on its right leg, it's all off. And just think of Jimmy—he's got to have something to lose his head over."

"Oh, all right, then," flashed Miss Power; "if it means so much to the show, go ahead; insure them for $25,000 if that will suit you. Anyhow—well, it's none of your business, anyhow!"

Gas Station Modern Toll Gate on Tennessee Roads

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—The gasoline filling station has replaced the familiar old sapling that formerly was swung to block the public highways in the form of a toll gate.

Motorists are paying part of the construction expense at three cents a gallon at the filling station pump where formerly every vehicle passing the designated spots had to plank down a quarter.

Toll gates were satisfying traffic 100 years ago when the pioneers blazed through forested areas and established accommodation for travel, but today the state is building its own improved and modern highways. Motorists will drive miles out of the way over another route to escape the periodical gates.

On June 14, 1796, one turnpike company organized a toll road with rates ranging for one cent for every ten sheep or hogs, to three cents for each four-horse carriage. The rates advanced with the progress in roads and modes of travel and similar toll systems were adopted in other states.

The old toll gates in Tennessee became unpopular. Now through the red, blue, yellow and white gas filling pump, the state is netting nearly $3,000,000 in 1925 toward its public highway construction fund.

Pupils' Time and Money of Taxpayers Is Saved

DENVER — Reorganized rural education in seven schools in Logan county permitted 90 pupils to accomplish two years' work in one year at a saving of $5,313.78 to those paying school taxes. Similar results are being obtained elsewhere in the state, said Mrs. Mary C. C. Bradford, state superintendent and former president of the National Education Association.

The plan is based on tests and measures similar to that tried out in the cities, but more in the experimental stage in sparsely populated rural schools. The tests classify students according to their mental ages. Mrs. Bradford hopes to reduce the cost and time in rural education.

Notice is hereby given that I have impounded the following described dogs in compliance with Ordinance No. 1404, to-wit: One large brindle dog, long hair, white around neck, collar on. One bobtailed black shepherd dog. The above described dogs will be killed if not redeemed by owners, on or before November 17, 1925, as provided in said Ordinance.
