

NEW VOTING PLAN BACKED BY GRANGE

Salem Unit Wants Secret Ballot to Restore Better Type of Legislation

The Salem grange launched agitation for a new method of voting in the legislature, at its meeting yesterday. The proposition is to vote on measures by secret ballot with the object of obtaining a better type of legislation.

The following are the resolutions adopted:

"WHEREAS: the present system of voting upon measures in the legislative assembly fosters log-rolling and vote trading methods, which result in the enactment of many laws that have little merit, are purely sectional and serve no general interest, but are used to advance the personal interest of the members who introduce them; and

"WHEREAS: much of the time of the legislative session is used up in the discussion and jockeying with such measures, while measures of real merit, and in the interest of the whole state, are allowed to die for lack of time or are rushed to vote without due consideration; therefore,

"RESOLVED: That Salem Grange No. 17 of Patrons of Husbandry in regular session, Nov. 21, 1925, asks that the method of voting upon measures in the legislative assembly be so changed as to discourage logrolling and vote trading methods in the consideration of measures; and further,

"RESOLVED: That the constitution be so amended as to provide that members of the legislative assembly shall vote by secret ballot upon all measures, and that the record of such vote be made public after the end of the legislative session, and that such other changes be made in the laws, organic and statutory, as may be necessary to make the method of secret voting in the legislative assembly practical."

MRS. G. V. ELLIS BACK FROM ALASKA

Reports Weather Fine, Placing Blue Fox Pelts on Display Here

Mrs. Dr. G. V. Ellis returned this week from a two months' visit with her son, Dr. R. V. Ellis, at Katchikan, Alaska. Doctor Vint, as he is known all through Alaska, is one of the pioneer physicians of the northland, and nobody who has lived there within the past 10 years will fail to know him. He graduated from Willamette university in 1912, with high honors as one of the most talented musicians in Willamette history. He has lived in Alaska for 10 years, where he has won signal honors in his profession.

Mrs. Ellis says that the weather was almost like spring, through October and until November 10, a few days before she left. Then there was a little rain and snow, the snow disappearing within a day or two. Flowers still bloomed profusely outdoors when she left, and men were enjoying themselves in their shirt sleeves. The country is enjoying better times than for a long time past, and the real opening of Alaska seems close at hand.

A few years ago, when Dr. G. V. Ellis, Sr., visited his son in Alaska he invested a little money in a fox farm—a rocky island out at sea, where there is nothing to interfere with raising a fox ranch exactly as one wants to run it. The farm has prospered, and Mr. Ellis has brought down several of the fox pelts; great, two-inch-thick masses of beautiful blueish Arctic fur. These are on exhibition at the West Fur company store on North Liberty. The blue foxes rank next to the silvers in value; indeed, the silver seems to be a blue fox with silvery hairs. As a semi-local exhibit, the skins now shown are of particular interest.

WILLAMETTE CLUBS ANNOUNCE PLEDGES

University Women's Literary Societies Add Many New Members

Lists of pledges to Willamette university's women's literary societies were made public yesterday with an exceptionally promising group of students named. The purpose of these organizations is to stimulate interest in literary subjects and debate.

Philodians, one of the oldest groups on the campus, have pledged Arda Isham, Winifred Ritchie, Ruth McCairn, Beulah Launer, Dorothy Ferrer, Mae Tindall, Florence Volstroff, Helen Sande, Mary Claffield, Alberta Bohrnstet, Bernice Mae Jackson, Fern Warner, Marvel Ryan, Helen Bridgman, Lalie Held, Carolyn Parker, Claudine Gerth, Edna Wentz, Irene Beckley, Helen Johnson and Marie Harold.

Adelante society announced the pledging of Virginia Merle Crites, Octavia Ware, Mary Louise Aiken, Helen Hiesy, Ethelyn Kelly, Beatrice Lockhart, Jean White, Grace White, Reva McLaughlin, Shirley White, Georgia Fairbanks, Elina White, Mildred Gilbert, Syntha Pier, Lenore McKenzie, Buneva Culbertson, Marian Thomas, Helen Marcus, Vellida Ohmart, Elsie Tucker and Pauline Gabriel.

