

BEARCATS TO PLAY ALUMNI GRIDSTERS

Team of 1895 Will Start Contest; Game Is Called for 2 O'Clock Today

Unless unforeseen circumstances arise every member of the Willamette university football team of 1895 will be on Sweetland field today for the game between the varsity and the alumni at 2 o'clock with the exception of Walter Paige of Frankfort, Ky., and Don Truitt of Alaska. Both expected to be present also, but decided that they were too far away to warrant the journey.

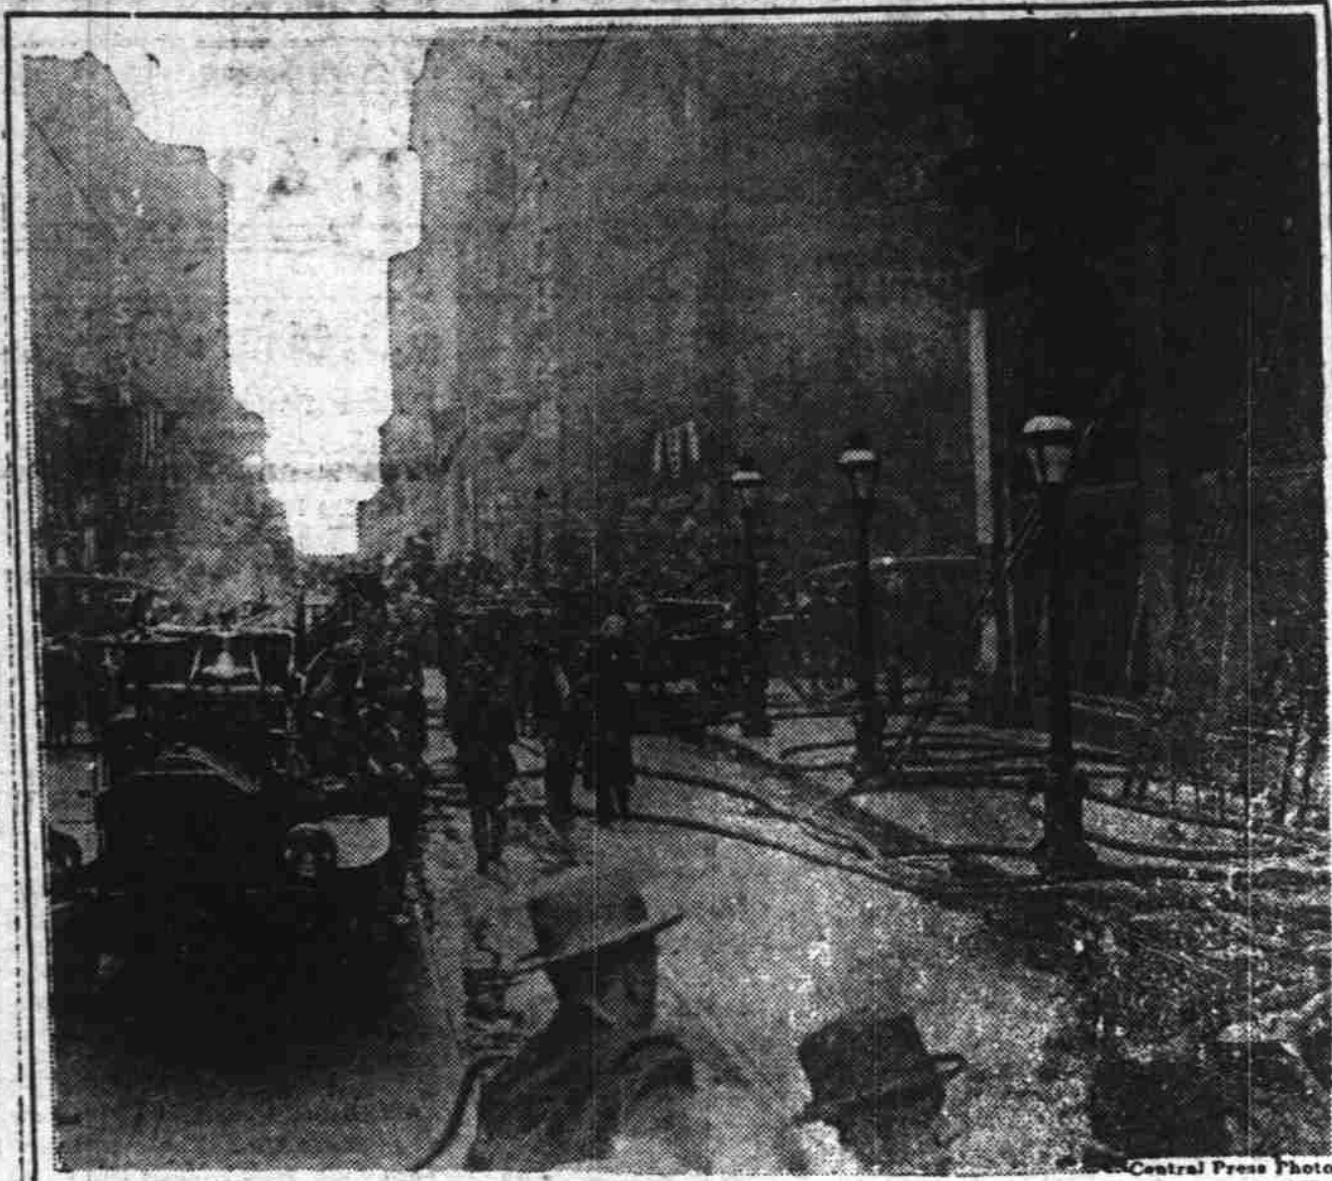

The old Bearcat warriors will appear on the field at 1:30, and a ceremony will be performed before the starting of the game. Pictures will be taken, and the men will be given a formal reception. When the game is called, the team will appear on the gridiron and will start the game for the alumni, perhaps with a kick-off.

Such a unique record is it for a university to be able to boast of a team of 30 years ago, the members of which are all alive and well, that notice of today's reunion has been broadcast in the newspapers throughout the country. Several eastern newspapers and magazines, including the Chicago Tribune and the Boston Herald, consider the event of such importance that they have asked for pictures taken at the reunion, and an account of the events to take place.

After the game members of the old squad will be guests at a dinner at the Marion hotel. Members of the alumni playing in today's game will also be present, as well as some of the men on the present varsity team. At the banquet old times will be discussed, and it is expected that the general theme of the discussion will be the recalling of the days when the 1895 team battled for Willamette, and asked quarter from no school, regardless of size.

Those of the old guard who have promised to be on hand for the reunion are Dr. Webb of Mt. Angel, Chester C. Murphy, captain, and E. Bonham of Portland. R. Guise of Woodburn, John Williams and J. J. McCormick of Eugene, Bert Savage of Lewiston, Idaho, and Dr. Olinger, Billy Evans and Mark Savage of Salem. Attorney General I. H. Van Winkle, who was manager of the team will also be on hand. Hon. W. P. Hawley, at that time president of Willamette university, had been making plans to attend the reunion but was called suddenly to Washington, and a wire received by Coach Rathbun Friday from him gave the information that he would be unable to appear.

The alumni team, to be played against the varsity today, is the most formidable aggregation ever gathered by the graduates. Faz Zeller, inimitable back, is captaining the team, and he has at his command today a number of stars that are particularly well known on the campus. Among these are Patton, Isham, Findley, Rarcy, Post, Coughlin, Irvine, Jackson, Wapatb, Dimlek, Bahne, Carey and Warner.

