EVERLASTING LIGHT:—The sun shall no more go down; neither shall the moon withdraw itself; for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended. Isaiah 60:20.

OREGON CELERY FOR THE PRESIDENT

The Thanksgiving dinner of the White House at Washington is to be supplied with Oregon celery—
The finest that the world can produce—
The kind that has three times won national prizes over the famous Kalamazoo celery, supposed theretofore to be the best celery known.

The celery for the White House Thanksgiving dinner table has been forwarded by the Labish Meadows Celery Union. It was grown in the Labish Meadows district, a few miles north of Salem, which has produced this year for the markets about 300 car loads of celery, and which will grow at least 400 car loads the coming season.

It is the production of such crops as this that is calling favorable world wide attention to Oregon—
For besides celery of a better quality than can be produced elsewhere, we are sending to the markets higher class walnuts than can be grown outside of this state, and better filberts, flax products, peppermint oil, Evergreen blackberries, gooseberries, and a long list of other things produced here.

Oregon celery from the Labish district makes a "dish fit to set before a king," or before any one of our 110,000,000 uncrowned kings.

THE CORN SHOW

The Salem corn show is better and bigger than the one of last year—
And that is sufficient recommendation for this year's show to any one who saw last year's.

These exhibits foster a spirit of commendable rivalry between the live communities of Marion county, and between individuals—

A rivalry calculated to foster constant improvements in agricultural and horticultural methods.

The annual corn show in Salem has helped to put Marion county at the head of the list as the greatest corn county in the Pacific Northwest, a distinction that means much towards the permanent wealth of this section.

THRIFT AND CONSERVATION

Thrift instruction in the schools has resulted since its introduction in recent years, in increasing greatly the number of bank depositors. And with the saving habit learned and practiced the youthful depositors learn also to make wise investments which are secondary only to savings since more than a billion dollars were lost last year in this country in get-rich-schemes.

The teaching of thrift in the schools stimulates emphasis of thrift in the homes. It is an urge to parents to save and to encourage their children to save and to save for a purpose. Among the objects of saving on the part of both is for education of the children and for homes with music, books and other educational features. The effect of such impelling motives upon children is that they save definitely and systematically.

Conservation and thrift are usually inseparable. Conservation of health is as essential as emphasizing the more directly economic features of life. Conservation of ability is also expressed in the high school development of both rural and urban boys and girls. And this kind of conservation results in a constantly increasing number of high schools made accessible to rural boys and girls.

School officials, parents and teachers should give persistent consideration to thrift and conservation as essential to the proper training of the boys and girls in both school and home.

CERTIFIED SEED POTATOES

Of the improvements in the potato industry there is perhaps none of greater importance than that of growing certified seed. In recent demonstrations a grower planted certified seed and obtained from it 257 bushels U. S. No. one grade per acre while the uncertified seed of the same variety yielded only 191 bushels. The difference in yields was 66 bushels in favor of certified seed.

The Agricultural College is doing splendid service in cooperating with growers in directing this certification. It means greater profits and the stabilizing of markets for this product, which is of immeasurable value to the farmers and growers. By marketing certified seed an impetus is also given to markets for commercial food stocks and Oregon's reputation as a state where the best quality potatoes are raised is being enhanced rapidly.

At the next meeting of the chapter Reverend Martin Ferechethian will speak to the group on psychology. The following meeting will be the annual Christmas party.

Those who were guests at the metin gon Thursday included the following: Mrs. D. X. Beechler, Mrs. W. H. Byrd, Mrs. E. E. Fisher, Mrs. A. L. Gafrey, Mrs. Harwood Hall, Mrs. W. T. Hickey, Mrs. E. J. Huffman, Mrs. W. M. Hughes, Mrs. P. J. Kuntz, Mrs. G. W. Laflar, Mrs. C. K. Logan, Mrs. William McGilchrist, Mrs. B. J. Miles, Mrs. W. W. Moore, Mrs. A. C. Parr, Mrs. O. E. Price, Mrs. F. W. Seise, Mrs. W. M. Smith, Mrs. A. T. Woolpert, and Miss Annora Welch.

SOCIETY

Chapter G of the P. E. O. sisterhood held one of the largest and most interesting meetings of the season yesterday afternoon when nineteen members met at the home of Mrs. W. T. Hickey at 210 Myers street. The program feature of the afternoon was a comprehensive paper on the "Poetry of Today," written and read by Mrs. C. K. Logan who emphasized particularly the poets of Salem. An unusually full business meeting took place with many matters coming up for consideration.

At the tea hour the hostess served delicious refreshments, assisted by Mrs. G. W. Laflar.

London now has an organization of volunteers pledged to undertake the maintenance and protection of public utilities in the event of a general strike, objective of radical leader. Lord Hardinge is president of the organization.

BARTLETT PEAR POOL PAID WELL

Members of Producers Cannery Are Getting Checks for $85 a Ton

Members of the Producers Cannery and Packing company who furnished Bartlett pears to their cannery during the past season are now receiving checks which call for $85 a ton for their pears. This is very good, considering the fact that the cash prices paid for Bartletts during the past season ran around $55 to $60 a ton. This pear pool almost finishes up the 1925 packs of this company that runs its cannery cooperatively for the benefit of its stockholder-members. The gooseberry pool is yet to be closed up. The gooseberry pack is selling, but it is not going as fast as some of the other products have gone this year.

Bits For Breakfast
The corn show is great—
Notable among the exhibits is that of the Valley Packing company, showing Cascade brand bacon, sausage, hams and lard—as fine as the best on earth.

You are to meet Santa Claus at the corn show tomorrow afternoon and evening. It is to be a surprise for the kiddies.

Some one suggests that with immigration shut off, it may again be necessary to teach our boys and girls to help around the house.

The modern boy is like the old fashioned one except that he wants more than a nickel.

A Salem garage man says the driver who places courtesy as the first one will have no trouble remembering the other traffic rules.

President Coolidge is to have Labis celery for his Thanksgiving dinner—the finest celery grown in the whole world.
