

"ANNIHILATE EUGENE" FOOTBALL BATTLE CRY OF SALEM HIGH STUDENT BODY

ANNUAL CONTEST KEENLY AWAITED

No-Defeat Record Made by Local Eleven; Drager Returns to Quarter

"Smash Eugene!" This is the battle cry of the red and black which is hurling defiance at the invading purple and white players who will meet Salem high school in the annual clash between the two schools on Sweetland field Wednesday afternoon. The game is called for 2:30 o'clock.

Only a broken leg will keep anyone away from the game, as far as the student body is concerned, and even in this event it is probable that a wheel chair would be borrowed for the occasion. The largest crowd of the local season is anticipated for the football contest between the two schools, traditional rivals and ancient opponents in all lines of sport and activities.

Salem high goes into the conflict with a record of no defeats by high school elevens. West Linn, Astoria, Albany and Hillsboro have been conquered, the one game being dropped to the Chemawa Indian school team.

The game with Hillsboro, last Friday, while being turned in a victory for the Salem team, was nevertheless rather disastrous. Lang, star fullback, who had just returned to the team after a protracted absence due to an injured finger, sustained a badly sprained ankle in the game and will probably be unable to play against Eugene. Eckert, who has been playing regularly at end all year, also received a sprained ankle and may not be able to play in the game. In fact, sprained ankles appear to have been the feature of the Hillsboro contest, for Noeske, too, received a sprained ankle. He was out for practice last night, however, and his ankle did not appear to bother him. He has been showing some great stuff at half, and his loss would be felt in the Eugene tilt.

On the other hand, B. Drager regular quarter, is back in the game after a two weeks' absence with the smallpox, and in scrimmage last night appeared not to have lost an ounce of his energy or of his cunning. He has all the plays well under his control and the same push that marked his playing in the first part of the season.

Salem's chances to take the victory against Eugene appear to be good in spite of the fact that Eugene is reported to have one of the strongest teams in years. In case of a wet field, Salem's chances will not likely be discounted, as it is reported that Eugene's chief strength lies in her passing.

The backfield combination for Salem will be a fast one and hard hitting, with B. Drager at quarter, H. Lyons at full and Kelly and either Noeske or French at halves. The line will be lined up as usual, with the possible exception of Query at guard, who failed to appear for practice last night because of sickness. In his place will be Jackson, whose running mate will be Davis. J. Drager and Blasco will fill in at tackles. Both are reported to have improved greatly since the first of the season. H. Lyons will take his regular place at center. Temple will be at end, and in lieu of Eckert at the other extremity. Adams will fill in. The latter played a part of the Hillsboro game, and it is said he showed great speed and ability to break up the offense. Whether Salem wins Wednesday will be largely determined by the ability and performance of the line.

BEARCATS WORKING FOR ALBANY GAME

Hard Scrimmage Is Ordered to Familiarize Men With Wet Weather Field

When Willamette's football team meets Albany college on Sweetland field at 9:30 o'clock on one of the earliest attractions of Armistice day, it is expected that the over-confidence that marked last Friday's caricature with Linfield will have entirely disappeared. The men, evidently a bit ashamed of the outcome of the game, have been thinking about it ever since and began immediately to prepare for Albany, reporting for practice and consequent scrimmage Saturday morning.

Monday afternoon the Bearcats underwent a stiff workout on the field which was soggy from the rain. So far this season the Bearcats have had clear weather during every game they have played and consequently are not as yet used to a wet field. For fear that the Albany team would be able to take advantage of a wet field, an unusually long scrimmage was held so that the men would get used to holding the ball and completing their plays in case the rain should still be falling Armistice morning.

With the game against Pacific university looming on November 21, intensified endeavor is underway to shape a team that will be capable of winning that game which is perhaps the most important and hardest fought game of the Willamette schedule each year. To start with Coach Rathbun asked one of the men to turn in his suit as he had failed to report to practice, as regularly as he should, and did not seem to have the proper attitude. His name was not disclosed.

The passing attack that was looked for from Willamette in the game against Linfield last Friday failed to mature, but continued practice in this area would seem to indicate that the Bearcats will open up via the aerial route if once they find the chance.

The Willamette line is in good shape and in last night's scrimmage showed well in spite of the rain both on the offensive and on the defensive. The backfield combination that will start against Albany has not been named definitely, although it is highly probable that Riedell will start as quarter rather than Winslow. Riedell plays a passing game while Winslow plays almost entirely through the line and especially through center.

Willamette is expected to beat the Albany outfit at least 18 points, but a surprise may befall as in the Linfield game. Albany is reported to have a strong team for its size, and to have a good forward pass offensive, which is Willamette's particular weakness. Inasmuch as the men will be fighting hard for the right to start against Pacific, it is expected that Willamette will show in the game against Albany, just about how her chances are for taking the game against Pacific.

