

STORES TO CLOSE ON ARMISTICE DAY

Business District Cooperates With American Legion for Celebration

GENERAL ORDERS GIVEN

State Line of March and Sections of Parade are Made Public by Col. Carle Abrams, Grand Marshal

Stores in general will be closed Wednesday in observance of Armistice Day and signs are being displayed calling attention to the fact. The general closing is assured according to G. E. McAfee, secretary of the Salem Business Men's league, who has completed a thorough canvass of the business district. Restaurants, confectioneries, cigar stores and similar establishments will remain open.

The week's observance will open Monday, with the Chamber of Commerce devoting its noon luncheon to the American Legion.

Ticket sales are mounting hour by hour and prospects are good for a substantial sum in the treasury of Capitol Post No. 9 after all bills are paid, Biddy Bishop, general chairman, announced last night.

General orders were issued Saturday by Col. Carle Abrams, grand marshal of the day. All organizations are directed to report at the Marion square, Marion and Commercial, promptly at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning and the line of march will move off sharply at 10:30 o'clock upon the completion of the Willamette-Albany football game.

Calls are being made for 50 automobiles needed to carry the Grand Army of the Republic, War Mothers and Women's Relief corps who will occupy a prominent place in the line of march. Col. Abrams staff will report to him at 9:45 o'clock for final instructions. The staff is composed of T. A. Brown, chief of staff and the following aides; Captain Diaz, USA, Major Waller, USA, Major T. E. Rilea, ONG, Major Joseph Shur, ONG, Captain Bolton Hambley, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Col. T. A. Woolpers, Spanish War Veterans, Captain B. F. Pound, Sons of Veterans, L. B. Danemoor, Biddy Bishop and H. R. White, American Legion.

The line of march, sections and positions are as follows. Parade will form on North Commercial at the head of Cheleketa facing south, march on south on Commercial to State; East on State to High; south on State to Church; north on Church to Court; west on Court to High; south on High to State and halt. At this point will march on to High in mass form facing east and attend the ceremonies at the monument on the court house lawn where the flag will be raised during the playing of the Star Spangled Banner and lowered to half mast and a salute fired by squad detailed from Company F. Organizations will then deposit wreaths at the monument. Automobiles containing members of the GAR and WRC and

MAY PRUNE CHERRIANS

MONTHLY MEETING SLATED FOR TUESDAY NIGHT

The question of membership is scheduled to be raised at the meeting and dinner of the Cherrians to be held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock. The matter of whether or not the organization shall participate in the Armistice day parade will also be discussed.

It is said that there are a few Cherrians who have not been satisfactorily active or interested in the organization, and the matter of pruning these from the organization will be threshed out. It is claimed that when the organization has only those who are active in it there will be room for 20 or 25 new members, and an endeavor will be made to obtain these.

If the Cherrians decide to parade on Armistice day, another question will be involved. The Cherrian uniforms, while making a splendid appearance, are anything but warm, consisting of white summer suits, and it has been suggested that in case the organization participates in the parade that the members do not appear in uniform.

WASHINGTON ELEVEN IS VICTOR OVER STANFORD

SOUTHERN TEAM DEFEATED BY SCORE OF 13 TO 0

California Bears Win From WSC 35-0; Montana Beats Idaho 20 to 14

STADIUM, Seattle, Nov. 7.—(By Associated Press.)—Downing Leland Stanford university 13 to 0 here today, despite two threatening marches by the visitors, the University of Washington took the next to the last step toward the Pacific coast conference football championship for 1925. The Cardinals, using 25 passes, made ten first downs, while the Huskies made four. The Purple and Gold attempted but four passes. Ernie Nevers, Stanford fullback and captain, was the hero of the day. He led two desperate and thrilling attempts in the third period to retrieve the day. And when, after being repeatedly felled for time out, he yielded his place to Ernest Patchett, the stands, packed with enemy supporters, broke into long cheers in his honor.

