

THRILLING RACES ARE OFFERED FANS

L. C. McK Takes Three Straight Heats From Northern for $2000

L. C. McK, with Brady in the sulky, won first money in the 2:12 trot on the Lone Oak track yesterday by taking three straight heats in a thrilling fight with The Northern, driven by Joe Huber. The Northern took second money and The Exodus third from a purse of $2000.

Every heat of the race was hotly contested with The Northern crowding the winning horse in every finish. In the second heat four horses came under the wire abreast with scarcely two feet distance between first and fourth. Off to an excellent start, the entire field was bunched for the whole distance. Coming down the stretch, L. C. McK leaped out ahead, followed by The Northern and The Exodus. The Obvious, driven by Dennis, was also at the front, but when within 20 yards of the wire, broke and ran under, being set back to sixth position as a penalty.

In the third heat L. C. McK took the lead at the half mile mark and came in first in a whipping finish. The Exodus finished second and The Northern third. The fastest heat was run in 2:11 1/4.

In the 2:25 pace, with a purse of $500, Johnny Morrissey won in straight heats, with Moranda.

driven by Pendleton, taking second place three times. The third heat was the closest, with Wilburn in the sulky behind Johnny Morrissey coming out ahead after trailing behind the field for three-quarters of the distance.

The 2:10 pace was won by Carolyn Logan, driven by Montgomery. Seven horses started but Carolyn Logan, Al Silk and Ark Bell pulled away from the rest of the field on the stretch. The third heat was taken by Al Silk, driven by Huber, when he pulled away from Carolyn Logan, and won by a nose. Prince Zelock, an old favorite, placed seventh in the first heat, and was drawn on account of lameness.

The track was in good condition. The fastest time made in the harness events was by Carolyn Logan in the second heat of the third race when she stepped the distance in 2:10 1/4 in the 2:10 pace.

STUDENTS OPPOSE BIG GAME PLAYS

to arrange for a little five conference, but due to unfavorable action on the part of the Whitman student body the plan fell through.

When the conference was talked up two years ago, Whitman, Willamette, Pacific University, College of Puget Sound, and either Linfield or College of Idaho were picked as being the logical teams to form the little five conference.

It was planned that the little five conference should not interfere with the northwest conference. Those in the former could still be in the latter, reserving for themselves the right to meet the larger universities if they pleased. But the argument for the forming of the little five was that each school would have an equal chance to carry off the championship while now it is practically impossible for a small school to wrest the championship of the northwest conference from the state schools.

Willamette university is to meet the OAC team Saturday. Students on the campus have looked down with equal disfavor on this game, feeling that in it the chances are too great that Willamette's valuable men will be knocked out in the fray so that they cannot participate in the games (the count later in the season).

LEWIS AND HERMAN IN 10-ROUND DRAW

Bill Hunt Scores Knock-Out From Danny Gerth in Semi-Finals Match

When Frankie Lewis of Salem and Cal Herman of Salt Lake City clashed in the main event at the Armory smoker Thursday night the gloves were flying furiously, and those in the crowd were shown everything in waltzing but the Charleston. The fight was filled with clinches with plenty of soaks in between, and although Lewis did most of the leading throughout the ten rounds, Herman slipped in enough juicy wallops to run off with a draw.

The first round saw very few punches but lots of pretty footwork. Lewis was leading most of the time. In the second round Lewis was still leading, and about the only punches that were put across were in the clinches. In the third round each of them managed to slip over a couple of healthy swipes, but neither was able to phase the other.

After a little fury had been added to the contest, and the men were prancing around in aesthetic manner, the fourth ended with Herman rushed out in the fifth round and slapped over some mean ones before Lewis was well in the fight. Herman was leading again in the sixth, although none of the blows of either was effective. The seventh round was fiercer, each taking and giving about equally, and fighting to a fare-you-well in the clinches. Lewis was crowding most of the time in the eighth, but Herman returned several stiff punches. In the ninth Herman crowded Lewis into the ropes and landed a square one right on his jaw. Lewis retaliated with a series of fast ones to the body.

Both fought desperately in the tenth in an endeavor to take off the decision, but they held evenly up to the go.

OREGON VARSITY LINEUP IS GIVEN

Coach Dick Smith Selects Men to Meet Multnomah Club Eleven Saturday

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Oct. 2.—(Special to The Statesman.)—Coach Dick Smith today announced the team that will line up against the Multnomah club on Hayward field Saturday.

Smith cut the Gordian knot caused by the battle Anderson and Harrison have been having for the signal-calling berth by shifting the latter to right half. In this way he takes advantage of both Anderson's generalship and running ability and Harrison's punting.

The squad lacked a consistent kicker last year. Neither is a large man, but both should fit in well with such big fellows as Wetzel and Jones. Wetzel was the individual star of last year's freshman team, and Harrison played quarterback on the yearling outfit of 1923.
