

PRUNES GOING TO NEW YORK BY WATER

Robert Paulus & Co. Sending 120,000 Pounds From Portland Tomorrow

Robert Paulus & Co., with offices in the Salem Fruit Union building, have been buying a couple of cars of prunes here the past few days. They had an order for 120,000 pounds, to start by boat going through the Panama canal tomorrow for New York.

The prices now are 9 1/2 cents a pound for 30-35's, 8 1/2 for 35-40's and 7 1/2 for 40-45's. But Mr. Paulus paid a little better than the going price, in order to be sure to fill the order.

The prunes this year run large. Practically all of them run between 35 and 42. They are the largest for years. The only trouble is that they are not large enough in total tonnage here.

What seemed like a flurry the past few days was merely the packers trying to get enough prunes to fill out orders for boats sailing from Portland.

The prune market is quiet in the east.

Girl Gained 7 Pounds, Nine Years an Invalid

That's just what McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets did for the Babcock Girl—and is doing as much for tens of thousands of this, underweight, weak and discouraged people all over America.

These sugar coated, pleasant to take tablets should be given to children instead of the vile stomach upsetting oil itself—they surely do help the frail, delicate little ones and 60 tablets cost but 60 cents at J. C. Perry, Central Pharmacy, D. J. Fry or any druggist anywhere in America.

Read this letter if you have a child that needs to gain health and strength.

"My little girl was stricken with infantile paralysis when she was 5 months old and was an invalid for 9 years—when I saw an ad in the paper that McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets would build up wasted tissues. I bought a box and she gained very slowly at first and after taking eight boxes, she gained seven pounds. Thanks to McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, after trying almost everything else on the market. She is on the road to recovery and goes to school every day." Mrs. L. Babcock, Appleton, Wis.

Imitations of McCoy's may be offered but be sure and look for McCoy's the original and genuine and if after thirty days treatment you are not delighted with results—get your money back.—Adv.

WHOLESALE CIGAR STORE IS MOVING

George E. Waters Has Very Fine Quarters at 229 State Street

George E. Waters, Salem's wholesale cigar dealer, is moving to 229 State street, where he has fitted up very comfortable and convenient quarters.

The average Salomite will be surprised to see such an extensive stock carried here, for the trade of the city and the country that surrounds Salem.

There is to be fitted up a humidor for cigars at this wholesale house, and in every other way the facilities will be as good as may be found in the larger cities of the country.

SLOGAN GIVEN PRAISE

The Thursday morning issue of the Statesman promoting industries was praised by J. Larky, realty publicity expert, in his address at the weekly luncheon of the Marion and Polk County Realtors association Thursday. Mr. Larky declared that the publicity Salem obtains from out of town by the issue is of the best sort to be had.

He said that publicity of realty deals has more advantage for the public than for the specific realtor, as it gives an opportunity for them to be informed on the matter.

While publicity of the printed page is highly desirable and necessary, Mr. Larky asserted that the good word of a client is publicity that always brings results.

Ton Litter Contest Is Creating Much Interest For Annual State Fair

No innovation has ever aroused keener interest than the ton-litter contest, which will be a feature of the livestock division of the 64th annual fair, which opens in Salem the 28th of this month.

This contest which is held to demonstrate that a ton or more of pork can be raised from one litter of pigs in 180 days, is the same idea, in slightly different form, as that carried out in states of the Mississippi valley during the last few years.

A. W. Oliver, assistant professor of animal husbandry at the Oregon Agricultural college is given much of the credit for its inception and success here, although Prof. E. L. Potter, head of the department and Prof. Lindgren, extension specialist, as well as all members of the department gave it their hearty support.

The moment the contest was suggested to breeders of swine enthusiasm was demonstrated, and it is quite probable that had the idea been promulgated earlier the state fairgrounds would not have found itself qualified to handle the entries. The event has aroused a friendly kind of breed rivalry, and with the four leading breeds competing, the result of the contest should be of greatest interest to livestock men everywhere.

The largest litter is of Berkshires, with a Chester White litter, showing one number less, certain, in the minds of Chester White fanciers, to make the best showing. The Duroc Jersey men are equally confident and breeders of Poland Chinas claim for their litters the heaviest average weight and most uniform litters.

Fourteen litters have been entered to date, with 10 entries accepted. Two industrial club boys and three or four strictly amateur breeders are represented in this number. One litter comes from southern Oregon, one from the eastern part of the state and all the remainder are entered from Willamette valley points.

The following names are of those who have passed the second inspection under the supervision of Prof. Oliver: S. J. Freeze & Son, Albany, Duroc Jersey; Claude D. Pauge, Salem, Chester White; E. W. Hughes, Grants Pass, Berkshires; Reich Bros., Macleay, two litters, Berkshires; W. L. Cresch, Salem, Poland Chinas; John E. Lindhart, Woodburn, Duroc Jersey; R. W. Hogg & Sons, Saline, Poland Chinas; Elmer Burkhardt, Albany, Duroc Jersey; Poling Brothers, Albany, Chester White.

A first prize of $50 will be given with additional prizes running down to 5th place. The fair board at its meeting in April, voted an additional $10 for each ton litter which qualifies at the fair. Ten dollars is also posted for the heaviest pig in any litter. The awards will be made on the adjusted weights of the litters exhibited; provided that no award shall be made to any litter where either the adjusted weight of the official weights is less than one ton.

Memoranda will be kept as to the weights and kinds of feed along with notes as to the system of management for the litters. This memoranda will not be used as a basis for awards for the litters, however, but as an accurate account for the benefit of hog men.

Both the National Chester White and Duroc Record Associations are also offering liberal prize money in these contests.

The livestock show for the state fair promises to be the largest in history, with many more flocks and herds registered from outside the state than ever before. The horse division will surpass any exhibit that has gone before, with entries coming in with each mail to the offices of the secretary, Mrs. Ella Schultz Wilson. The latest entry of particular note is made by George W. Mills of St. John.

HOPS ARE ABOUT ALL TAKEN CARE OF

The Hop Market Has Been Quiet for the Past Couple of Days

The hops of the Salem district are about all taken care of. The Wrigley yard, in the Independence section, is still picking, but will be through this week. The Morley yard, Silverton, was about done Wednesday. At the Williams ranch, Eola, picking was nearly finished Saturday night, and was completed about two hours of work early on Sunday morning. At the Lake Brook ranch of T. A. Livesley & Co. picking was finished on Monday.

There was little doing in the hop market the past two days. But the buyers agreed, that this did not signify anything.

T. A. Livesley believes that if the growers who have unsold hops will sit tight they will get 25 cents a pound for their first grade hops, and perhaps more.

equalling, if not surpassing that of last year, which was the greatest show ever held in the Pacific northwest.

In order to improve and encourage the breeding of squabs for culinary and commercial purposes, the state fair board offers premiums for the first and second best display pen of three pairs each, on any standard recognized or hybrid cross-bred utility pigeons, all varieties or hybrids to compete in one class for these two premiums.
