Outstanding Concert Announced for Tonight

Few music lovers in Salem will want to miss the concert at 8:15 o'clock this evening at the First Presbyterian church which Lillian Jeffreys Petri and Prof. Paul Petri will give jointly under the auspices of the Salem branch of the American Association of University Women as one of the outstanding treats of the year. Professor and Mrs. Petri are at the head of the voice and piano departments, respectively, of the Oregon Agricultural college school of music. The proceeds from the concert will go to the benefit of the scholarship loan fund.

An exceedingly interesting program is announced for this evening as follows:

Impromptu, (Schubert) Mrs. Petri.

(a) Il Mio Bel Foco, Marcello 1686-1739; (b) Ideale (Tosti); (c) Si nous la vie Compris, (Denza) Mr. Petri.

(a) Berceuse (Chopin); (b) Etude (black keys), (Chopin) Mrs. Petri.

(a) Zwei Grenadiere (Schumann); (b) Traum Dsch die Damerung (Strauss); (c) Erl Koening (Schubert); Mr. Petri.

(a) Bear dance, (Bela Bartok); (b) Indian dance, (Wolf); (c) Bird song, (Palmgren); (d) Country dance, (Hinton); (e) Amiable Conversation, (Cowell), Mrs. Petri.

(a) Lone Dog, (Homer); (b) A Memory, (Ganz); (c) Twilight, (Tom Dobson); (d) Fiddler of Downy (Homer); (e) Edward, (old Scotch ballad) Loewe, Mr. Petri.

Episcopal Bazaar Tomorrow

Interesting preparations are being rapidly completed for the annual Christmas bazaar which the ladies of St. Paul's guild and of the Junior guild of the Episcopal church will sponsor all day tomorrow at the parish house. A doll booth, as well as the usual array of attractive articles in needlework, will be on sale. Mrs. Frank Spears will be in charge of the tea table. Mrs. C. C. Page and Mrs. Homer Smith will be in charge of the cooked foods.

Former Salem Girl Wins Concert

The many Salem friends of Lillian I. Carleton of 1377 Perry street, Eugene, formerly Lillian "Kerman, will be interested to know that she was declared the winner of a unique "bobbed hair" contest held in that city. The competition was won by the Eugene Guard announced in commenting on the contest. Mrs. Carleton is a sister of Mrs. Roy Burton.

The winning essay follows, with a word limit of 50 words adding to the interest of the competition: Scene I. Time, '88.

Place: Sitting room.

Small girl standing in front of a mirror. Black, curly hair, in disarray. She is trying to comb out the tangles. Glances often at the clock. Struggles vainly, finally bursts into tears, throws comb at the mirror, runs from the room. Scene II. Time 1900.

Place: Street crossing.

Young lady dressed in long dress, waist rigid, sleeves balloon shaped. Her hair is escaping from its combs and pins, as the result of a strong wind. Her hat is at a crazy angle. Finally manages the crossing. Scene III. Time, '25.

Place: Golf links.

Lady dressed in short skirt and sweater, stout shoes, and body free. How shall we complete the picture? Her hair must be short. This is why I have bobbed my hair—liberty complete and undefined.

Cooked Food Sale Tomorrow

Barbara Frietche tent, Daughters of Veterans, will hold a cooked food sale on Saturday, November 21, at Stewart's repair shop, on the north side of Court street.

Sewing Club Tonight

Members of the Barbara Frietche sewing club will meet this evening (Friday) November 20, at the home of Mrs. Jennie Miller, 351 South Nineteenth street.

D. of V. Tent Inspected

An important event of the week was the inspection of Barbara Frietche tent No. 2, on Tuesday evening in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion with baskets of pink roses and chrysanthemums.

The following department officers were present for the event: Mrs. Mary Entress, department president; Margaret Becker of Portland, department inspector; Madeline Nash, department secretary; department council member No. 1, Lucy Loose of Portland; department council member No. 2, Julia K. Webster; department press correspondent, Bertha Bergman; guide, Marie Bennett of Portland, and department chief of staff, Louisa Kezar. Additional guests were Mr. Charles Fessen-den, division secretary treasurer of the Sons of Veterans; Miss Maude E. Stevens, president of Mary Logan tent No. 8 of Portland; Mrs. Monroe, past department secretary of Seattle; Grace Green, past department junior vice president, Portland, and Mr. Loose of Portland.

A number of members were present from Woodburn and Sil- verton.

Circle President Honored

The southeast circle of the First Methodist church met on Wednesday afternoon at the home of their president, Mrs. E. C. Miller. Following the devotional period and business session, the ladies took charge of the program and initiated a birthday surprise for Mrs. Miller. Mrs. E. J. Swafford read a birthday tribute which Mrs. Halvorsen had composed. Mrs. Miller was made the recipient not only of a delicious birthday cake, with candles, but also of a beautiful bouquet of roses. Mrs. Miller also received a box of magnificent chrysanthemums from her son and his wife in Urbana, Ill.

Woman's Club Plans Bridge Tea

Mrs. Homer Goulet will act as general chairman for the anticipated bridge tea which the Salem Woman's club will sponsor early in December. Mrs. Goulet will be assisted in the making of the arrangements by Mrs. George A. White. Club members who will form the committee of assistants for the event will be named at an early date. The proceeds from

SCREEN FAVORITE COMING

Colleen Moore, proven favorite of the moving picture patrons of Salem, is going to be the surprise offering of the Oregon theater over the week-end, appearing in her latest production, "We Moderns." The showing here will be the first for this picture in the entire northwest, and it comes heralded from the east as a clever and amusing bit that will not soon be forgotten. New York critics rated it as the best thing that Miss Moore has ever done.

The affair will go towards the interior improvement of the club house, including the tinting of the walls. The Giese-Powers Furniture company will lead many attractive appointments for the room on the day of the bridge tea.

Chapter AB to Meet

Mitchell's Wife Thanks Widow of Lansdowne for Aiding Him

Testimony of Mrs. Zachary Lansdowne before Army court-martial of Col. William Mitchell, in Washington, may result in court martial of a naval officer. She declared an aide of Secretary Vilas, sought to have her give false testimony in the probe of Shenandoah disaster, in which her husband, the ship's commander, was killed. She is seen being thanked by Mrs. Mitchell (left), wife of the colonel, after telling her story.