George Wilson, Washington's left half back, doing the brunt of the short heavy carrying, and most often stepping the Cardinal plungers, occasionally laying the would-be runner quiet on the ground, was twice carried from the game. The scores were made in the second quarter on a pass to George Gutmansen, Husky quarterback, and in the fourth on a 62-yard run by Louis Tesreau, brother of the Washington captain, who had taken Wilson's place.

Stanford's first threat to score came after their foes lost the ball by clipping. Nevers carried it to the 14-yard line. He fought like some wild animal. On the fourth down with two yards to go, Nevers tried through the line. Wilson stopped him. Cheers filled the sky when the ball was given to Washington on downs after painstaking measurement.

In the last period, Gutmansen, catching a punt on his own 14-yard line, ran 78 yards, and went out of bounds, trying to make a touchdown despite two tackles at the end of his course. Washington and California, both undefeated this year, meet next Saturday in the crucial contest for coast supremacy. They clash at Berkeley with the memory of a 7 to 7 tie here last year.

CALIFORNIA STADIUM, Berkeley, Nov. 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Bears were in a playful mood this afternoon and they pawed the Cougars all over the lot. Washington State college lost to California 35 to 0.

The Bruins' offensive was in good working order. The California line tore great holes in the lighter Cougar line and the home backfield poured through the breaches. Coach A. A. Exendine of the Cougars started off with a second string eleven, but after California had made a couple of touchdowns he sent in his regulars.

Andy Smith began with his premier lineup. Captain "Tut" Imlay ran wide and far around the ends. Jabs splintered the line and Dixon made long gains. Soon after the kickoff California had marched down the field 80 yards for a touchdown, which came after 16 plays, 12 of which gave the ball to Jabs. In the second quarter Dixon thrilled the stands by tearing off tackle 63 yards to a touchdown. After Imlay and Jabs had contributed to a third touchdown, Smith put in new backfields and another set of ends. California made 29 first downs. WSC 8. The Bears gained 595 yards from scrimmage against 67 for the visitors. The Bears attempted two passes and completed one; the Cougars tried 17, completed 8, and had two intercepted. The crowd numbered around 25,000.

SEVEN GET LICENSES

DAN CUPID GETS BUSY AFTER LONG VACATION

An unprecedented increase in applications for marriage licenses occurred yesterday. For the past month the average has been slightly less than one a day. Saturday seven couples stormed the county clerk's office and obtained licenses that would start them off on the path of matrimony.

Those obtaining licenses were Everett Lewis, Salem, route 3, and June Mitchell, Pratum; Ray A. Boggers, a carpenter, and Eunice McReynolds, both of route 5, Salem; Keith Brown, shipping clerk, 6640 South Commercial, and Etha Gill, Gresham; John Theodore Pias, farmer, and Mary Hartnick, both of Scotts Mills; Theodore E. Burns, farmer, and Frances Hunt, both of Salem, route 1; Fred Votts, Sublimity, farmer, and Kittie Souther, Hullt, Ore.; Donald Harneck, farmer, and Ella Aspinwall, both of Salem, route 3.

LITTLE OPPOSITION OFFERED TAX BILLS

No Radical Differences Are Met With in Preparing Reduction Measure

PARTY LINES FORGOTTEN

President Coolidge, Withholding Definite Endorsement, Grati- fied at Absence of Dissection

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(By Associated Press.)—The non-partisan tax reduction bill almost completed by the house ways and means committee faces an apparent clear track in the house, but varied views on provisions so far decided on were expressed today in other quarters.

While not giving definite endorsement to the measure in its present form, President Coolidge looked with favor on the decisions so far reached by republicans and democrats of the committee. He was told of the committee's action by Representative Tilson of Connecticut who will be the republican leader at the next session and who, while differing over some provisions, agreed in the main with the committee's actions.