WOULD FORCE SETTLEMENT

OLYMPIA, Nov. 9.—(AP.)—The state department of public works today filed a petition in Thurston county court for a writ of mandate to compel the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company to effect property settlement in connection with the Skagit Valley Rural Telephone company through the Bellingham exchange.

Marshfield—Coos Bay Water Co. will spend $150,000 in plant improvements.

SILVERTON FIGHT FANS ARE READY

Promising Card Is Arranged for Hippodrome Smoker This Evening

SILVERTON, Ore., Nov. 9.—(Special).—A program which promises to give boxing fans a real treat has been arranged by the Eagles' Athletic club and will be held at Vic's hippodrome on Tuesday evening, November 10. Danny Garth, instructor for the athletic club, is slated to meet Tiny Hayes of Independence in a 10-round main event. Garth was in the squared circle last Wednesday night at the Salem Armory where he made a good showing.

Other contests Tuesday evening will be a 6-round go between George Johnson and Buck Hicks, both of Silvertown; a 4-round special with Kenneth Denton of Silvertown and Al Griffen of Tacoma, Wash. Schley and Kid Bye will mix in a 4-round special and as a curtain raiser Spider Kelley of Baker and Baby Johnson of Silvertown will feature.

about by the failure of an invention of his to materialize, caused this condition, he asserted, adding that "everybody had to pitch in and help out."

His recollection of the events surrounding the death of the "child-woman" were confused, he said repeatedly, and declared that he could not "differentiate between what I knew and what they told me."

"I remember nothing of writing any notes on that day, but the handwriting there does look like mine," he said, when handed two notes, scrawled on yellow paper, which the state contends is proof of his intended deed. Both were addressed "Dear Daughter," and "de declared:

"I made up my mind many years ago not to leave Hazel behind," while the other directed the disposition of his estate and "he body of" himself and the "human husk."

Hazen was baptized a member of the Presbyterian church when but an infant," he said. "We were all Presbyterians, we believed in the immortality of the soul, and I did not kill my daughter "if I ever said so I do not remember it," and must have been "mind."

The father also drew a vivid picture of his first child, who was "ravaged by disease from infancy" and "who never developed mentally or physically from childhood."

"She knew me, though," he declared. "Once when I was away from home she was stricken with these convulsions which were the first sign we ever had that she was ill. Doctors who attended her gave her up, and I was called home. When she heard my step and saw me she smiled—or came near to smiling as she would—and within 24 hours she was practically recovered."

The defense has only one more witness, Dr. Howell T. Pershing another Denver alienist, to place on the stand tomorrow.

His examination is expected to be brief, and he was followed by several relative witnesses that the state has to offer.

It is expected that closing arguments will not be reached before Thursday, since the court will recess Armistice day.

Silvertown

SILVERTON, Ore., Nov. 7.—(Special).—With the completion of the Silvertown armory which is to be dedicated on Armistice Day, the six-year struggle of the combined forces of the National Guard and the American Legion has ended. Their hopes that some day they would have a home of their own are now realized. Starting in 1919, with a number of prominent Silvertown citizens and the National Guard company together with the later work of the American Legion many efforts were made through city, county, and state to get the necessary appropriations to construct the building. For a time it seemed that the work was all in vain as the county was reluctant in making the appropriation after the state and city had appropriated their shares. An effort was made each year to get the county appropriation but failed until 1925 when the present members of the county court brought about the much desired event.

The drill room of the new armory had the largest floor space of any building at Silvertown. The Delbert Reeves Post and the Legion auxiliary each have a room where they will hold their meetings. The National Guard have the following rooms for its convenience: company club rooms with individual steel lockers, quartermaster rooms, officers' rooms, captain's room. Other pleasing features of the building are the indoor target range, the stage soon to be equipped with scenery, a balcony on three sides of the drill floor, a large heating plant, showers, and a vast amount of storing space.

The Parent-Teacher association met in regular session Thursday afternoon at the high school auditorium. A good attendance was present. Prior to the meeting Miss Lavella Yantis, domestic art instructor, held an exhibition of the work done so far in her department. At this 24 pieces of underwear and 8 wool dresses were on display. A style show will be a feature of the department this winter.

At the P. T. A. meeting plans for assisting in the purchase of a piano for the high school were discussed. No definite decisions were made on these plans, however.

Mrs. Helen Wrightman presented the silver cup which the Silvertown P. T. A. won at the state convention for having the largest paid up membership outside of Portland. Mrs. J. John Hoblitt, president of the Silvertown club accepted the cup. Mrs. I. A. Stewart, chairman of the membership committee gave a report showing that Silvertown had 220 paid members.

