

FIVE FINE BOUTS ARE OFFERED SOON

Joe Jewett and Ernie Woodward to Fight Main Event Here October 21

Five of the best bouts that have yet been offered to Salem fight fans have been arranged on a boxing card that Harry Plant, Salem matchmaker, will present in the Armory on Wednesday, Oct. 21. The best boys in this district have been obtained for the match. The main attraction will be a ten round go between Joe Jewett of Seattle and Ernie Woodward. Jewett, Harry Plant says, is one of the best fighters he has yet been able to secure. "I saw him win from Samoa in Medford," Plant said, "and he put up one of the best fights I have ever seen. I went to Portland yesterday and secured a guarantee that he would appear here next Wednesday."

In the semi-windup, Russel Green and Chet Gratz, both Salem boys, will participate, while Sailor Manning and George Happings, of Vancouver, Wash., will meet in special event. A preliminary will also be fought, although the principals have not yet been named. Harry Plant has secured guarantees from the fighters that they will appear here, and has made the announcement that if any of the spectators are not convinced that they obtained the worth of their money for the main fight, he will give them a special ticket for the main event at the next fight.

EXPERT DECLARES MURRAY IS NANE

Head injuries, however severe they may be, are very seldom a cause of insanity. Warden Dalrymple, who was called to the stand again yesterday, testified that Murray was "one of the coolest, smartest and shrewdest men in the institution." In summing the case up for the jury, Lyle Page, deputy district attorney, went over the entire ground covered by the state in its prosecution of the case. He laid special stress on the fact that John Sweeney, for whose death Murray is being tried, was killed by a bullet fired from a .32-20 revolver. That there was only one revolver of that caliber in the prison arsenal at the time the convicts made their escape, and that this particular gun was missing when a check was made afterwards. He also pointed out that the same pistol was found in Murray's possession when he was arrested in Centralia and that it contained two shells of the same make of ammunition with which it was loaded while in the prison arsenal.

The state had previously introduced X-ray photographs of the bullet while it was still in Sweeney's brain, and had also introduced as evidence the bullet that took his life. According to gun experts the markings in the photograph and on the actual exhibit corresponded in every detail. Mr. Page also brought out that Murray had admitted shooting at Sweeney, both in the Newman statement and in the presence of the driver of the commandeered taxi. "I waited until the guard stuck his head from behind a pillar and I hit him between the eyes," the defendant is declared to have stated.

In the summary to the jury the state also declared that every move made by Murray indicated that he was entirely sane and capable of planning the most complicated details of the break. The defense has said that conditions at the prison were such as to place the convicts in continual fear of their lives. Mr. Page declared, "Yet the defendant himself said on the stand that if the prison doors were opened, he knew of only three or four men that would leave the institution safely. This does not indicate that conditions are as severe as the defense would lead us to believe." The entire panel of jurors and the special venire have been ordered to appear in court at 9 o'clock this morning to report for the next trial, that of Ellsworth Kelley, who is charged with killing Guard J. M. Holman during the break. The Kelley trial is to be started as soon as the jury retires in the Murray case.

GUARD IS ELUDED

SEATTLE, Oct. 14.—(By Associated Press).—Slipping out of a handcuff which manacled him to two other prisoners, Frank Dierdoef escaped from W. E. Cowell, a traveling guard, at a stage depot here today. Cowell was taking the prisoners from Yakima to the state reformatory at Monroe. Cowell was unable to shoot because of the danger to bystanders.

WESTERN HIGHWAYS ASTONISH VISITOR

Australian Engineer Here to Make Study of Oregon Road Conditions

"I have experienced the greatest courtesy and attention I could wish for in Salem," declared L. V. Watson, highway engineer of Australia, who is on his second visit to the United States, to the members of the Rotary club at their weekly luncheon Wednesday. Mr. Watson said that he is here for the purpose of examining road conditions in Oregon in order that he may apply the knowledge gained in his work in Australia. Australia is on the verge of a new development, according to Mr. Watson, and this will require a period of about ten years. He declared that he has been struck with the development of roads in the western states particularly, adding that it was beyond him to understand where the people get the money for "such an endless amount of good roads." Australia has tremendous resources, Mr. Watson declared, but the population is small, being only 6,000,000. It is his opinion that men coming into Australia with the proper amount of fighting spirit and the necessary capital would have limitless possibilities of progress. As an opener in the new development program of Australia, Mr. Watson said, a bridge is being built in Sydney that will cost $1,000,000 in all in the neighborhood of 6,000,000 pounds.

CHEMAWA SMASHES WAY FOR VICTORY

Salem High School Football Defeated 20 to 7 by Indian Gridsters

Smashing through the line, running around ends, completing long passes and punting superbly, the Chemawa Indian football team fought their way to a 20-7 victory over Salem high school Wednesday afternoon at the local high school field on North Fourteenth. The Salem aggregation were game and fought to the last, but they were no match for the Indians, who have the best team they have produced in years.

After sparring around for some five minutes in the first quarter, Chemawa got the ball. Fleurey, indomitable half, crashed through center for 20 yards. A long pass put the ball within Salem's 10-yard line, and with three downs to go, Chemawa had the ball on the one-foot line. The second play crashed over for the first touchdown of the game. Thompson kicked. The first quarter ended with the ball in Salem's possession in midfield.

