

Liberty

The Liberty school started September 14. The teachers are D. A. Hoag, principal, Mrs. D. A. Hoag, Mrs. V. Hubbard, and Miss Cooley. This is the third year in our school for Mr. and Mrs. Hoag, the second for Mrs. Hubbard and the first for Miss Cooley who has charge of the primary department. Fourteen new pupils are enrolled this year.

The following new families have moved into our neighborhood. Get acquainted with them and make them welcome. O. T. Tabler on the Struckmiller place; F. L. Barnes lives on the Stevenson place near Mr. Judd's; G. G. Bonner on the Dove place; L. E. Stiffler has purchased the O. G. Coffey place; F. Kolsky lives on the Sees property, and the Espin family are camping near Mr. Walker's while they look for a house to live in.

A reunion of D. A. Hoag's mother's people was held at the home of Mr. George Terhune near Jefferson last Friday. The spacious home was filled with members of the Terhune clan, some of whom had not met for 42 years, and others who had never seen each other. A sumptuous luncheon and dinner were served. Mr. and Mrs. Hoag motored up after school, getting there for part of the festivities.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Ray are enjoying the sea air at Newport.

Last Friday morning the two advanced rooms at school were delightfully entertained with an interesting and helpful program given by two of the pupils, Veneta Ikins and Dorothy Browning. Each Friday morning two of the pupils will have charge of the opening exercises.

The Parent-Teacher society met in Liberty hall last Friday night. As it was impossible for Mr. Gilbert to act as president, he tendered his resignation, and Mrs. Claud Stevenson was elected in his place. Now is the time to get ready for the corn show. Committees are urged to get busy, and all in the community are requested to assist. Let us have an exhibit second to none.

HOSPITALITY DAY PLANS PROGRESS

Uniformed Cherrians Being Given Instructions by King Bing Perry

J. C. Perry, King Bing of the Salem Cherrians, has appointed Bert Ford, Harry Levy and L. E. Smith to serve as a committee of three for the purpose of arranging the special activities for the state fair for Friday, October 2, to be known as "Hospitality Club Day."

King Bing Perry has written every hospitality club of the state that it may put on a stunt. These will be presented in both the afternoon and the evening.

The Pirates, booster club of Coos bay; Umpqua Indians, Roseburg boosters, and the Newberg Berrians have already promised to be here for the day, and the Lithians of Ashland and the Craters of Medford will probably be here in bodies.

No word has yet been received from the Lava Bears of Bend or from the Prunarians of Vancouver signifying that they will be on hand.

At the last meeting of the Cherrians it was unanimously voted that all the Cherrians be on hand in uniform on Hospitality day, and it was further provided that any Cherrian who should fail to appear would be assessed a fine of $3.

The Cherrians are to serve as host to the booster clubs of the state on Hospitality day, and a live, fast program is being planned for the day. There will be something doing every minute of the day, and the visiting boosters will be given rides in and about Salem in order to let them see the advantages this city has to offer.

CLASSES ARE ORGANIZED SOPHOMORES ARE GIVEN SPECIAL ATTENTIONS

All classes at the Salem high school have been organized for the year. Ezra Webb is president of the senior class; Kenneth Allen, president of the junior class; Edward Nash, president of the sophomore class. Miss Ada Roos, head of the English department, is the senior advisor and Mabel Robertson head of the history department, sophomore advisor.

Classes were addressed by J. C. Nelson, principal of the high school and by Cecil Edwards, president of the Associated Student body. High school lore and tradition were emphasized. Garlen Simpson, yell leader, led the sophomores in a pep demonstration.

FORD CONTRACT SIGNED
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—(By Associated Press.)—The fleet corporation was advised today that Henry Ford had signed the contract for purchase of 200 vessels for scrapping at $1,706,000. Details of the contract, which was awarded several weeks ago, had been under discussion, were completed, leaving only the signatures to complete the transaction. The contract was said to be en route in the mails to Washington.

VENISON STEAKS MAKE LIONS ROAR

W. A. Marshall, State Accident Commissioner, Is Principal Speaker

The regular weekly luncheon of the Lions club was the best attended luncheon so far this fall. John W. Orr, who supplied the venison stake from a 143-pound buck he killed on a recent hunting trip claims all the credit. The roaring of the Lions as the steaks were devoured was said to have shaken the walls of the hotel, although no damage was reported to the management.

Archie Holt, manager of the Heilig theatre was present and brought as his guest Gene Austin, of the association vanderbilt, who appeared at the Heilig last night. Mr. Austin sang a number of songs, some of his own composition and responded to a number of encores. Miss Eva Marshall, instructor at the state blind school sang and Carl Lenke, a student at the school played the piano.

William A. Marshall, of the state industrial accident commission was the speaker of the day and told the Lions present briefly about the work of the commission.

He stated that the amount of labor lost in the state through accidents amounted to an equal if not greater number than the entire population of Josephine county. He stated that of the money received by the commission about 9 per cent is used for administrative purposes, the remainder all going to the paying of claims.

"There are something like 10,000 employees in the state," said Mr. Marshall. In conclusion Mr. Marshall brought the need for education to the children so that when they take up work they may be familiar with the dangers and thus avoid losing their lives or being crippled.

A new roll call board was on hand for the first time yesterday and all members present were requested to mark themselves present by sliding their names on the board.

CARNIVAL COMPANY BACK LEVITT-BROWN-HUGGINS RETURN TO STATE FAIR

With its own 25 special cars and carrying 350 people, the Levitt-Brown-Huggins shows will arrive in Salem Monday for the state fair, according to C. A. Bosworth, press representative, who arrived Friday.

Several new attractions have been added this year, Mr. Bosworth declares. The show has received much favorable comment where it has appeared this year, compliments being bestowed upon the nature of the attraction and its cleanliness. The show is due to arrive in Portland about 7 o'clock Monday morning and will be started for Salem immediately. Everything will be in readiness late in the afternoon if possible and by evening positively. The show has been the main carnival attraction for the state fair for several years.

It is surmised that the epistolary XXXXX's for "kisses," originated in the ancient custom of placing crosses (X's) on the dead, as a salute from friends.
