Andy Christensen, 31, murder of Thomas Dovery, Kelso dition as a result of the same editor, with the intention of "do- blaze, ing a job" in Longview, is asserted by W. L. Thompson, held in the Cowlitz county jail, according to Sheriff Clarke Studebaker, Thompson when he told his story after his arrest near Engene, Ore., said he borrowed the gun from its owner, Oswald Lien, of Portland, and loaned it to Smith who said that he intended to "do a job" in Longview or Kelso. The killing occurred in Kelso June 19 and as the 20th is payday for the Longbell company, officials believe that the gun was actually borrowed for a holdup in Longview, June 20, but that the murderer or murderers changed their plans and attempted a holdup in Kelso.

Sheriff Studebaker, Luke S. May, investigator into the murder, and R. G. Sharp, special prosecutor, stated today that there is a possibility that the murderers thought they were holding up H. E. SERIES SIDELIGHTS

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 7 .- (By ssociated Press.) --- As a team the Senators batted ,250 against Meadows, while the Pirates had to be content with a meagre .166 against Walter Johnson's smoke ball.

So effective was Johnson against the sluggers of Bill McKechnie that outside of "Pi" Traynor, three Pirates as far as second and none reached third.

Max Carey will be lucky to last the series. The vetern outfielder caught the full smoke of Walter's fast one on his elbow in the first inning and went down for nine. Walter found his other elbow in the ninth but Max came up smiling from this one with the remark that Walter was evidently losing his speed.