The Bearcats have been practicing at full speed for today's contest. Last year the alumni won a 2-0 game by scoring on a touch-back, and the present varsity are particularly anxious to see that the win is not repeated. Herrman, playing his first year of football, has been showing good stuff at end, and has won the right to start in the lineup. McMullen is perhaps the best find of the year. He is a freshman, and not very heavy, but he has cunningness, the ability to hit the line and to pick his hole, and is good on the defense. He will be started at full.

The lineup for the varsity will start something like this: Herrman and Riedell, ends; Houston and Rhodes, tackles; Woodworth and Evans, guards; Scott, center; McMullen, full; Winslow, quarter; Collingsworth and Wade, halves.

AGGIES WILL PLAY WHITMAN SATURDAY

Corvallis Eleven Making Only Appearance in Portland This Season

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Saturday on Multnomah field, Portland, the Oregon Aggies meet Whitman college of Walla Walla. Coach Paul Schlessler is planning to start the game with his regular squad, and he would not anticipate Whitman's strength by saying now whether "shock troops" would later be used.

His main purpose is to keep Whitman from scoring. In the two games already played the Aggies have run up big scores without being scored upon, and the record will be smirched if Whitman should get near and acci-dently score. This fact, and the coach's determination not to take any chances with Coach Borleske's talent will find OAC pitched high in their only Portland appearance this year.

The Aggies have now two first-team backfields, one big, the other light and very fast. The coach intends to keep these combinations separate and for each squad has assigned substitutes. When linemen at present injured get back in condition he may be able to match the back field with another set of linemen and thus have two first teams, which would be substituted all at once.

BOY SCOUT DRIVE PLANS OUTLINED

Salem Quota Placed at $3,000 to Carry on Work During Coming Year

A meeting was held last night at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium for the purpose of deciding whether or not Salem wants to undertake a campaign to raise her quota of $3000 to carry on the Boy Scout work in the city. There were about 35 persons present, representing every civic organization in the city, and all manifested decided favor toward putting over the campaign.

As a result a special meeting will be held Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, at which time definite plans for the campaign will be formulated. A special committee, consisting of Bob Boardman, Dr. Henry Morris and George Arbuckle, was appointed for the purpose of formulating the plans for the campaign.