The committee working on such a measure, for the first time in years without party lines sharply drawn, rested today before considering revision of the excise tax schedules on Monday. Non-partisan decisions on the main features of the proposed bill—reduction of the income and inheritance rates, and repeal of the gift tax and public utility income returns—assured almost united support of the committee and the house of the bill, Chairman Green believes.

A fight against the proposed cut in the inheritance rates from a maximum of 40 per cent to 20 per cent, probably will constitute the only marked opposition to be presented.

The embryo measure came under fire of some senators today, however, while receiving general endorsement by Chairman Smoot of the finance committee which will have charge of the bill, in the senate. Senators Borah, Idaho, and Norris, Nebraska, republicans, and Walsh, democrat, Montana, assailed the proposed repeal of the public utility income tax returns. Senator Smoot opposed the projected increase in exemptions for married persons from $2,500 to $3,500, and said he believed the inheritance tax should be repealed instead of modified.

Both Senators Borah and Walsh declared they would fight the proposed repeal of the provision in the present law permitting publicity of income tax returns and

MARION COUNTY SCHOOL FUNDS ARE APPORTIONED

COUNTY, STATE AND ELEMEN- TARY ALLOTMENTS MADE

Salem District Will Receive $36,594 From Total of Over $164,000

The schools of Salem will receive $36,594 for the year according to the apportionment of county, state and elementary school funds announced yesterday by Mary L. Fulkerson, Marion county school superintendent. The total amount disbursed by the county and state treasuries, together with the two-million elementary school fund, was $164,478. The funds are divided on the basis of the school census of the county. Last year 15,763 children were registered in the schools of Marion county.

The apportionment just completed includes over $80,000 for the county school funds, while the state school fund disbursement amounted to $23,644, the combined appropriations reaching over $117,000.

The amount of money given to some of the larger districts is as follows:

MURDERER IS SOUGHT

WOMAN IS HACKED TO DEATH IN BRUTAL KILLING

OGDEN, Utah, Nov. 7.—(By Associated Press.)—A "mysterious stranger" who telephoned the Jensen beauty parlor Thursday afternoon is being sought here by the police today as the slayer of Mrs. Hans C. Jensen, 43, proprietress of the shop, whose body was found brutally slashed with a knife in a ravine in the southeastern section of the city this morning.

The body was found with six knife slashes on the head, two of which almost severed the head from the body, and a thumb and finger cut to the bone. Near the body was found a broken hammer, a small meat knife and a quantity of brown paper.

RADICALS REJECT PLAN FOR FUNDING WAR DEBT

PAINLEVE SUGGESTION MEETS WITH PROMPT DEFEAT

Attempt to Restore France's Fin- ance Is Delayed by Socialist Action

PARIS, Nov. 7.—(By Associated Press.)—Premier Painleve's plan for raising 8,500,000,000 francs to provide for France's debts and restore her finances met with a serious setback today almost as soon as the details of the plan were made known. M. Painleve had asked that the bills be taken up Monday and hurried through the chamber and senate before the end of the week. The socialists and radicals, however, found that their provisions resembled so little the capital levy which is an essential part of the socialist program that they would be obliged to reject the bills unless considerably changed.

The premier's plan was handed to the finance committee of the chamber today. It is based on the establishment of a sinking fund comprising about six billion francs in new taxes and resources already in the budget for the payment of interest on the floating debt of about 2,500,000,000 francs.

This total amount of 8,500,000,000 francs would be raised annually for 14 years and be administered by a special amortization commission composed of two senators, two deputies, the governor of the bank of France and other high government officials. The plan generally is regarded as a simple rearrangement of M. Cailaux's projects, with the substitution of "special contributions" from property owners based on incomes and profits for the preceding finance minister's proposed increase of the inheritance taxes.

The socialists consequently gave it a cool reception, declaring that it fell far short of the capital levy they insist upon. Even the radicals found the system proposed so complicated that they deferred judgment until they had had time to study it, while members of the other groups expressed doubt as to the practicability of levying contributions.

