This great and extensive selling campaign has been brought about by circumstances that none can foresee. General business conditions here and throughout the country have been slack, compelled us to continue, do the best we could and jog along with the rest. However, we have taken hold of our own situation and resorted to an immense stir-up and profit sharing selling event. Profits have not been considered in many cases—big cuts have been made in the cost. All for the purpose of reducing our surplus stock, and keeping in line with the times. Be sure and profit by our loss.
