'WHITE CARGO' IS DRAMA OF FEELING

Play Coming to Heilig To-night, Strikes Directly at Heart of Audience

There is no doubt that Madame Eye asked the question, of Father Adam: "Did you ever Mamma Palaver?" And Father Adam must have answered: "Not until I met you." And Mamma palavering has been the downfall of men and women and empires, coupled with a dash of gin or a spot of Scotch, mingled with some climate, Arctic or tropical. That is the story which is told in "White Cargo," one of the best dramas coming to Salem. It opens at the Heilig theatre tonight. No person cares whether this is an original New York cast or not. A New York cast means nothing to Salem players, who know a well interpreted play when they see it.

"White Cargo" could hardly have been written without strong language. It is written around circumstances and conditions where such language must be used. It is written around a theme which strikes at the basis of all lives, and yet, dealing as it does with these matters, there is nothing of the sensual aroused in the minds of those who see it. Straightforward and plain, the story goes on to the inevitable conclusion.

"White Cargo" is a rough play, if one may describe it in such a term. It's strong meat, but babes and sucklings might well go to see this, and come away with no harm, but rather a larger knowledge of life.

The play is splendidly staged. Well lighted. The backgrounds add tremendously to the general significance of the story and every credit must be given to the stage managing.

ROTARY FATHERS ENTERTAIN SONS

Armistice Day Is Also Observed With Col. Carle Abrams Main Speaker

Father and Son week and Armistice Day were observed by the Rotarians at their weekly luncheon Wednesday.

Col. Carle Abrams delivered the Armistice day address. He declared that the celebration of Armistice Day does not mean a preparation for more wars nor is it a celebration for past wars, but is, rather, the celebration for the ending of a war. He stated that while he hopes to see the world arrive at the stage of its development when wars are not an institution of it, he believes that the United States should be prepared and should not hesitate to fight if it means the defense of the principles upon which the country has been founded.

L. M. Gilbert, superintendent of the state training school for boys and Rev. J. J. Evans of the First Christian church of Salem, delivered brief addresses on subjects with significant bearing on the father and son week.

George Arbuckle, chairman of the boys' work committee, submitted a report of the committee's activities during the month of October. It was brought out that three boys who had run away were induced to return to their homes in Salem. Seven boys and four girls were found part time work to help them through school. Three boys were placed in homes. Thomas A. Livesly, Jr., ren-

PORTLAND TO SEND CARAVAN TO SALEM

Prominent Business Men of Rose City to Pay Visit About November 20

Portland business men are planning to send a large auto caravan to Salem, probably November 20, for the purpose of acquainting Portland business men with the business methods and conditions in Salem. It is estimated that there will be over 50 Portland business executives to make the trip. News of the proposed caravan was received Wednesday by the local Chamber of Commerce from E. N. Weinbaum, manager of the trade and commerce department of the Portland Chamber of Commerce.

The executives are planning to spend the entire day in Salem, with the object in view of calling on the various business men in Salem for the purpose of becoming acquainted with the business of Salem.

Mr. Weinbaum in his letter to the local chamber asked that the Chamber of Commerce here furnish him with data concerning the industrial advance of Salem during the past five years. The excursion will be confined only to men who are executives of big business in Portland.

HOW TO QUICKLY LIMBER UP SORE, STIFF, SWOLLEN JOINTS

It was a high-class pharmacist who saw prescription after prescription fail to help hundreds of his customers to get rid of rheumatic swellings and stiff, inflamed pain-tortured joints.

And it was this same man who asserted that a remedy could and would be compounded that would make creaky, swollen, tormented joints work with just as much smoothness as they ever did.

Now this prescription, rightly named Joint-Ease, after being tested successfully on many obstinate cases, is offered through progressive pharmacists to millions of people who suffer from ailing joints that need limbering up. Swollen, twingy, inflamed, stiff, pain-tortured joints are usually caused by rheumatism, but whatever the cause, Joint-Ease soaks straight in through skin and flesh right down to the tendons and ligaments of the joints—right where all the trouble starts—and then blessed relief comes quickly.

Remember, Joint-Ease is for ailments of the joints, whether in ankle, knee, hip, elbow, spine or finger, and when you rub it on, you may expect speedy and gratifying results.

It is now on sale at Danich J. Fry Drug Co. and druggists everywhere for 60 cents a tube. Always remember, when Joint-Ease gets in joint agony gets out—quick.