The additional receipts to be derived from new taxes are estimated as follows:

From a tax on real estate 1,026,000,000; on stocks and bonds 2,275,000,000; on French bonds, excepting short term defense bonds 1,404,000,000; on industrial and commercial enterprises 964,000,000; unproductive capital 80,000,000; additional income tax 206,000,000.

M. Painleve proposed also a general poll tax of 20 francs yearly on all Frenchmen and all foreigners residing habitually in France.

MOVING OF KIMBALL NOT YET APPROVED

General Board of Methodist Church Agrees to Look Into Proposed Plan

DELAY DEFINITE ACTION

Executive Committee Will Not Meet Until Early Next Year: Transfer of School to Seattle Sought

The report that the executive committee of the general education board of the Methodist church has approved of the plan of moving Kimball school of theology from Salem to Portland is erroneous, according to Dr. Carl Gregg Doney, president of Willamette university, in connection with which the theological school is now maintained.

Dr. E. C. Hickman, president of Kimball college, is in the east for the purpose of placing a plan for moving the college before the national education board of the Methodist church, as the move can be made only if sanctioned by that board, for Kimball is dependent in large part on the board for its financial support.

What did happen, according to a telegram received from Dr. Hickman by Dr. J. D. McCormick, is that the board agreed to at least look into the matter and to give a judicial decision when the executive committee meets the first of the year. The board, according to the fire, has consented to send a man out west for the purpose of reporting to the board the situation as he actually finds it.

But definite action by the board will not be taken until the meeting of the executive committee, which will not be before January. Until that time, according to Dr. Doney, the real opinion of the national board will not be known concerning the matter.

It is known, however, that up to the present time the national board has never given financial support to a theological school held in connection with a state college or university. It was for this purpose that Dr. Hickman went east, to put definitely to the board the question as to whether or not it would continue to help finance Kimball should that college be moved from Salem and away from Willamette university, to Seattle and next to the University of Washington.

Dr. Hickman, it seems, is particularly eager to have the move accomplished as he believes it will have a greater opportunity to expand than it will if it remains in Salem. His reasons for so believing are that in a metropolis more students would be attracted and there would be greater chance for students who find it necessary to make their way at least in part to find work in Seattle. He would also have the school one of religious education as well as of theology.

BOY'S RELEASE ORDERED

EARL ROTH TO LEAVE SCHOOL FOR FEEBLE MINDED

Earl Roth, 13, was released from the feeble minded institute yesterday under a habeas corpus proceeding heard in Circuit Judge L. H. McMahan's court yesterday. Earl is now in the boys' reform school and further proceedings will be started at once to have him taken from there on the grounds that the order committing him to the home was irregular.

The Roth boy lived in Reedport with his parents, according to testimony in the case yesterday. From there he was sent to the industrial home in Salem. Later, attorneys for the boy say, the officials of the institution sent him to the feeble minded home, without as much as informing his parents. The fact that no notice was given the parents was held by Judge McMahan as invalidating the order on which the lad was committed from the reform school.

BANK ROBBER SUSPECT IS SET FREE BY JURY

"NOT TRUE" BILL RETURNED AGAINST WATSON

Portland Man Held for Assault on Donald Farmer: Three Others Indicted

Clyde "Whitey" Watson, arrested several weeks ago and held in the county jail in connection with the robbery of the Aurora bank in 1922, was not indicted by the grand jury yesterday. A not true bill was returned in the case. In the preliminary hearing in the justice court witnesses to the robbery could not identify Watson as the man involved. He was arrested in Astoria.

Four indictments and four not true bills were returned by the grand jury. No indictments of unusual importance were received, with the possible exception of that of Walter Bingham of Portland, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon in connection with an attack on Henry Stauffer, an aged Donald farmer. The assault occurred several months ago and Bingham was arrested in a Portland hospital shortly afterwards. He was being treated for gunshot wounds when arrested. The other indictments are:

J. Frank Jensen, charged with longing to Jesse Fikan. His bail the larceny of an automobile be- was set at $500.

James Hagen, larceny in a dwelling, charged with taking some jewelry from the home of George Zeek. Bail was placed at $1000 by Judge Percy R. Kelly.

