THE FIVE FACTORS IN PRUNE GROWING

They Are Suitable Soil, Fertilization, Cultivation, Pruning and Spraying

The Slogan man found S. H. Van Trump, Marion county fruit inspector, at his home last night, after a full day in the country.

cial factors in the successful culture of prunes—suitable soil, fertilization, cultivation, pruning and spraying.

"A suitable soil," he said, "is of first importance. Gently rolling ground, with a light loamy soil, is best."

"There are certain sections which will not prove profitable under the most favorable conditions. The question of elevation and air drainage is important."