In the second quarter Salem launched a furious offensive, tearing off three first downs in succession, and getting the ball on the three-yard line. But there the Indian line stiffened, and the high school was held for downs. Chemawa punted, and on the next play Kelly completed a beautiful pass to Temple for a 30-yard gain, giving Salem the ball on Chemawa's 12-yard line. Two powerful backs through center by B. Drager gave Salem another first down, and a penalty for off-side against the Chemawa placed the ball on the half-foot line. Salem had four downs to go. B. Drager hurled himself through center for a touchdown on the first play. B. Drager's kick for goal was blocked, but one of the Indians was off-side and the penalty automatically gave Salem the goal. One of the Indians objected strenuously to the penalty, swung at the head linesman, and was put out of the game for the threat. With the Salem team charging furiously on the offensive and holding on the defensive, it appeared during second quarter that the chances for the game were in Salem's favor.

When the second half opened, the Chemawa Indians received, Coquille Thompson, with the aid of a five-yard penalty against Salem for playing off-side, gained first down. He repeated by a smash through the line on the next play for another first down. Then Fleurey crashed and nudged and dodged his way through the entire Salem team and raced 60 yards for a touchdown. In kicking the goal, the ball hit the cross-bar, balanced for a moment, and then fell over the top for the extra point.

Chemawa kicked off and Salem returned to her 30-yard line. Salem was penalized to her 10-yard line. J. Drager attempted to punt but his kick was blocked, and bounced over the Salem goal line. Rasmussen leaped across the line and fell on the ball for the last touchdown of the game. The kick failed.

Salem threatened once more, but within their own 10-yard line the Indians held. In the last quarter the ball zig-zagged back and forth and was often in the territory of the Indians, but whenever the emergency arose the Chemawa team seemed able to arise to it. Fleurey was by far the star of the game, and B. Drager for the high school was the outstanding man. Coquille Thompson made long gains but was not consistent. He played the game with a broken finger, according to Chief George Bent, coach of the Indian school. The lineup follows:

Chemawa
 Temple RE George Ecker LE R. DePoe
 J. Drager RT Strom Blako LT Teka Davis RG Tarotich Jackson LG Rasmussen
 H. Lyons C Thomas B. Drager Q Atkins Kelly RH C. DePoe
 Noeske LH Fleurey Backe F Thompson
 Referee, Ralph Coleman of OAC; umpire, Rarey of Salem.

WESTERN PICTURE IS COMING TODAY

"The Timber Wolf" Featuring Buck Jones Here Thursday-Saturday

"The Timber Wolf," starring Buck Jones, which opens today at the Heilig theater, is the sort of motion picture that has made Buck popular with thousands of fans. It is a western story, adapted from Jackson Gregory's novel, which embodies all the two-fisted romance of the old west, giving Buck the opportunity to fight, ride and woo to the queen's taste. Winsome Elinor Fair is Jones' leading lady and she does some dramatic work that is worthy of her selection as a Baby Star of 1924. Dave Dyas as Deverill, the heavy; Will Walling as Sheriff Taggart and Sam Allen in the character role of Joe Terry, also deserve special mention. "The Timber Wolf" is a story of the lumber and gold country. Jones, as Bruce Standing, is a big lumber owner and Joe Terry, one of his men, discovers a valuable gold vein near the property.

Deverill and Sheriff Taggart attempt to force him to tell the location of the mine. Rene Brooke, Deverill's fiancée, arrives from the east and Bruce incurs her animosity. Bruce tries to tell her that Deverill is a crook, and when she refuses to listen to him, he kidnaps her to prevent her from marrying the scoundrel. Bruce is wounded by Rene and in his delirium he reveals his love for her. Rene, still unconvinced that Deverill is bad, takes a plan of Terry's mine from Bruce's pocket, and flees to her fiancée. What she sees convinces her that Bruce was right.

"The Timber Wolf" was directed by W. S. Van Dyke from a scenario by John Stone.

CORN SHOW PLANS ARE TAKING SHAPE

 Each evening, and at 8:30 each evening there will be an address given by some prominent speaker. The farmers exhibiting at the show are asked to bear in mind that all the corn exhibited must be grown by the exhibitor in 1925. They are asked to deviler their entries at the Armory to A. N. Fulkerson, president of the Marion County Community Federation. All premiums are to be paid in cash by the Chamber of Commerce the day of the award. The awards will be made by competent judges from OAC. Following are the premiums to be offered at the corn show:

Look On The Inside of the Bridge-Beach Superior Circulator

It is built like a furnace—a stove within a stove

Will heat three or four adjoining rooms

The cold air enters at the bottom, is heated and humidified between the fire-pot and the outer casing—and passes out through the top, CIRCULATING the warm, moist, healthful air to the most distant corners of the adjoining rooms. Has wonderful heating capacity—will heat three or four rooms comfortably in the coldest weather—takes the place of several stoves and requires no more fuel than an ordinary heater. The price is less than you would expect for a heating stove of such outstanding superiority. Shown in various finishes—the mahogany enameled finish is especially popular.
