

SALEM HIGH PLAYS AT ALBANY TODAY

Bob Drager, Quarter, Out of Game With Smallpox; Few Signal Callers

The Salem high school team will journey to Albany today to meet the swift Albany high school team this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The chances for victory for the local team were diminished Friday when it was found out for certain that Bob Drager, mainstay at quarter, has a case of small pox, and won't be able to show up today to call the signals.

Last Saturday in the game with Astoria, A. Lyons played quarter in the absence of Drager. But he went home ill Friday and as he has been traveling around quite a lot with Drager recently, it is thought that he also may be getting a case of small pox. If he is absent, Coach Huntington will be in a pretty tight squeeze. He will have no one to call the signals for him, unless Olinger—and as he has been out of the game for such a long time it is doubtful that he will be able to make the grade.

That exhausts the quarters Coach Huntington has on hand, and it looks very likely that one of the men on the line will have to call the signals. By next week, however, the team will begin to be shaped in such a way as to make it a great improvement. Lang, the regular full who has been out of the game with an injured finger, will be out for practice once more at the first of the week, and it is expected his playing will greatly strengthen the team. Bache has been doing great stuff in that position, but this is his first year with the high school, and naturally he can not yet be looked upon as a seasoned warrior.

The backfield that will probably start against Albany this afternoon will be Noeske and Kelly at halves; either Phillips or Bache at full, and Olinger at quarter. About the only change that will take place on the line will be Jackson for Blaco at tackle. J. Drager will play opposite at the other tackle berth, and will do the punting as well as to help with carrying the ball occasionally. On the ends, Temple and Ecker will preside and if they play as they have so far this season, they can be relied upon to watch their positions with efficiency. Blaco and Davis may play at guard, and H. Lyons will snap the ball at center.

J. C. Nelson, principal of the high school said yesterday that while school will not be dismissed before the regular time, those students who wish to attend the game will be excused. It is reported that a large group of rooters is planning on making the trip going mostly by private autos. The odds favor Albany at this time. Albany has the best quarter in the Willamette valley. Mason, and all this to the fact that Salem will probably have no quarter at all, and the Albany bunch have a decided edge on the game. Also the team has several lettermen back, and have won all their games so far this season with big scores. The local boys, however, are going after the big side of the score, and the students at the local school are confident that they will get it.

AGGIES ARE READY TO MEET MONTANA

Hard Fighting Aggregation and Scoring Offensives Will Greet Grizzlies

CORVALLIS, Ore., (Oregon Agricultural College.) Oct. 29.—A hard fighting aggregation with a scoring offensive is expected here Saturday in the form of Coach Clark's Grizzlies from University of Montana. These men are highly rated and a stronger defense even than that shown last week is being prepared for their reception by Schissler's men.

The only comparative dope on the contest is the result of the games with Gonzaga. The Aggies scored three touchdowns and a field goal against them while Montana a week later scored two touchdowns. Gonzaga, however, is credited with having had a different looking team for the later contest from the one which appeared here. This is borne out by last week's defeat of Idaho by the Bulldogs.

Saturday's contest being the first coast conference clash of the season here and the Homecoming game as well, is expected to attract the record crowd of the year. Out of town visitors are being advised to start early for Corvallis as the game will start at 1:30, an hour earlier than is customary, hence the early comer will get the best remaining seats.

EASTERN FOOTBALL ELEVEN TO CLASH

Fight to Win Gridiron Supremacy Among Eastern Schools Is Hot

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—(By Associated Press.)—The battle to reach that shadowy goal of eastern gridiron supremacy spurs on a good share of the football forces that come to grips this Saturday along the Atlantic seaboard. Early season setbacks already have blasted the hopes of some of those usually in the foremost rank, but in the dwindling array of contenders no less than 16 squads go forward with the prospect that continued success will entitle them to at least a portion of the seasonal glory.

Of this list, however, only a handful of major eleveners remain to merit consideration in the main struggle. Of these the Army and Cornell face the biggest threats to unbeaten marches by opposing Yale and Columbia, respectively. Dartmouth and Syracuse, in the top flight, face stout rivals in Brown and Pennsylvania State but are forced to come through victory by decisive margins. Pennsylvania meets another inter-sectional rival in Illinois, and though a defeat would not jar the Quakers from eastern contendency, it would affect their general rating.