Lawrence M. Betts, of Seattle, charged with obtaining goods under false pretenses. Betts was arrested in Corvallis after he is said to have cashed a $37.50 check in the G. W. Johnson store here and received a suit of clothes. He is said to have had no funds in the bank on which the check was drawn. Bail was placed at $1000.

Besides Watson, not true bills were returned for Arthur Wheeler, charged with assault on Frank Wheeler, Earl Myers, held for attempted burglary, and Linn Lovelace, arrested on a delinquency charge.

JURY WEEPS DURING TRIAL OF PHYSICIAN

Sister of Murdered 'Child- Woman' Takes Witness Stand for Defense

LITTLETON, Colo., Nov. 7.—(By Associated Press.)—Tears streamed from the eyes of jurors, witnesses and spectators today as Mrs. Frances Bishop, daughter of Dr. Howard Elmer Blazer, on trial for the murder of his 34 year old daughter, Hazel, told in sobbed fashion the tale of "untold devotion" her father poured on the "human husk" that the defense holds he slew through insanity and "humanitarian impulse."

The aged defendant himself broke into sobs frequently as the daughter unfolded her story in justification of her father's act in taking the life of his first born and her own sister.

Half the jurors wiped their eyes and scores of spectators wept unashamed while she described the father's love, and the utter helplessness of the "child-woman."

"She was utterly helpless," declared the witness, whose appearance on behalf of her father became possible when the state rested its case without calling her to the stand as it had announced it would.

"Her body was terribly twisted," the sister continued. "She couldn't walk, couldn't feed herself and was not able even to brush a fly from her face. The noises she made were animal-like and frightened strangers. The sight of her eating was so revolting that I couldn't stand to watch her."

"For 34 years father poured on her the utmost devotion, love and care.

"He lived for her wholly. His worry over and care for her, I believe, unbalanced his mind and caused him to have the spells that came upon him often after mother died. He became morose and gloomy."

"Her only amusement—I suppose it was amusement for her—was to lie on the floor and crackle a piece of paper, the only object she could grasp, against her body or on the surface of the floor," Mrs. Bishop said.

Tears streamed down her face and she was assisted from the stand by her husband when the court took a 15 minute recess.

The state rested its case early this morning after calling but six witnesses and the defense began its presentation of testimony after Judge Samuel overruled a motion (Continued on page 2)

GREENHOUSE HERE VISITED BY MANY

Hundreds See Marvels of Plant World Through Courtesy of C. F. Be- thaupt, Salem Florist

BY ELLA McMUNN
Last Sunday, November 1, Brethaupt's greenhouses were thrown open to the public and hundreds of persons saw for the first time the marvels that have been wrought in the plant world under glass, while the earth outside was beginning to cuddle down for its winter sleep. The idea was to exhibit the chrysanthemums while they stood in all their beauty in unbroken ranks, before the heavy cutting that makes bare spaces on the benches, and which promises to be pretty lively from now on, as Jack Frost has nipped outdoor gardens deviously.

You met there, perhaps, a tall, slender, blonde young man, not much given to talking, but who told you the names of the various flowers, and you went away without knowing that you had spoken briefly with a plant "wizard" whose name may one day be handed about like that of Luther Burbank. The name of OUR young man is Leo Krome, and he has personally supervised and handled and passed his magic wand over 10,000 growing and blooming chrysanthemums, numbering 35 varieties, and 11,000 carnations, to say nothing of ferns, cyclamens, poinsettias, and hundreds of other things in the four big glass houses. Modesty is his middle name, and he says he has competent help, three assistants at the present time, but if you have ever sat up with a half dozen chrysanthemums some winter, imagine if you can what it means to come through a hot summer and a cold winter with 16,000 of them and 11,000 carnations thrown in for good measure.
