The game from Whitman. The Missionaries are reported to be stronger than the Willamette team, having seven lettermen in their lineup who have faced Willamette before for two and three years. The Missionaries seem to hold a jinx over the local boys. But the members of the Willamette team and the students seem to be thoroughly convinced that Whitman is to taste her first football defeat at the hands of Willamette Saturday.

Between halves the freshman and sophomore classes will stage their annual bag rush. There will be nine large sized bags, and 12 men on each team. The bags are placed in midfield and the object is to see which class is able to pull the most bags over the goal line of the other. Manager Nunn promises also that there will be some novel stunts pulled between the halves of the bag rush.

The Theta Alpha Phi dramatic fraternity, Willamette chapter, will present the play, "You and I," Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Waller hall. Although the cast has had but three weeks in which to prepare for the presentation, Professor Rahskopt, director, says that it will be a finished production.

The lineup for Saturday's contest will be:
