

WILL REPORT ON ATHLETIC BOARD

Special Meeting of Willamette Student Body Is Called for Noon Today

A special meeting of the associated student body of Willamette university will be called this noon by President Warren Day for the purpose of hearing the report of the committee appointed for the purpose of drawing up plans for a permanent athletic council to shape the athletic policy of the university.

It is understood that the plans are to have on the board representatives of the alumni, the students, the faculty, the business men of Salem, and the board of trustees of the university. It is said that a sketch of names has been drawn, but the names will not be disclosed until it is certain that the student body will vote for the board.

The immediate reason for the attempt to create such a board is the run-down condition of athletics at Willamette, it is said. During the past football season Willamette has won but two games out of eight—Albany and Monmouth. Willamette lost to all schools of her own size.

Prospects for the coming year are bright in each sport, and it was the thought of those seeking the creation of the athletic board to shape a definite policy by which the school will be able to make the best of the prospects at hand.

VETERANS END CAREERS

OREGON LOSES SIX PLAYERS THANKSGIVING DAY

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Nov. 24.—(Special).—Six veterans of Oregon grid battles will don moleskins for the last time Thanksgiving day at University of Washington in the closing encounter of the 1925 season. All are playing their third year on the squad.

The men soon to end their careers are: Captain Bob Mautz, right end; Gene Shields, left guard; Bert Gooding, right tackle; Ken Bailey, right guard; Louie Anderson, quarterback; Jackson Bliss, alternate guard. Each has played two years on the Oregon team. They will leave holes hard to fill.

Oregon is out to win Thursday. There is an attitude of dare-devilry and recklessness on the team that bodes no good for Washington championship hopes.

Win or lose, Oregon hopes to provide a real battle in the Washington stadium Thursday.

WRESTLING MATCH DRAWS ATTENTION

Clash Between Robin Reed and Henry Jones May Have Title at Stake

Robin Reed, amateur world's champion and contender for the world's welterweight wrestling title, and Henry Jones of Utah, one of the best welterweight wrestlers in the world, will meet in Albany Thanksgiving night in one of the greatest wrestling events scheduled in this territory. The match will be held in the Albany armory, under the auspices of the American Legion.

Reed, who is instructor at the Oregon Agricultural college, has never been defeated as a professional and many of his friends and supporters believe he will go on to the championship without losing a match. In two encounters with Johnny Mauros of the Olympic club of San Francisco, Reed has come out the victor.

Jones is the western and intermountain welterweight champion and is a claimant to the world's title, now held by Reynolds. Many believe he is better than the champion.

The match is said to be Albany's greatest undertaking in the wrestling game. A large number of Salem people are expected to attend the event. Good preliminaries have been set for the card which starts at 8 o'clock. The main event starts at 9.

FRANKIE LEWIS, SALEM FIGHTER

Frankie Lewis, local scrapper, who will seek to humble the "Pride of Astoria," George Ingersoll, at the Armory tonight.

FINE CARD LINED UP AT ARMORY TONIGHT

Large Attendance Being Prepared for Ingersoll-Lewis Boxing Match

Salem sport fans will have an opportunity tonight of witnessing one of the best boxing matches yet put on in the Armory. George Ingersoll and Frankie Lewis will meet in the main event for ten three-minute rounds.

The Ingersoll-Lewis fight is one that has been looked forward to by local fight fans for many months. Lewis has made a remarkable showing in Salem, particularly in his last fight at the Armory. It was this fight that won the approval of Salem boxing enthusiasts.

Ingersoll, known as the "pride of Astoria," has demonstrated that he "has the goods." In every encounter in which he has participated he has won the name of being a clean, willing mixer—not afraid to stand toe to toe and exchange punches with his antagonist. Ingersoll will arrive in Salem from Astoria today at 2 o'clock and will weigh in at the Armory shortly afterwards.

Preceding the main event, Shadow Gretz of Salem and George Hennings of Vancouver will mix it for six three-minute rounds. Both men tip the scales at 146 pounds, and are well-matched in every particular. Two snappy preliminaries have also been arranged by Harry Plant, matchmaker.

The bouts will be held in the Armory arena under the sanction of the Salem boxing commission. The opening engagement will start at 8:30 o'clock.

STIVERS REVIVAL CAMPAIGN OPENED

Meetings Are Being Held at Court Street Christian Church Nightly

The initial meeting last night of the Stivers Evangelistic company was very encouraging to the evangelists and the Court Street

LORRAINE STIVERS Saw Soloist

Christian church, where the meetings are being held. Evangelist John T. Stivers gave a very instructive message from a large chart on "Rightly Dividing the Word." The evangelist believes the Bible as the Word of God. He said that the only proper approach to the Bible was through meditation, thought and study. He also gave five outstanding reasons why one should study the Bible: (1) It is the only revelation of God; (2) In it God reveals His dealings with man; (3) It antedates human history; (4) It reveals the plan of salvation; (5) It tells what is beyond this life.

Tonight the evangelist will take as his theme "God Revealing Himself." Lorraine Stivers, assisted by his wife as pianist, has charge of the music. Lorraine plays the trumpet, cornet, and the saw. Tonight he will play two familiar hymns on the saw. There is no sensationalism with this company. They believe sane, constructive evangelism. Those who attend these meetings are invited to think the gospel through with the evangelist as he unfolds the teachings of the Book of Books. There will be services every night at 7:30 except Saturdays.

gress had led him to believe that high ranking army officers invariably were influenced by the general staff. Capt. W. A. Johnston, assistant of the navy aeronautic bureau, was interrogated concerning a motion picture known as the "Eyes of the Fleet," which Representative F. R. Reid, chief defense counsel, declared was intended to combat the effect of Colonel Mitchell's testimony and belittle the value of airplanes in war." He also asserted that the film "would be spread by the navy recruiting service."

Mr. Reid read his charge in this connection from a copied navy department memorandum, the original of which the witness said he had been unable to find, although he had made a diligent search for it.

DEAF SCHOOL VICTORS

STATE TRAINING QUINTEZ DEFEATED 47 TO 14

The "Thunder" boys of the deaf school of Salem defeated the boys' state training school basketball team last night by a score of 47-14. The game, according to report, was considerably rough during the second half, although both teams gave good exhibitions of play.

The "Thunder" boys are scheduled to play the deaf school team of Vancouver, Wash., in that city on November 28. They are also trying to arrange a game with Turner high school.

NEW PANATROPE WILL BE SHOWN

As the result of six years' research, the Panatrope, an electrical instrument that takes vibrations from the record through a magnetic pickup, is announced by the Brunswick Phonograph company, a local demonstration being scheduled by H. L. Stiff Furniture company on Friday and Saturday afternoons and evenings.

This new instrument resembles the phonograph in appearance and purpose. The name Panatrope, it is said, is derived from the Greek word meaning "all the octaves" and is fitting because its reproductions tone from 16 to 21,000 vibrations per second—a greater range than that of the most perfect organ made.

Minute variation of tone, of the singer or player, is turned into light waves, which are reproduced in wax through a photographic process. Hidden music is said to burst from old records when played on this instrument. The public is invited to attend a demonstration at the store.

Mr. Hug stated it as his opinion that such a condition is dangerous. Mr. Simeral was instructed to confer concerning the matter with Alderman George J. Wenderoth, chairman of the streets committee of the city council.
