Treasurer's report was accepted as read, bills audited and ordered paid, and the council then proceeded to listen to petitions and remonstrances on streets and sidewalks. Another wedding of interest was that which united in marriage Miss Eva Chappell to Elmer W. Deetz, which occurred at the home of the bride's brother, John Chappell, last Friday evening. Rev. A. H. Dodd was the officiating clergyman. Mr. and Mrs. Deetz left on Saturday for a trip to Klamath Falls, where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lewis, (Bernice Dodd).

Mrs. Deetz has grown up in Falls City, is a graduate of Falls City high and Oregon State Normal, and has been teaching for the past three years. She is the daughter of the late Wm. Chappell and Mrs. Louise Chappell. Mr. Deetz has resided in Lincoln county for many years.

RELATED REPORTS OF PRANKS GIVEN

Hallowe'en Not So Quiet as First Believed; Some Damage Is Reported

Delayed reports bring out the fact that several pranks of somewhat serious nature were executed over Hallowe'en night this year, although it was thought at first that the night had been unusually well ordered.

Past experience had led the school authorities to post a watch around the local high school building for the night, but in spite of this, it was brought out Wednesday, a gang, supposed to be from Salem Heights, with the use of a truck and towing cable, all but ruined one of the school buildings. A member of the Salem school board has posted a reward of $20 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the gang responsible.

The cemetery near the Jefferson road was the object of another prank; a large "for sale" sign being put up at the main entrance. Several mail boxes were torn down in the Salem Heights district much to the disgust of their owners and the mail carriers.

Oil was applied to the street car tracks on North Fifth street but fortunately was discovered by car employes before damage by skidding was done. The tracks were also oiled on Miller in South Salem, and a street car all but skidded into an auto as the result.

Bits For Breakfast

You are no nut— If you are a walnut fan in the Salem district.

There is nothing more substantial than the walnut industry, carried on according to the rules of the game as they have been learned by the leading growers, avoiding the mistakes they have made in their pioneering.

First grade Oregon walnuts are now selling at 3 cents a pound higher than California's best and Oregon's medium grade nuts are selling at 5 cents a pound higher than California's medium grade. That tells the story. Quality counts.

Salem laundry and Vick Bros. had open house last night. Had good crowds. Will repeat it tonight.

Lo the poor Indian is not poor any more here in western Oregon. He is a citizen. The last Indian reservation, the one at Siletz, is being abandoned.

The increase in our walnut crop will be great from now on. The young trees are coming into bearing, and the older trees into greater bearing, and new trees are going out faster than ever.

Then it costs less to grow walnuts in the Salem district than in California; a good deal less and the land here is cheaper than there. So Oregon is bound to become the greatest walnut state in the Union. You can't get away from the natural advantages and the higher quality.

Our Oregon walnuts are going out under their own name—as Oregon walnuts. And the more that go out, and the farther they go, the better they will sell. They will be advertised by their loving friends, going on quality. They will favorably advertise themselves and their state.

STOCK MARKET BOOMING

WALL STREET EXPERIENCES LARGEST SALES IN YEARS

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(By Associated Press.)—Wall street today experienced its greatest boom stock market in nearly 10 years. Total sales were calculated by Associated Press, or 99,000 above the previous year's high, established on October 16, and the largest since the famous "three million share" market which followed the "Leak" on President Wilson's peace note in December, 1916.

The averages of 20 leading railroad and 20 leading industrial stocks attained the highest levels in history with more than 40 individual issues smashing their previous peak prices for the year. The advance, however, was by no means uniform, as several substantial losses were scattered throughout the list. United States steel common, which ordinarily fluctuates within one or two point range was the market leader, jumping over five points to 134 1/2, the highest price since 1917, when the peak price of 136 5/8 was established. Total transactions in this one issue exceeded 160,000 shares. The rally, like so many which have preceded it within the last few weeks, was not associated with any outstanding development in the day's news.