Cornell and Syracuse share with Bucknell and New York university another distinction—that of having uncessed goal lines—which they will attempt to retain in spite of sturdy opposition this week. The Navy journeys west for a tilt with Michigan, the western conference favorite, while Colgate steps into a nearby foreign field and meets the Michigan Aggies at East Lansing.

OREGON TEAM DEPARTS HARD CONTEST EXPECTED AT PALO ALTO SATURDAY

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—The University of Oregon football team left Eugene today for Palo Alto for its annual game with Stanford. In spite of the hard contest with California last week, the Oregon players are in fair condition. Oregon expects to make a much better showing against Stanford than against California last week, as the Stanford backs are said to be much slower than the Golden Bears' quartet. The dazzling speed of the California backfield coupled with the failure of the Oregon knickers to boot accurately and consistently was the cause of the Webfooters' downfall, it is believed.

The team to start against Stanford will be about the same as that which faced California. Except for Hodgen and Wetzel in the backfield, the team will be made up entirely of veterans.

For Catarrh and Colds

To relieve catarrh or check a head cold, melt a little Vicks in a spoon and inhale the vapors of Camphor, Menthol, Eucalyptus, Thyme and Turpentine. Also put a little in each nostril and sniff well back up the head. Another way is to heat a tin cup, put in a teaspoonful of Vicks and inhale the vapors that way. As fast as the vapors lose their strength, throw out the melted Vicks and add fresh.

Millions of mothers find Vicks the ideal remedy for croup and children's colds because it not only brings quick relief but avoids dosing delicate little stomachs with so much medicine.

Card for November 4 Bouts Is Announced by Matchmaker Harry Plant

Frankie Lewis of Salem will meet Ernie Woodard of Portland in the main event of ten 3-minute rounds at the Armory next Wednesday night, according to arrangements completed by Harry Plant, matchmaker. Both men weigh 145 pounds.

Woodard was the winner of the main event last week when he put Joe Jewett of Seattle to sleep early in the third round. Prior to the Woodard-Jewett go Lewis challenged the winner.

Danny Garth of Silverton will meet Bill Poole of Monroe in the semi-windup of six 3-minute rounds. Both of these fighters are light-heavyweights and tip the scales at 162 pounds. Two snappy preliminaries are also slated to open the curtain. The fights start promptly at 8:30 o'clock. Tickets will be on sale at Smith's cigar store.

Lewis has not been seen in action here since the close of the boxing season in the spring but has been working out hard for the past few weeks and is in excellent condition for the coming fight.

Fans are once more requested by Matchmaker Plant and members of the Salem boxing commission to refrain from smoking during the fights.

TAX EXPERT IS HEARD

YALE PROFESSOR PRESENTS VIEWS TO COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—(By Associated Press.)—Reduction of the maximum surtax rate from 49 to 20 per cent in the new revenue law; retention of the estate or inheritance tax with greatly modified rates and removal of the $10,000 limitation in the provision allowing deductions for earned incomes, were recommended to the house ways and means committee today by Prof. Thomas S. Adams of Yale.

Mr. Adams served with the treasury in an advisory capacity when taxation of income was initiated, and for more than two hours today the committee which will start work on a new tax bill next week, consulted with him on all of the main points in dispute. His views were solicited by republican and democratic members and the full committee of 25 members listened attentively to his responses.

OREGON TEAM FEARED STANFORD COACH TO START HIS FIRST ELEVEN

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 29.—(By Associated Press.)—Coach Warner announced today that he would use his first eleven against the University of Oregon Saturday and thereby removed the theory that he considered Oregon an easy team. Warner said that contrary to the general opinion, he expects a harder game with Oregon than the battle with OAC last week.

The Stanford lineup will be: Nevers, fullback; Bogue and Murphy, halfbacks; Mitchell, quarterback; Walker and Shipkey, ends; Paulsen and Harris, tackles; Swan and Armour, guards; McCree, center.
