VERDICT OF DRAW DEMANDED BY FANS

Vancouver Scrapper Gives Exhibition of Gameness; One Bout Is Farce

Frankie Lewis, (Salem Indian, was presented with a decision over George Ingersoll, the "pride of Astoria," in the main event of 10 rounds at the Armory last night by Referee Joe Sox of Portland. While Lewis did most of the leading throughout the fight, Ingersoll apparently had the better of the argument and a draw decision was anticipated. Announcement of the award brought "boos" and cries of protest from the large crowd that filled the building. Ingersoll received a decision over Lewis July 4. The fight was not particularly interesting, but was clean and showed good sportsmanship. Lewis' weight was announced at 142 pounds and Ingersoll 145

FRANKLIN ELEVEN WORTHY OPPONENTS

Salem Fans to Have Last Opportunity to See High School in Action

The Salem high school team is in readiness for the clash scheduled for this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on Sweetland Field with Franklin high school of Portland. While Jefferson high school won the Portland championship, Franklin tied the school and it is reported that they actually outplayed the champions.

The students at the local high school staged a pep assembly Wednesday afternoon, at which time earning new yells and the explosion of old ones were the features. The singing by the girls was received enthusiastically by the men of the school. Coach Hollis Huntington was called upon to address a few remarks to the students concerning today's game.

"The idea seems to have gotten out among the students that the game with Franklin is to be a snap for us. This is an entirely erroneous view, as Franklin has one of the strongest defensive teams in Portland, and a team that is more than likely to upset the dope. Last year we beat them for the state championship in basketball, and if it is within their power, they will beat us in revenge.

"The most dangerous thing in the world that can happen to a football team is to become overconfident. Our boys will have a hard struggle, and you may be sure that the score will not be absurdly lopsided."

Coach Huntington declared that the game today must be won in order to make the game with Medford worth while. He said that although the contract for the game would still hold, Salem would be morally unable to meet Medford should she fail to win against Franklin.

No serpentine was held last night as the police of the city, according to announcement made at the assembly, had put a ban on this form of rally.

Report has been received that Franklin high school is planning to send a large delegation of rooters to Salem for the game this afternoon.

This game will be the last chance Salemites will have to see this season's team in action on the gridiron. The only other game left is that with Medford, which is to be played in the southern city. Coach Huntington has promised that his boys will open up with all they have this afternoon, and an effort will be made to show Salem fans just what sort of stuff the Salem boys have been using to take decisively the championship of the Willamette valley.

Following is the lineup that will start this afternoon:

A. Lyons, full; Kelly and Noeske, halves; B. Drager, quarter; H. Lyons, center Davis and Jackson, guards; J. Drager and Blaco, tackles, and Temple and Adams, ends. J. Drager is slated to do the punting for the local team.

STILL OWNERS ARE FINED

In this still, and the law forbids two sentences for one crime, it becomes my duty under the law, to disassociate from this case all consideration of the uses to which this still was put, for if I did consider the uses to which it was put and imposed a heavier sentence because of the use, I would be adding to the penalty already pronounced against these defendants in the former case, an act forbidden by the law. The State exhausted its remedy against the defendants for manufacturing liquor in this still in the former case. In it the State vindicated the law and affixed the full penalty.

"On the other hand, had these defendants not been convicted of the graver offense of manufacturing whisky and had not received a sentence commensurate with that crime, I would, in this case, take into consideration the use to which it appears the still was put, in sentencing them. Evidently, the law contemplated placing into the hands of the trial judge this power for that purpose, but the former conviction and sentence for using the still for manufacturing whisky, under the reason of the law, prohibits me from, in this case, considering the uses to which the still was put."

CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS ARE DECLARED VIOLATED

you must stop right there.

"When the American Legion met in Prineville recently, the town was wetter than it had ever been before. When the Elks held their convention in Portland, the city was wide open. I stood in a prominent hotel in Portland during that time, and saw a man openly wave a bottle of whiskey around, inviting others to join him in his room. A policeman stood within six feet of him, but did not see or hear him."

He added that neither of these organizations were in favor of such carryings on by their individual members, and that they were disgusted with the officials that allowed such conditions to exist.

Among offenses being committed by the police, Judge McMahon declares, are those of keeping a man in jail and not allowing him the chance to furnish bail; of throwing them in jail without charges preferred against them; of searching autos only on suspicion. He closed with the terse remark: "You have some good men on your force; and you also have some bad ones."

CHURCH PROGRAMS SHOW ACTIVITIES

Silverton Pastors Will Have Busy Time During Pre-Holiday Season

SILVERTON, Or., Nov. 24.—(Special to The Statesman.)—Silverton churches have been spending a very busy autumn, according to reports of the various Silverton pastors. A number of events are planned for the remainder of the time before the holidays. Many of the churches have started work on their Christmas programs.

Sunday of this week was a big day at the First Christian church of Silverton. This was the annual homecoming and about 350 attended the three services held during the day. Old friends were present from Albany, Salem, Portland, McMinnville and many other places. In the morning the Rev. Albyn Esson of Albany spoke on the general topic of the day, "Homes." The Rev. Mr. Esson treated this subject from the standpoint of the influence of the home on thoughts and character. During the afternoon the Rev. J. I. Evans of the First Christian church of Salem spoke, having for his topic the larger outlook of life. In the evening stereopticon views were shown from "The Other Wiseman," the little book written by Van Dyke, which has attracted considerable attention. Music for the day was furnished by Gordon McCall and Miss Vivian Whistler, the latter of Salem, who both sang vocal solos. By special request Mrs. Albyn Esson of Albany and Mrs. Mollie Williams of Portland sang a duet. Both Mrs. Esson and Mrs. Williams were former favorites in the Silverton Christian church choir.

Next Sunday a special mission festival will be held at Trinity church with an all-day service and a basket lunch at noon. A number of out of town speakers will be here for the occasion. The Rev. J. A. E. Naess of Tacoma, and Rev. A. Rogm of Monitor are among the speakers for the day. There will also be special music.

On December 13 special programs will be held both at St. Johns and Trinity churches. The program will be put on by members of the Pacific Lutheran college faculty and students. It will consist of numbers by the Rev. O. F. Orsdahl, Prof. P. E. Hauge and a number of students. The college quarter will also be present. The purpose of the special programs is to raise funds for the endowment

"I Am An American Citizen," Is Scribe's Joyful Refrain

One of the Hundred Million Tells Why Thanksgiving Is Celebrated in Spirit of Joy and Gratitude

I belong to the United States of America. I am one of her hundred million people; one of her numberless throngs of proud and thankful citizens; one of her loyal host which shall celebrate this Thanksgiving day in a spirit of joy and gratitude; one of her countless legions which gave thanks for the tide of contentment, concord, and helpful cooperation which is slowly flooding the world. I am an American citizen. Therefore, I am proud, grateful, happy!

I am thankful that at last a kind, expunging sun of peace-earth has arisen to heal the wounds of war-tortured nations. I am grateful because the sores of hate are being cured by the balm of unselfishness and good will toward men.

I am glad because, though scarred and torn, the pain, and woe, and suffering of a world-wide struggle is over. I am happy to belong to a people who are performing their full duty toward obliterating enmity with friendship, war with peace, discord with harmony.

I am proud and thankful to be one of a people whose domain stretches from the Atlantic to the Pacific, but whose earnest efforts for good and fairness to all touch every corner of the globe. I am proud and grateful to belong to that united and indivisible citizenry of men and women who speak one language; love one flag; live one Christian creed; work toward one common end—that of peace on earth, good will toward men.

I am thankful because I live in this land of beauty, wealth, and opportunity; thankful for the training and education I have received in its schools and universities; grateful for my share of its prosperity and benefits. I am proud to be one of a hundred million privileged to support and obey the laws of a nation born of a band of true and dauntless Pilgrim forefathers; proud of that heritage of liberty and justice which shall outlive the ages and endure through all the aeons of time.

I am thankful because I belong to a land which has produced such men as George Washington and Abraham Lincoln; such men as lie beneath the skies of Flanders; such men and women as those who constitute that great fellowship—the American Legion.

I am grateful because I am one of a people whose Constitution is a fund of the college. There is a number of PLC alumni at Silverton.

PLAN ATHLETIC BOARD REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE POSTED TEN DAYS

Plans for a permanent athletic board to shape the athletic policy of Willamette university were introduced to the student body of that school Wednesday by the committee appointed some weeks ago for the purpose. Warren Day, student body president, called a special meeting for the purpose of introducing the plans. As they are in the form of an amendment to the constitution, the report submitted by the committee has to be posted for ten days and run in the Collegian, school publication.

The plans are to have the board composed of three alumni, three students, one Salem business man, one member of the university's board of trustees and one member of the faculty. The president of the university would serve ex-officio. Each of the members of the board would be appointed for a three-year period, except the students, who would be appointed annually.
