Galligan. Pete S. Erena was injured when hit by falling coal but hospital attendants said tonight he would recover. The mine normally employs 500 men but as today was a holiday only a few were in the mine when a gas pocket was accidentally touched off shortly after noon. The mine master, who had visited the workings two hours before, said he had noticed no accumulation of gas.

The rescue work was hindered several hours by carbon dioxide which formed after the explosion.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 26 .-(By Associated Press.)-The submarine S-51 lay tonight in 23 fathoms of water a few miles off Block Island while men from other ships of the navy were doing their best to learn whether any of the 34 men on board were alive. The submarine was rammed last night by the Savannah line steamer City of Rome. The only members of the crew of 37 rescued by the steamer were three seamen who were landed in Boston late today, one of them in bad shape.

These three men held little hope that their comrades would be found alive because they said chlorine gas had been released in the submarine. They owed their escape to the fact that they were near the conning tower and floated out.

A message received at the navy yard tonight described unsuccessful attempts by divers to raise the sunken submarine by means of compressed air and stated that repeated efforts to communicate with the submarine's crew had