The meeting last night was presided over by C. F. Giese. It was revealed that Eugene now has its own council, while Salem is in a council, covering also McMinnville and Corvallis. The headquarters

Heilig Vaudeville Program Attracts Another Capacity House Last Night

Well Balanced Offering Wins Praise and Applause From Large Crowd; Clever Dancing Girls Prove To Be Headliner

That good, clean vaudeville is appreciated in Salem is evident from the continued packed houses at the Heilig theatre every Friday night. Long before the first show is over there is an extensive line formed in front of the theatre waiting for admission.

The program this week was excellent, opening with a unique "shadow" act, with Stuart Darrow reversing the usual method of making pictures by rubbing off instead of putting on. Smoke on a white metal background was the basis. Darrow had some clever shadow pictures formed with his hands and a few properties.

The "Two Black Spasms," Mout and Heff, lived up to their announcement and offered some good black-face comedy and singing.

A novel dancing act with six pretty girls was offered in Elida Fredman's "Elida Ballet." The "Doll Bandia," revealed her hidden treasures. The dolls were dutch, rag, soldier, sailor and French. Each came to life and staged an individualistic dance with the entire cast appearing in the finale of the act.

"The Greatest Comedy Quartette in America" was the billing of the Empire comedy four and theatre goers would have to travel a long way to disprove their contention. Excellent voices, real comedy not of a slapstick variety and a funny little laugh stamped the four singers.

Arnold and Florence offered a novelty balancing stunt with Florence supplying the humor of the act. How a charwoman and apparently clumsy maid blossomed into a winsome dancer closed the program.

Special music was furnished by the Heilig theatre orchestra with Mary Talmadge directing. Robert Clark, Jr., offered a special organ selection.

for this council, however, is in Salem. Both of the other towns have raised their quota toward the fund to maintain the council, and if Salem accomplishes her quota, the headquarters are to remain in this city.

Those present at last night's meeting manifested a great deal of enthusiasm, greeting each speaker with applause. W. L. Hayward, regional commander of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana, declared that the needs for the campaign are "action, workers, and a definite program." The meeting was addressed by Dr. E. E. Fisher, Frank E. Neer, George Arbuckle, Mrs. Winnie Pettyjohn, and E. N. Simon. The general theme of all the addresses was that Salem must carry the thing through.

TEACHERS LISTEN TO HEALTH TALKS

Institute in Session Here Will Hear President J. S. Landers Today

Dr. Walter H. Brown, director of the Marion County Child Health Demonstration, was greeted enthusiastically by the teachers of the county, when he opened the teachers' institute Friday morning with an address on health. That the teachers are rapidly becoming aware of the importance of hygiene in the schools was indicated by the enthusiasm with which they greeted the two child health demonstrations which followed Dr. Brown's lecture. Dr. Estella Ford Warner and Miss Elnora Thompson, both connected with the child health demonstration, conducted the two demonstrations.

The principal speakers for today's session of the institute, which is being held in the local high school auditorium, are President J. S. Landers of the Oregon State Normal school, who will speak on "Educational Responsibility in An Industrial Age," and Dr. U. G. Dubach, dean of men at OAC, who will discuss the "Present Crisis in China."

The main feature of the afternoon will be a lecture on "Hamlet," by the Hon. B. F. Mulkey of Portland. The teachers have been looking forward with eagerness to Mr. Mulkey's rendition, and because it is thought that the lecture will be of excellent literary merit, the public is invited to attend the institute to hear his address.

WATER BOTTLES SEIZED
SEATTLE, Oct. 15.—Three hot water bottles filled with dark-brown liquid and hidden in the baby's crib caused S. Fugi to pay a fine of $75 in court here today. Fugi told the police that the liquid was soothing syrup. Police told the court moonshine was too bitter for soothing syrup.

"EAST LYNNE" WILL COME HERE SUNDAY

Heilig Theatre to Present Veteran Melodrama Tomorrow and Monday

When you see the William Fox screen version of "East Lynne," which comes to the Heilig theatre for Sunday and Monday, there will lit through your mind many happy moments and fond memories which everyone associates with this veteran of melodrama. And somehow, the picture does not give the impression of being "old timey," but rather a well directed drama of an olden period that holds your interest every moment it is being enacted on the screen.

Beautifully staged, "East Lynne" might pass as a fashion show of grandma's time with all the frills and bustles that tend to make us smile today, yet gorgeously appointed.

Mr. Fox has chosen wisely in his cast, too. Alma Rubens makes a beautiful and pathetic Lady Isabel and Edmund Lowe is the handsome dandy of a half a century ago as Archibald Carlyle. Lou Tellegen as the villainous Sir Francis Levison and Marjorie Daw and Barbara Hare are ideal. In fact, every member of the cast fits into the character as a well-chosen glove. Other players are Paul Panzer, Belle Bennett, Lydia Knott, Leslie Fenton, Harry Sey-
