car was seen going south at a high rate of speed. According to the night officer the automobile entered the city limits at about 60 miles an hour. He immediately took pursuit, but was unable to overtake the larger machine. The chase continued for several blocks, the fugitives finally doubling back on the trail and finally plunging off a blind street into a gulch where the car was wrecked. Both occupants escaped and have not been picked up by the police.

KIWANIANS HEAR REPORT ED SCHUNKE TELLS OF VANCOUVER CONVENTION

Ed Schunke, who recently attended the conference of Kiwanis clubs at Vancouver, B. C., addressed the local Kiwanians, of which he is a member, at their luncheon Tuesday. He declared that practically all travel in Vancouver was done by auto, and that the roads around there are wonderful. He found that the Vancouver Kiwanians were a live outfit, and were carrying on a program of help to those who are unfortunate in earning their way. He said that there were between 600 and 700 delegates at the convention.

That Vancouver is a live city is indicated by the fact that the tourist trade there each year amounts to around $40,000,000. Mr. Schunke declared that Vancouver capitalizes her scenic wonders, having a program mapped out that will allow a visitor to view the city for two weeks, and never see the same thing twice. He further expressed it as his opinion that the scenic wonders there are no greater than those around Salem.

and said that nothing there could compare to the Columbia River highway.

ODDFELLOWS VISIT CITY
VISITORS IMPRESSED WITH SALEM DISTRICT

Visiting Salem for the first time, a group of delegates to the Oddfellows convention in Portland spent a few hours here yesterday and were unstinting in their praise of the city itself and the surrounding district. One group from Lansing, Mich., guests of Ben F. West, Salem real estate man, were greatly impressed with this section of the state. They were taken on a tour of the country and visited all the state institutions and many of the large orchards near the city.

All members of the delegation were much impressed with the large number of varied industries here and with the apparent prosperity of the city.

They're arresting jaywalkers in Cleveland. If the autos don't get 'em the police will.
