

SEVENTY-FIFTH YEAR

SALEM, OREGON, SUNDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 1, 1925

Try This on Your Piano

Jeannette MacDonald, New York classic dancer, doesn't turn up her nose at the "Charleston," but likes it, and is seen showing Mary Graham (right) and Jean Crittenden how to make the toes perform the dance to their own music.

Coolidge Sees Pilgrim Shaft

President and Mrs. Coolidge visit, in Plymouth, Mass., the monument immortalizing the landing of the Pilgrims in 1620.

How "First Lady" Plays

Sees Bolsheviks at British Throat

Bolshevism is rampant in England and seriously threatening the empire, declares Lady Cowan, president of the British Women's Patriotic League, now in New York. She says Communists are insuring trouble in the future by setting up schools to destroy the faith of children in God and the rulers of the country.

Hopes of Defeating Notre Dame Run High Around Northwestern

Spurred on by their showing against the powerful Notre Dame team last year and successes so far this year, Northwestern University has hopes of defeating Knute Rockne's team when they meet Nov. 21 at South Bend. Notre Dame beat the Purple last year by but one touchdown, 13 to 6. Above are two of Northwestern's big stars.

"Marriage Mill" Is Heir to Diamond Quiz Spotlight on Throne of Kashmir

Federal authorities investigating an alleged "marriage mill" in Maryland are studying the case of Mrs. Winfield Shifflet of York, Pa., who, her parents declare, is only 12 years old. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bierce, are pushing annulment proceedings.

Death of his uncle, Sir Pratab Singh, makes Sir Hari Singh (above) who figured as "Mr. A." in the recent sensational Robinson blackmail trail in London, heir to the diamond throne of the maharajah of Jammu and Kashmir. The crown, one of India's richest, carries with it a $5,000,000 yearly income.

Odd Cuffs Give Coat Distinction

Slanting elbow cuffs of fur give distinction to this coat of black velvet cloth. Sleeves and skirt are flared and the neck is finished with a huge collar of fur.

"Dutch" Anderson's Work?

Police believe "Dutch" Anderson, escaped pal of Gerald Chapman, may be responsible for robbery of Bank of North Lewisburg, O., in which $9,000 was obtained by blowing the safe. The terrific charge hurled the safe door through a glass window at front of bank. Photo shows wrecked safe and rogue's gallery photos of Anderson, who is wanted in many cities on a variety of charges, from petit larceny to murder.

Scene of Mitchell Trial, and Opposing Counsel

National Headquarters of Klan in New Home in Washington

Ku Klux Klan has established national headquarters in this building at 17th and I streets, Washington. Hiram W. Evans, imperial wizard, has quarters on the fourth floor.

Congressman Sees Coal Crisis Ahead

Rep. Allen T. Treadway, Massachusetts, forecasts a coal crisis with the advance of prices, and predicts that President Coolidge will submit recommendations to congress as a basis for legislation intended to solve the coal problem.

Americans Flee as French Slaughter Syrians

Americans in the district around ancient Damascus, in Syria, are being ushered to safety by U. S. consuls, following disastrous bombardment of the city by French forts. It is reported that more than 1,000 natives have been killed in the French effort to put down a Mohammedan revolt for liberty. Map shows trouble area. In photo refugees driven from their home by fighting between French and Druse tribesmen are seen with their remaining possessions.

Wed Again After 25-Year Divorce

A second honeymoon is being celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tripp, of New Bedford, Mass., who were divorced 25 years ago. Tripp met her again a year ago, after the death of her second husband, and began another courtship. Both are 62.