Mrs. LeRoy Lemmon then announced that she had the layettes cut out and these were distributed among the women who will make them. They are to be a part of the loan closet maintained by the P. T. A. for the assistance of the Silvertown health welfare council.

It was also announced that a food sale would be held this month to re-emburse the treasury. Mrs. H. B. Latham gave a short library talk and Miss Beniah Wright gave a report on the state convention.

SILVERTON, Ore., Nov. 9.—(Special to The Statesman).—Mrs. B. Sundvold died at her home a mile west of Silvertown Sunday evening at 8 o'clock following an illness of over four years. Four years ago, during a cold spell, Mrs. Sundvold fell on the icy pavement, breaking her hip. Although the bones knit and she was able to get about after a year's confinement, she has not been well since. For the past five weeks she has been confined to her bed constantly. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Sundvold came to Silvertown over 15 years ago and have made this their home since. Besides her husband Mrs. Sundvold leaves a foster daughter, Mrs. Gilbert Underdahl, Mrs. Sund-

SACRAMENTO BALL TEAM NOT SUPPORTED, DECLARED

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 9.—(By Associated Press.)—The coast league session came to a peaceful close here tonight without anything of importance being accomplished.

Salt Lake City and Vernon clubs are to remain where they are at present and the matter was not brought before the directors officially. The local club will be sold by the Morings, if possible to a group of local business men.

Should they fail in reaching an agreement, the club will be placed in some other city and the league voted Moreing power to move it to any city agreeable to the league.

Lack of support was given as the reason for the move by Moreing. The schedule for the first week in 1926 is as follows:

Vernon at Sacramento; Salt Lake City at San Francisco; Oakland at Los Angeles; Seattle at Portland.

The player limit for each club next year will be 18 men and two players who have had neither major league nor class AA experience. Heretofore each club has been allowed 20 veterans and five recruits.

GAME CHECK IS WANTED

HUNTERS TO BE ASKED TO FILL OUT QUESTIONNAIRE

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 9.—(By Associated Press.)—Efforts are to be made by the state game commission to obtain accurate reports of all game killed in Oregon. A plan looking to this end suggested by Warden Averill at the commission meeting here today was adopted and will be put into effect in the near future. The plan is that all applicants for licenses be requested to fill out a blank questionnaire giving the numbers of each kind of game animals or birds killed during the previous year.

Another suggestion was made but not acted upon, that hunter be required to wear license plate in the middle of their backs, while hunting. The license plates would be numbered, and reports of violations could be more easily checked on, it was said.

Stream pollution was discussed and Warden Averill was authorized to ascertain what action is being taken by cities in disposal of sewage. If it is found that methods conflict with state law, the law will be cited to officials of those cities.

Decision was reached to survey and post the Steens mountain game refuge in Harney and Malheur counties.

A story of the torrid South Sea islands, "where men go to forget," a story that carries a punch, sums up the "White Cargo" coming to the Heilig Theatre on Thursday, November 12. It is said to be one of the most forceful as well as one of the best dramatic vehicles scheduled for Salem presentation.

TURKEY DAY FIGHT CARD IS PLANNED

Matchmaker Plant Considering Meeting of Phil Bayes and Dick Sims

Just when the next smoker is to be held at the Salem Armory is a matter that Harry Plant, local matchmaker, has not yet decided, but he reports that he is planning on some bouts for Thanksgiving evening. It is certain that another bout will not be held until after the annual Salem Corn show November 19, 20 and 21, unless Matchmaker Plant should put on a card this week, which is not probable as it is thought to be too soon after the last smoker.

Matchmaker Plant is seriously considering a bout between Phil Bayes of Salem and Dick Sims, who has just returned from a trip to Australia where he is reported to have been successful in his bouts. Bayes has the Salem crowd with him and Sims' recent trip makes him a box office attraction.

The proposed bout between Frankie Lewis of Salem and George Ingersoll of Astoria was all but blown up when the latter went down to defeat at Tacoma last week, thus making him more or less of a questionable bet, although Lewis has been showing tuff that will make him figure in the receipts if he has anything like a match.

WRINKLES, LINES OR CROWS-FEET Lemon Juice Tightens Skin

Squeeze the juice of two lemons in a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents, shake well and you have the very mildest anti-wrinkle lotion to tighten relaxed skin, erase fine lines and eradicate crows-feet.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion into the skin at night. By morning most of the tell-tale wrinkles, tired lines and crows-feet are smoothed out, giving a more youthful contour to cheeks, chin, throat. It leaves the skin velvety soft, clear and fresh. Beauty experts use this astringent lotion for enlarged pores, also to bleach and whiten sallow, tanned skin.

Mix this harmless lotion yourself since it acts best immediately after prepared.—Adv.