Hall, Ruth Margaret Hall, Lina Kimmel, Anna Mary McKinley, Chrystal Mills, Ella Percy, Doris Phenicle, Margaret Ice, Neha Rice, Helen Mae Rice, Ellen Van Nice and Jessie Hammer.

The list of pledges to the Chionian society include Bernice Coppock, Claudia Martie, Mabel Platt, Bernice Newhouse, Mildred Hubbard, Esther Ayres, Dora Brown, Alice Law, Margerite Beck, Maida Caldwell, Ruth Lent, Margaret Hart, Velma Mead, Evelyn Linberg, Ethel Hardy, Talma Campbell, Isabelle Nostker, Gertrude Bessie and Cecile Smith.

PERSONAL INCOME TAX SHOWS GAIN

by the law to apply to all incomes of $5000 and under regardless of whether they were actually earned and to apply to all incomes up to $10,000 if specifically earned.

The same provision has been written by the ways and means committee into the new bill with a limit of $20,000 although the treasury had suggested its removal and inclusion of a lower rate instead.

The report disclosed that approximately one-third of the estimated amount of outstanding tax exempt securities are held by persons having a net income of $5000 or more. The treasury frequently has calculated the amount of such securities at $15,000,000 and the statistics compiled from the tax returns showed that $5,218,559,394 of such paper was held by individuals.

Thus, it was obvious to officials that the other two thirds of tax exempt securities now repose in the vaults of corporations and institutions, some of which escape taxation entirely through statutory provisions. Those held by individuals yielded a total of $232,977,600 in interest in 1924.

NATIONAL FIGURES ADDRESS TEACHERS

Oregon State Association in Convention in Portland December 29-31

Two educators of national reputation, Dr. Ellwood P. Cubberley, of Stanford University, and Miss Mabel V. Wilson, of the Seattle public schools, have been secured as speakers for the Oregon State Teachers' association according to the announcement of E. F. Carleton, of Eugene, chairman of the committee on information.

The association meets in Portland December 29, 30, and 31. Officers are: President, Miss Cornelia J. Spencer, principal of the Kennedy school, Portland; vice president, J. S. Sanders, president Oregon normal school; secretary-treasurer, E. D. Reesler, dean, school of vocational education, Oregon Agricultural College.

The representative council will meet on Tuesday, December 29, for the transaction of all business of the association. The general and departmental sessions will be held on December 30 and 31.

Dr. Cubberley, who is dean of the school of education of Stanford university, will address the general assembly at 10 a. m. Wednesday, December 30, on "Why Education in America is Difficult." On Thursday at 3 p. m., he will speak on "19th Century Forces Which Shaped the School." Dr. Cubberley will also speak once in the department of rural teachers, once to the city superintendents and once in the department of higher education.

Miss Wilson is serving her second year as president of the Seattle grade club. She is known as a ready writer, an able speaker, and is recognized as a national leader in professional thinking among classroom teachers. Miss Wilson will speak at the general assembly and also in several of the departmental sections.

RECORD CROWDS AT ANNUAL CORN SHOW

tinuous use by those tired from gazing long at the exhibits, but reluctant to leave for home.

During the course of the evening Rev. U. S. Crowder, who has just returned from an extensive tour of the middlewest, visiting Arizona, Montana, Colorado, Nebraska and Wyoming, addressed the massive crowd on the subject, "Economic Conditions of the Northwest."

With the advent of 10 o'clock and the formal closing of the Corn show, the crowd slowly filtered away until the aisles, three days jammed with people, appeared to be unusually deserted. The festive spirit had vanished, and the only ones left at the Armory were those who had suddenly acquired serious masks, and were indulged in the very practical task of removing the exhibits.

INGROWN NAIL

Turns Right Out Itself

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

A few drops of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.—Adv.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 83

Mother! It's Cruel to "Physic" Your Child

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he did not believe that a sickening "purgative" or "physic" every day or two was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which regulates the bowels. A single dose will establish natural, healthy bowel movement for weeks at a time, even if the child was chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it is often months before another dose is necessary. Besides, it is absolutely harmless, and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.
