Judge Issues Warning—County Judge Hunt has issued a warning that a weight limit order covering gravel roads in the county will be issued as soon as the rains set in sufficiently to make the roads soft. It was suggested that all heavy hauling be done now, as the weight limit may bar them soon. Because, according to Judge Hunt, the roads were torn up last year with heavy loads, it is probable that weight limit will be more stringent this year.

Divorces Are Sought—H. L. Ekerson is seeking a divorce from Josephine Ekerson and has filed complaint in circuit court. Ekerson claims that as a result of his wife accepting a job in a local restaurant, she has neglected her home duties and that he has not been able to obtain his meals at home, and because of his wife's hours, he has not been able to sleep well or regularly. He claims that he has been able to, and has, furnished the money necessary to the upkeep of the home. Lora Chiles of Jefferson is asking for a divorce from John H. Chiles upon the grounds of desertion. They were married in 1910, she claims, and he deserted her in 1924. Property rights, it is said, have been settled out of court, and she agrees to $25 a month for the support of her six children, whose custody she also asks for.

THIRD QUARTERLY MEET POSTPONED

Trinity and St. John's Congregations to Gather Sometime Next Week

SILVERTON, Oct. 2.—(Special to The Statesman.)—The third quarterly meeting of the Trinity and St. John's congregations have been postponed from the first week of October until the second in order that Rev. George Henriksen, who will be in Minneapolis during the first of October, can be present. The meetings will be held on the second Wednesday of October and both meetings will be on the same evening. In former years Trinity congregation met on the first Wednesday and St. John's congregation met on the first Thursday of October.

The meetings this year hold more of general interest than usual as at this time plans for combining the congregations will be discussed. Reports were given at the morning services of both congregations last Sunday. The reports were prepared by a joint committee from the two congregations and recommended that the two be joined together with one pastor; that services be held alternately in both churches until a decision could be reached as to which church to enlarge; that services in both English and Norwegian be held each Sunday, the English sermon being delivered at 11 o'clock and the Norwegian one at 10 o'clock; that both of the present pastors be asked to resign, and one pastor called for both congregations, which will then be one and have a membership of 1200.

The discussion concerning the matter of joining and the language question, as it has been termed, has awakened considerable interest in Silverton church circles. To become effective, the report must be accepted by two-thirds of the voting members. If the report is not carried, it is said that the question of making Trinity congregation an all-English congregation, instead of holding services every other Sunday in the Norwegian language, as at present, will again be brought up. This question was before the congregation some months ago, but due to considerable opposition the matter was dropped for the time being.

It is reported that with the exception of two or three members, everyone belonging to the congregation can understand the English language, while about one-third of the members are unable to understand the Scandinavian language which is used two Sundays in a four-Sunday month, and three Sundays in a five-Sunday month. A great many of the older people who really prefer the Scandinavian language have expressed their willingness that the services be changed to all-English as, to quote one of the older members of the congregation, "We dislike to see the old order go, but we realize that the congregation belongs to the present and future, and not to the past. Besides, religion should be something more than a mere question of language. It should be given in the manner

Funerals Young Private funeral services for the late Marcus Eugene Young will be held tomorrow morning at 10:30 from the Terwilliger funeral home with Rev. J. J. Evans reading the service. Committal services will be held at the City View cemetery. The deceased was a member of the pressman's union, the musicians' union and the national guard. A bugler will sound taps at the conclusion of the services.

Bits For Breakfast The biggest Saturday—That is what it will be at the fair.

All Saturday records will be broken. Children under 12 go in free today.

The business concerns of Salem do a great deal towards making the exhibits at the state fair complete.

The Bishops have a wonderful display of Pendleton Indian blankets and other manufactures. Eastman furnaces (Silverton) and the Santiam Woolen Mills of Stayton have good displays there. Then there are the Oregon Gravel Co., Pearce Bros., and many others. The Salem people make up a most respectable proportion of the whole great show.

In the new pavilion, next to the Bishop display, the Salem Electric Co. has a booth that is one of the neatest of them all at the fair. It is worth seeing. The Salem Indian school display is immense—and fine in every way. The county displays were never so good. Bill Taylor is there with the Marion county display, for the twentieth year. He has learned a lot about display in that time. The penitentiary flax display is good, and so is the state hospital (asylum) display.

HARVEST ESTIMATE GOOD

SPOKANE, Oct. 2.—Harvest returns in many localities exceeded the amount estimated as to production, Stuart A. Rice, secretary of the Spokane Federal Land bank, states in the monthly report issued today on conditions in the district covered by the bank. The report says agriculture conditions are generally improving and that a considerable demand for farming land is expected during the coming spring.
